MISSISSIPPI FLOOD CRISIS IS NEAR

HOMES AND VILLAGES DESERTED AND DAMAGE MORE THAN $10,000,000

MANY THRILLING RESCUES MADE

1,000 Persons Marooned in Arkansas Saved by Citizens Committee—Refugees Found in Church

ST. LOUIS, April 8.—The crisis in the Mississippi valley flood is imminent. Chief anxiety centers in the situation south of Memphis. If the dikes of Arkansas, Mississippi and Northern Louisiana hold for another 30 hours then the valleys of the delta and the Yazoo south of Memphis will be spared.

State and Government officials say the dikes on the eastern bank of the Mississippi will withstand the tremendous pressure that will be exerted by the flood's crest.

Nevertheless they are apprehensive, and fear of breaks along the western dikes is shown by the abandonment of homes and villages in the lowlands from Helena south.

Striking stories of the rescue of the refugees in Upper Arkansas have reached Memphis. One thousand or more persons marooned in Wynoite, Ark. were brought to Memphis late this afternoon, rescued through the initiative of a Memphis citizens' committee which made the trip to Wynoite to investigate stories of suffering. Reports were verified amply.

In a church were found scores of refugees. As the water rose, the refugees built scaffolding with poles and thus kept their heads above the surface. On high ground and in the attics of houses near Wynoite hundreds were found. All were taken to Memphis.

WHEAT KING PATTEN CALLED BENEFACTOR

WASHINGTON, April 8.—When James A. Patten operated in May wheat in 1909 he did not conduct a corner in wheat, several prominent grain operators told the House committee on agriculture today.

Instead of cornering wheat and holding for enormous profits, Mr. Patten performed a "beneficent action," according to John C. F. Merrill, president of the council of grain exchanges who acted as spokesman for the Chicago board of trade and other wheat and corn exchanges.

Mr. Patten was exonerated of having collected undue profits. His deal was in May wheat, Mr. Merrill said, but he closed it out in April, and by doing so sold at a time that prevented the exportation of wheat and consequent importation of grain to supply American consumption. The millers got the big profit, Mr. Merrill said, and raised the price of wheat twenty-five cents over the price Patten got.

B. COW PUTS BRAVE FISHERMEN TO ROUT

Dr. Clyde Mount and Roy Young, members of a fishing party which went about ten miles up the Abernethy Sunday, are telling of a thrilling experience they had with a muley one-eyed fish. Mr. B. Cow was a muley one-eyed fish. In fact according to Dr. Mount and Mr. Young his horns were even longer than those of His Highness Mephistopheles is supposed to have for the special purpose of frightening small boys and sinners.

Dr. Mount says Mr. Young had just "got a bite" and was enjoying himself to the fullest extent, when they were startled by a loud bellowing. Looking in the direction whence came the noise they espied its maker and he was coming at a rapid rate, pawing the ground fiercely as he ran.

The fishermen turned pale. Then they decided that action was the better part of valor under the circumstances. Mr. Young, in less than two shakes of a lamb's tail, found himself astride a limb high up in a tree. Dr. Mount made a record run to a nearby barn, not stopping until he had climbed to the loft. They were rescued by the other members of the party, J. E. Hedges, Harry Draper and C. G. Huntley.

Wanted—Fifty men, women, boys, and girls to enter the Enterprise contest. Reward to winner—a new 1912 automobile equivalent in value to $12 a day for every day left of the contest. List your name with the contest manager today.

Here is a little message to you, who ever you may be. By inviting you to enter the automobile contest, the Enterprise certainly offers you a chance in years to win an automobile, a machine which you would be proud to own, and a car which will give you years and years of service and enjoyment. As stated from time to time, the one car worthy of being the royal prize in the Enterprise contest, is the Ford motor car. Its great popularity is the result of its renowned stability and low cost of maintenance. Representing an actual investment of $785 this fore-door model, fully equipped with top, windshield, speedometer, lamps and tools represents the very highest art, both in mechanical construction and in the world's master motor car experts. To own one's own automobile is the fondest desire of everyone, regardless of sex, age or station in life, and realizing this the Enterprise invites you, anyone or everyone, to enter this contest to try yourself out and win the big machine.

