$100 IS SECOND CONTEST PRIZE

ANNOUNCEMENT PLEASES CANDIDATES AND RIVALRY WILL BE KEEN

MISS McCORD WINS CERTIFICATE

Management Decides To Discontinue Fifteen Day Special Offers—Hard Work Sure To Bring Results

STANDING OF CANDIDATES

Ruby McCord	116,200
Joseph Sheahan	47,200
Kent Wilson	28,600
John Brown	15,000
John Weber	6,800
John Haleston	6,000
A. G. Kindler	7,200

As an incentive for several of the candidates who fear they will not be able to overcome the leads of Miss Ruby McCord and Joseph Sheahan in the great Automobile Contest, the Morning Enterprise decided Saturday to provide a second prize of $100 in gold. Intimation that an announcement of interest to the candidates was forthcoming has been made by this paper for several days and it is believed the offer will not only result in the candidates working even harder than they have been doing, but will spur their friends on to renewed effort. It may be the means of candidates, who now think they have no chance for the first honor, proving their real abilities and thus giving them confidence sufficient to become factors in the race for the $785 automobile.

As a result of the decision to offer a second prize the management has decided to discontinue giving fifteen day merchandise certificates. Miss McCord won the contest, which closed Saturday, which entitles her to a $15 certificate on the Price Bros. store. The contestants agreed with the managers of the contest that a second prize would be more attractive than the fifteen day prizes henceforth.

DON'T WORRY; EARTH IS NOT IN DANGER

PASADENA, Cal., April 13.—Disquieting reports from Eastern scientific centers to the effect that the earth was plunging at a terrific rate toward the cluster of Hercules, whose 12 suns would burn it to a cinder, failed to create consternation among the scientists in the Mount Wilson observatory.

Residents of Pasadena were given the reassuring information by Professor W. S. Adams that, while it was true that the earth was racing toward the fiery suns at the rate of 600 miles a minute, it would require several million years to reach the cluster and even the course of the earth might be changed before the collision.

PENNSYLVANIA HAS SPLIT DELEGATION

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—At midnight reports indicate that Theodore Roosevelt has carried about half of the Congressional districts in Pennsylvania. In addition there is a probability that Roosevelt men will control the state convention, which will name 12 delegates-at-large.

Woodrow Wilson apparently had little opposition and he will have almost a solid delegation from this state to the Democratic National convention.

DEADLOCK IS NOW HOPE OF LAFOLLETTE

PENDLETON, Or., April 15.—"I will not be wearing a crepe on my hat if Roosevelt wins out in Pennsylvania," declared Senator Robert M. La Follette this morning, talking to a private audience of friends and newspapermen. "Every delegate who goes to the national convention instructed for Roosevelt increases the probability of a deadlock between him and Taft and such a deadlock can only mean one thing, the election of your humble servant."

"I have 36 delegates now and every one of them has iron in his system. They are not the compromising kind and every one will fight to the last ditch for me. It neither Taft nor Roosevelt can win on the first few ballots, their delegates will commence to switch and with pieces of each other's skin and hair beneath their finger nails it is not likely they will get together either on the president or ex-president."

Speaking of the results in Illinois Senator La Follette declared he was not a bit discouraged. "I was advised not to enter in the primaries," he said "unless I could make a personal campaign but I knew there were many who wanted to vote for me and I got my name put on the ballot. I got something like 40,000 votes and every one was from a true progressive heart."

"Illinois is not a progressive state and Roosevelt's victory was not a progressive victory. He won because certain interests would rather have him in the presidential chair than the other man."

La Follette arrived here on the early train this morning from the east and retired immediately to his room, where he slept until 11:30. He is accompanied by his wife who made a ten minute talk for woman suffrage on the streets.

REBEL METHODS ANGER AMERICANS

MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS WILL NOT OBTAIN SYMPATHY OF THIS COUNTRY

INTERVENTION OUT OF QUESTION

Execution of American Citizen Is Called Murder—All Rules of War Disregarded

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Mexican rebels are rapidly rousing the ire of this government, and, while no steps of retaliation have been discussed, it is almost certain the revolutionists will never obtain sympathy or recognition.

Interference of the rebels with official mail of American Consuls and the summary execution of Thomas Fountain, an American gunner, have caused a feeling of aggravation.

Though the United States is virtually powerless at present to compel more courtesy from the rebels, it is felt that a heavy reckoning is awaiting some of the insurrecto leaders.

It is the official view in Washington that if the rebels, made desperate by their failure to obtain supplies necessary to a successful campaign, are trying to force intervention in Mexico, their deliberate intentions are doomed to failure.

As notice has been served on Americans to keep out of harm's way in Mexico, it is argued that the Administration cannot be held accountable for evil results following a disregard of President Taft's warning.

Military leaders in Mexico, federal or rebel, who, in violation of international rules of war, deliberately bring about the execution of a prisoner of war, are considered guilty of murder under the international law.

