CORRESPONDENCE

ELWOOD.

March's cold snap is quite disagreeable. Mr. and Mrs. Hall, of Estacada, were in this vicinity Sunday inspecting his place which is being cleared. Recently a surprise party was given on Dan Stahlnecker. Owing to the stormy night only a few were present, nevertheless a pleasant evening was enjoyed. Several musical selections were rendered after which refreshments were served and then the crowd dispersed. J. Johnson spent a few days in Portland last week visiting his parents, who reside there. C. Bittner expects to spend two or three weeks in Oregon City, working in the paper mill. He is doing mechanical work. W. T. Henderson was in Oregon City paying taxes last week. On his return he visited his daughter, Mrs. Della Vallen at the Good Samaritan hospital. Mr. Mellike hauled lumber from C. E. Surrus' mill for D. Stahlnecker's

EAST CLACKAMAS.

Surveyors have surveyed the Elwood road but it is not satisfactory to some. A petition is the rumor. Rev. Bert Henderson spent a few days at his father's last week and delivered a very able sermon Friday night. A birthday party was given in honor of Mr. Johnson. A very sociable time was enjoyed. Miss Lulu Miller furnished music on her guitar. A delicious lunch was served and at a late hour the crowd returned home. M. E. Candle, Justice of the Peace, was in this vicinity last Saturday for the purpose of registering voters. He and wife were guests of W. T. Henderson's. M. Shearer's friends and neighbors are glad to learn of his return from the hospital and that he is much improved in health. Floyd Williams' sister, from Kansas, is out visiting him. She expects to go to California soon to reside. F. A. Haberlach, wife and family and Miss E. Haberlach spent Sunday with William F. Haberlach, the Clack-

WATCH YOUR HAIR, LADIES.

Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Luxuriant and Radiant Hair. If dandruff germs are devouring the nourishment that belongs to the hair it will soon begin to fall. Furthermore it will lose its life and lustre and will become dull, faded and even look slovenly. If you have any signs of dandruff you ought to go right to your druggist today and get a bottle of PARI-SIAN SAGE. This delightful and refreshing hair tonic is guaranteed by Huntley Bros. Deputy Sheriff Leonard handled the stuff carefully. It will be submitted to a chemist for analysis. A receipt for a railroad ticket indicated that Roberts had traveled on the Oregon Electric March 17, between two small stations.

A TAFFETA GOWN.

A return to the quaint drapery of the overskirt is shown in the drawing above. This picturesque gown was of figured taffeta in a soft shade of green. There is a fichu of the taffeta, bordered by a puffing of the same and finished with a narrow ruffle of the taffeta with a frayed out fringe. The short puffed sleeve is similarly finished. The paniers of the skirt are weighted at the sides by a corded rosette of the taffeta. Three double ruffles of the taffeta trim the skirt.

SIX "HONOR MEN" FLEE FROM CAMP AT SALEM

SALEM, Or., April 3.—With three more of Governor West's "honor men" escaping last night, making six who have escaped in the last five days, and still at large, the people are beginning to protest, as they attribute many of the rows of the Valley lately to convicts who from time to time make their escape from the camp of the "honor men." The three who escaped last night are: James Stanley, sentenced to a term of three years from Douglas county for burglary; James Johnson, sentenced for seven years from Willam County for larceny from a dwelling; Al McCormick, sentenced to serve seven years from the same county for the same offense. They were employed on the roadrunner at the Tubercular Institute and escaped about midnight. On Monday T. E. Herald, of Baker County, serving a term for larceny, escaped at noon from the camp, and on Friday of last week George Beeson, from Baker county, serving a term of four years for robbery, and William Smith, serving a term of two years for burglary, committed in Malheur County, escaped during the night. Despite a vigilant search by the officials of the penitentiary, none of the escaped men has been apprehended.

ROBERTS WAS SULLEN PRISONER, SAYS WARDEN

SALEM, Or., April 3.—"If there is such a thing as a confirmed criminal, H. E. Roberts is one," said Superintendent James of the state penitentiary today, commenting on the conduct of Roberts when he was serving time in the prison. "He showed every indication of being criminally inclined and was of a destructive character. He was disagreeable and did not associate to any extent with other prisoners or make friends. He was morose and adopted a rebellious attitude toward prison rules." Roberts was received at the state penitentiary April 21, 1908, from Multnomah county, sentenced for three years for larceny. While working under guard outside the prison walls, he made his escape June 14, 1909, and was recaptured August 25. He was returned to prison and served his full term, being discharged July 3, 1911. Superintendent James said Roberts was suspected of setting fire to the prison shops when they burned three years ago, but that positive evidence was never secured. Prior to confinement in the Oregon penitentiary he served a term at Walla Walla, and is said to have served many terms in county jails.