The winner will be one who gets the most votes by the 5th of June, and votes are given for every subscription to the Weekly or Daily Enterprise. This is the whole story. There are no "ifs," "ands" or "buts" in this contest whatever and every contestant receives the same treatment at the Enterprise office. For each yearly subscription to the Daily Enterprise the candidate receives 1,000 votes, and the five year subscriptions are worth 7,000 votes, so it pays to specialize on the long term subscriptions. To date the leader in the race has few more than 50,000 votes. This means that only fifty yearly subscriptions have been turned in and the contest is half over. At this rate a few more than 100 yearly subscriptions will win the touring car and as there are about sixty days left before the close of the race, two subscriptions a day will turn the task, at the rate the votes are now polled.

Don't you realize that you can win this dandy machine? Don't you know that you can get an average of at least three or four subscriptions a day? Are you afraid of a little hard work, and are you willing to sit idly by and let some one else take away from you what could easily be yours? If you really don't want an automobile you can easily dispose of your new Ford for at least $750. Divide this amount by sixty, the number of days left in the contest, and you have over $12, which would represent your salary for a single day's work. Twelve dollars a day isn't half bad—less than forty men in this city average this amount and yet you can earn this sum if you make up your mind to enter this contest. Decide today, enter the game, show your self and your friends what you can really do, get in and hustle a bit, and on June 5th, win the Ford.

OREGON CITY GIRL TAKEN FROM SLAVERY

Two young girls who had been sold into slavery to Chinese in Portland and were forced to receive the attentions of the Celestials, were rescued when Sergeant Klenlen, and Patrolmen Nils and Hutchings raided a rooming house at 147 1/2 Second street. They arrested the two girls, Ruby Booth and Etta Shields and Jack Doyle and Harry Kelley, the two men who have held them in captivity. Etta Shields formerly lived in Oregon City.

The arrest of Kelley was sensational. It followed a long chase by Patrolman Niles, who fired one shot after the man as he fled from Second and Alder to Fourth and Washington streets. In the arrest of Kelley, it is believed that the police have arrested a man who shot and possibly fatally wounded a Seattle patrolman some time ago. Etta Shields, when brought to police headquarters declared that Kelley, who had her in bondage, had boasted of having shot a "cop in Seattle." Chief of Police Slover has communicated with the chief of police at Seattle to determine whether or not the girl's statement is true.

The girls broke down and confessed that they had been giving the two men under arrest, most of their earnings.

MISS ORA V. HIGH AND G. W. HARRINGTON WED

Miss Ora V. High, of Seattle, and Mr. George W. Harrington, of Gladstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Harrington, were married at the home of the bride at Seattle Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony of the Episcopal church was used. The bride's gown was of white satin, and her traveling gown of tab with large picture hat. The ceremony was witnessed by a few of the intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom.

The bride and bridegroom arrived in this city last evening, and went immediately to their home at Gladstone, where Mr. Harrington's mother, Mrs. E. Harrington, and sisters, Misses Iva, Pearl and Wava, had prepared a wedding supper. The house was prettily decorated with carnations, Easter lilies and Oregon grape.

Mrs. Harrington for some time lived at Nome, Alaska, where she met Mr. Harrington several years ago. She is a trained nurse, and is well known in Seattle, where she has made her home for some time. Mr. Harrington for ten years lived at Nome, being interested in mines at that place, and returned to Oregon City about a year ago. He is now engaged as a demonstrator for the American Safety Powder Company with headquarters in Portland. He is a son of prominent Clackamas County pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. E. Harrington.

DR. FORD TAKES PART IN STIRRING DEBATE

The Rev. Dr. T. B. Ford, pastor of the Methodist church in this city, participated in a stirring debate at the Portland Methodist Episcopal Ministers' Conference Monday.

The main business of the meeting was supposed to be the discussion of resolutions, introduced two weeks ago, proposing a union of the Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian churches on the grounds that the differences were so slight that they should amalgamate.

Rev. Ford in introducing a proposed substitute, had some things to say about the resolution to unite the churches.

"The thing thus asked for is out of harmony with the constitution of our general conference," he declared. "I think brethren, that we ought to go slowly at this time. The whole world is coming our way. Is it wisdom, to say nothing, for us to go backward at such a time?"

"I ask what is the use for us to take action that will result in embarrassment. The thing for us to do is to set our own house in order, and then to adjust ourselves to modern conditions."

"When a subject is put in to cut off debate, it's out of order," declared Rev. Benjamin Young. Dr. Ford denied that this was his purpose, and after Rev. Delmar H. Trimble had declared his intention to vote against the substitute anyway, Rev. E. C. Clinton jumped up again.

"This is only taking advantage of a dodge," he cried. "We heard on the sly that this would be tried to cut off discussion."

But Dr. Ford finally got the floor to himself and read his resolutions.

The ministers will meet at 9:30 o'clock next Monday morning to consider the resolution.

Rev. Dr. Ford's resolutions provide in brief that the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church be asked to amend Article XI, Par. 47, so removing restrictions governing the articles of religion that these articles may be revised and "give to the world a form of Christian, evangelical faith, unincumbered with antiquated verbiage, nor simple and modern. It also provides for a commission to work with similar commissions from other Protestant churches to draft articles of religion that are in harmony, and would bring about a uniform system of church government.

250 MEN TO BENEFIT BY REWARD SYSTEM

The management of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company after experimenting with the reward system the past six months, has decided to extend it to other departments, the results being gratifying to employees and employer. The departments now reached are the wood, sulphite and pulp mills, a total of 250 additional employees to in effect receive advances in wages of from 5 per cent to 15 per cent according to their own individual and collective effort. Considering that the company's pay roll reaches the half million mark annually, an advance of this kind amounts to many thousands of dollars, at the same time this is made possible only by the greater production of the mills through this plan of cooperation, for under the present system each employee in effect works for himself.

PARDEE SAYS HE'LL FIGHT TO BITTER END

"I intend to remain treasurer of Gladstone," said J. K. Pardee, survivor of the Civil War, and a fighter through and through, Monday afternoon.

"I am the treasurer under the law and I am going to remain the treasurer through the operation of the law. I know they have invoked the recall, but they won't have a look in. I don't know how many signatures they have, and I do not care, but I know I have 115 names to a petition and will have 140 by night asking Mayor Cross to appoint me treasurer, and not one of these men will sign a petition for a recall. There are only 156 voters in Gladstone, and what chance do they stand of obtaining the necessary 25 per cent of votes? Yes, indeed, I am resting comfortably on my oars, and the tide is good."

Mr. Pardee was treasurer of Gladstone last term and J. C. Paddock who was elected to succeed him failed to qualify in time. Paddock was subsequently appointed by Mayor Cross, the council confirming the appointment, but he became disgusted and declared he would not serve. Then the bond of the treasurer was increased from $100 to $3,000 and when Pardee tendered the new bond to the mayor, Mr. Cross wrote on the back of it, "Mr. Pardee is not the city treasurer of Gladstone." Meanwhile County Treasurer Tufts has more than $1,000 tax money belonging to the city, which he says he will not deliver until the trouble is settled. It was reported that negotiations for a compromise between Pardee and his political enemies had been started.

IRON TAKEN FROM OWN POCKET

About forty Oregon City Elks have Fine Time At Opening Of Home In Eugene

Locked in his own handcuffs, which were taken from his pocket by stealth Sheriff Mass of Clackamas County was surreptitiously taken a prisoner to Eugene Monday afternoon. The "arrest" was one of the most daring ever made in Oregon City, and for a time Deputy Sheriff Staats and Miles were thinking of organizing a posse to rescue their chief. However, a telegram received from the Sheriff at Woodburn gave the information that his captors were a jolly herd of Elks, and he expected to have the best time of his life at the big celebration at Eugene.

Sheriff Mass had gone to the station to see a delegation of about forty members of the local lodge board the "Elks" special, and apparently was unaccustomed as Jack Roberts, the alleged highwayman, when questioned by Sheriffs Mass and Stevens, until a few minutes before the train arrived. Then in an instant as his hands were resting on his back he felt something cold on his wrist and heard a click which was familiar to him. His hands were fast and as the train drew in the station four sturdy Elks seized the sheriff and lifted him on the train.

The sheriff telegraphed the news from Woodburn to Mrs. Mass, and knowing what fun was in store for her husband, she joined with others in the belief that he was not such an unwilling prisoner after all. In fact several of his friends have been unkind enough to insinuate that the conspiracy was arranged by the sheriff himself.

Among the Elks from this city who went to Eugene were John Jennings, of Jennings Lodge, Dr. Clyde Mount, Sheriff Ernest Mass, who was kidnapped, T. P. Randall, Charles Redmond, of Jennings Lodge, John E. Risley, Charles Risley, Harry Moody, William R. Logus, E. T. Avison, R. L. Holman, L. Stupp, Curtis Miller, Fred Metzner, W. H. Howell, Roy A. Young, Judge G. B. Dimick, James Cary, C. H. Warren, O. Oak Grove, W. Harris, of Oak Grove, E. C. Warren, of Oak Grove, William Sheahan, Henry O'Malley, exalted ruler, C. E. Ramsby, D. F. Skene, Theodore Osmond, Henry Henningsen, Henry Pusey, and J. W. Cole. The new home of the Eugene lodge was fittingly dedicated.