Elect Good Men

To the editor:—There is probably nothing more necessary to the welfare of the state than to look wisely to the character of those who will be sent to the next legislature. It behooves every county closely to scrutinize the reputation at home of its candidate for legislature honors. Let them be men of mature years, who have more at stake as taxpayers than as taxpayers; men who in the ordinary day life are known to have strict integrity; men who are not trying to engage in the sharp practices; men who have sense enough to know what is equitable and right to all men and dare to do it; men who will confine their votes for the disbursement of public funds to those things that are necessary—for providing a good, common school education for all; for the administration of justice and the prevention and punishment of fraud and crime; for the preservation of order in the state and to the judicious charity that should be extended to the helpless and unfortunate individual, and do away with everything else that is not essential to these ends. Let no special interest be a public burden, regulate the charges allowed by law and all things of public necessity, but do it equitably, so that all property is taxed and taxed equally, make the laws so drastic that those whose duty it is to make the assessments and individuals who give in their property will be afraid in any particular to violate it. Prohibit any county or municipality to contract any indebtedness of any kind; make county or municipal officers give bonds to obey this law and make them criminally liable; limit the amount of tax a county may levy for current expenses say to 5 or 10 mills and provide for wiping out existing debts where not secured by bonds in, say five years, and bonds to be paid when due; conduct our public affairs as one should his private business—pay as you go.—The above proposition seems very nice in print, but it is another thing to accomplish the desired result. The question then arises, can this be done? Most emphatically, yes!

LAFOLLETTE AND WILSON WIN STATE

REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC PROGRESSIVES EASILY CARRY WISCONSIN
NON-PARTISANS ROUT SOCIALISTS
Big Majority Of Candidates On Republican—Democratic Ticket
Victorious—Count Is Slow

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 3.—Complete returns from Tuesday's municipal election here show today a victory for Dr. G. A. Bading, nonpartisan candidate for mayor over Emil Seidel, the Socialist incumbent, by a plurality of 12,864. With a total vote of 74,326, the largest in the history of Milwaukee, almost the entire nonpartisan ticket put up by a fusion of the Republicans and Democrats, was elected. The latest returns today from the presidential primary held throughout the state indicate that Senator Robert M. La Follette will have a solid delegation from his home state in his fight for the Republican nomination for president at the national convention.

In the Democratic primary fight the supporters of Woodrow Wilson today claim at least 22 of the 26 delegates from Wisconsin to the national Democratic convention. They will not concede the remaining four delegates to Speaker Champ Clark. The Socialist forces are undaunted by the defeat and are predicting victory at the next election. In discussing the results today, Congressman Victor Berger, the only member of the Socialist party ever elected to congress, said: "This temporary reverse will serve to spur the Socialists on to greater exertions. Henceforth our campaign will be one of education, bringing the working class to the realization that Socialism is the only way out of a downtrodden condition." Mayor-elect Bading and the other successful candidates will be inaugurated April 16.

Late returns show La Follette leads Taft by two votes to one. In the Milwaukee election 26 nonpartisan aldermen won out. Eleven socialist aldermen were elected. The nonpartisan candidates for treasurer and comptroller were elected. Complete returns from the fourth and fifth Congressional districts show that Wilson elected four delegates there while Senator La Follette polled two votes to President Taft's one. The counting of the ballots for the presidential delegates is delayed because of the Socialist tickets in many of the important counties of the state. "This makes me second in the race," is what Senator La Follette is quoted as saying in a message from Washington when the result of the election became known there. "I have received a message from my law partner saying that I carried the state by about four votes to one, and that a 'certain candidate' was not in the race at all. The vote did not surprise me, but the ratio did. The victory is all the more gratifying because I have not made a speech in Wisconsin for four years." "The Wisconsin delegation will give me a total of 36. Watch things from now on." Senator La Follette will leave Washington for the west this afternoon. He is due in Chicago tomorrow, and will go from there to Nebraska, for a five days' tour of that state. The name of Colonel Roosevelt was not on the Wisconsin ballot. A few voters wrote in his name. Returns from the rural districts are coming in slowly, and it is doubtful if the entire vote will be counted before tomorrow.

Exposed. "The crooked politician is bound to be exposed," said a senator at a dinner in Washington. "Exposure will come, even from the most improbable source. It's like the case of old man Jones." "Jones, a hypocritical individual, was a Sunday school superintendent, and one Sunday the minister, in an allusion to the domestic cat, said to Jones' little boy: "Now, Tommy, tell us the name of the animal which, when all the house is dark and everybody is asleep, comes creeping softly and silently upstairs?" "Father," said Tommy promptly. "Chicago Record-Herald."