EASTER OBSERVED IN ALL CHURCHES

SPECIAL MUSICAL PROGRAMS ADD TO INTEREST OF SERVICES

FLORAL DECORATIONS BEAUTIFUL

Congregational, St. John's St. Paul's, Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches Crowded

Easter Sunday was observed in most of the churches with appropriate music and sermons, and the edifices were crowded at the morning and evening services. The churches were decorated with cut flowers, palms and evergreens.

St. John's church held three services in the morning at 7 o'clock, 8 o'clock and 10:30 o'clock; communion service being held at the 6 and 8 o'clock services, when 400 members partook of the Lord's Supper. Rev. Father Hillebrand was assisted by Rev. Father Beck, of the Parkplace chapel. Owing to the illness of Father Hillebrand there was no service in the afternoon. The contribution for these services was for the education of the young priests of Oregon. The church was beautifully decorated. The altar was decorated in Easter lilies, ferns, and Calla lilies. Mrs. William McMillan, president of the Altar Society, had charge of the decorations and was assisted by the members of the society. Appropriate sermons were delivered by Father Hillebrand and Father Black. B. T. McBain had charge of the musical program given at the 10 o'clock service and at the 8 o'clock services the Junior choir rendered the musical program.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Elaborate Easter services were held in St. Paul's Episcopal church Easter Sunday both morning and evening. At evensong the choir sang Mark's "Magnificat and the Nunc Dimittis"; "The Gloria in Excelsis" from Gounod's St. Cecilia Mass, and Chappell's "Christ our Redeemer." Oscar Woodfin was the bass soloist, accompanied by Leon DesLarzes. The Philharmonic orchestra supplied the music. The altar, sanctuary, and choir stalls were beautifully decorated with Easter and Calla lilies, the Easter vestments forming a sharp contrast with the sombre colors that had prevailed through Lent.

The Rev. C. W. Robinson has had an exceptionally busy Lent having preached fifty-four times in forty days, here and in Portland. Work is to commence at once on the new church, all the materials being on hand, waiting only for the river to subside. The overcrowded condition of the church during the Good Friday and Easter services more than ever emphasized the urgent necessity of a new edifice. More than 200 members partook of the Lord's supper on Easter, and the collections amounted to about $200.

Congregational Church. The auditorium of the Congregational church was crowded at both morning and evening services, Easter Sunday. A large number of applicants were admitted to membership and the attendance at Holy Communion was the largest in the history of the church. The music in the morning was exceptionally fine. The service attracted an equally large crowd but the indisposition of Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence, soloist, and several members of the choir, through bad colds compelled a complete change of the musical program, which undoubtedly disappointed many of those present.

At the morning service Mrs. John Crawford sang "Me Was Dejected" from the Messiah. Rev. G. N. Edwards preached morning and evening. Baptist Church. Rev. S. P. Davis had charge of the Easter service at the Baptist church. An excellent sermon was delivered by Rev. Davis, and special music rendered by the choir. The rostrum was appropriately decorated with flowers and evergreens, lilies being used in profusion intermingled with ferns, making a very artistic effect.

Presbyterian Church. Rev. J. R. Landseborough, pastor of the Presbyterian church, preached an able sermon on Easter morning, his subject being "The Risen Christ," and in the evening gave a talk on "The Resurrection." The music was in charge of Mrs. Leon DesLarzes, and an excellent musical program was given at both services. White cut flowers were used mostly in the church decorations, these being formed of lilies, laurel, blossoms and ferns. Several members were added to the church.

Long before the Easter service held at the Methodist church Sunday morning nearly every seat was occupied, and at the commencement standing room was at a premium. Professor Elner, who is director of the choir, had arranged an excellent program both morning and evening, the organist being Miss Sadie Ford. There were twenty-six members of the choir and the selections were much enjoyed by the large congregation. Among the soloists the day were Miss Inez Johnson of Corvallis, who is teacher of harmony at the Oregon Agricultural College. Miss Johnson was in excellent voice, and her number were much appreciated. The Male quartet composed of Harold Swafford, Prof. Elner, J. R. Hickman, and Victor Gault rendered a beautiful and impressive selection, their voices blending well. Dr. Ford's sermon was appropriate. There were several confirmed at the morning service, and also at the evening service with one baptism. The church parlors presented a most attractive appearance with its new carpets, and floral decorations. The rostrum was decorated with palms, calla lilies and Easter lilies, in the center of which was a large floral basket. White and pink hyacinths were also used. The ushers were J. L. Swafford.