If a rebel leader, having caused the death of an American, comes within the jurisdiction of the United States he is certain to be arrested and turned over to the Mexican government with the expectation that he would be tried on the charge of murder.

DEMOCRATS HAVE BIG LOVE FEAST

ROOSEVELT AND TAFT ARE EXCORIATED BY CANDIDATES FOR SENATOR

Pierce, Lane and Coshow Deliver Interesting Addresses At Big Banquet—Hedges Pleases Crowd

Hailing Thomas Jefferson as the greatest constructive American statesman, leading Democrats of Oregon Saturday night at a banquet given by the County Democratic Central Committee at Woodmen Hall, pleaded with their audience of more than 200 that the principles for which the founder of the party stood be their inspiration and guide in the campaign now in progress. It was not only a Democratic party dinner, but a Democratic dinner, for at least one third of the banqueters were Republicans and adherents of other political parties. The banquet was held in honor of the birthday of the founder of the party, and the principal speakers were Walter A. Pierce Dr. Harry Lane and O. P. Coshow, candidates for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

Gilbert L. Hedges, who is the Democratic candidate for District attorney in this district, was toastmaster. Each speaker was fittingly introduced and Mr. Hedges convulsed the crowd with several "telegams" which it is believed were originated by himself.

While the arguments were pretty much the same as have from time immemorial been used by members of the party, and have time and again trailed its banner in the dust, the orators were just as sure they were right as when they tried to foist upon the American people the free silver theory, acclamating it the only sure cure for all the ills that politics is heir to, they were presented in an interesting way and brought forth rounds of applause.

Mr. Pierce, who was in particularly good voice, made a forceful address. He declared that the Democratic party had nothing to be ashamed of, and that the really important achievements of the Roosevelt and Taft administrations had been suggested by Mr. Bryan and other Democrats.

The speaker justified the fight that was made for bimetallism on the ground that the increased supply of gold had proved that the quantitative theory of money was correct. He declared that Mr. Roosevelt was now advocating measures that would have put the Democratic party to shame in 1896 so radical would they then have appeared.

"We would have been called anarchists if we had advocated them then," said Mr. Pierce. "The Democratic party, has, in fact, become the conservative party. It is proved when the troops have to be called out to suppress a riot in a Republican convention in the great state of Michigan. The combinations of wealth have grown under Republican rule. From time immemorial the law of supply and demand ruled, and never until our lifetime have men been able to take business by the throat through combinations of capital and throttle it. We tell you it is a revolution and not an evolution. The trusts dictate the prices they pay and the prices the people pay them. There are not many markets where competition controls. The steel trust, for instance, controls 60 per cent of all the raw iron and sells steel at 0 or 50 per cent higher or lower than it does in foreign markets. That trust has held 100 per cent interest annually for nine years on a billion and half of stock, half of which is watered stock."

Mr. Pierce in speaking of the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company by the United States Steel Company became facetious. He declared that the trust asked President Roosevelt if it could absorb the big southern company, and that the President replied, "De-lighted."

The speaker said the crime of the age was the control of the markets by the trusts which kind competition exterminated the death knell of supply and demand. He said its continuance would result in the wrecking of the nation. Mr. Pierce recommended jail sentences for the rich offenders declaring that would be more efficacious than large fines. He also paid his respects to the express companies, and declared that they and the telegraph lines should be under the management of the postal department. Mr. Pierce made a fine impression, and was enthusiastically applauded throughout his address. He was given a round of applause when he pledged his fealty to the nominee of the party no matter which one of the candidates won the nomination.

Toastmaster Hedges read telegrams of regret at not being able to attend the banquet from William Jennings Bryan and Woodrow Wilson.

Dr. Lane and Mr. Coshow spoke prettily much along the same lines as Mr. Pierce. They urged the regulation of the trusts and tariff revision downward. Dr. Lane declared the tariff had been made use of in a way to justify it being called thievery. Like Mr. Pierce they declared that they would not only support the nominee, but would work for his election.

Others who made speeches were Bert Haney, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee; F. V. Holman, candidate for Democratic elector; John H. Stevens, Samuel White, James T. Barbee, manager for Speaker Clark in Oregon; County Judge Beattie, J. E. Hedges, Peter Noller, of Molalla, M. C. Miller and Colonel Robert A. Miller of Portland. Colonel Miller responded to a toast "Billy Vaughn," one of the first men to settle in Oregon.

SCORES IMPERILED BY BRIDGE RUNAWAY

A score of persons were endangered Saturday afternoon by a thrilling runaway on the historic suspension bridge. While L. Wilkinson was driving up on the approach on the west side, his horse frightened at an automobile, and before the driver could tighten the reins the horse was in a mad gallop. Wilkinson, unable to control the animal shouted a warning and pedestrians scattered in all directions. The vehicle grazed two buggies throwing them aside, but not injuring their occupants. Just before Main street in this city was reached Wilkinson was thrown out, receiving severe bruises. The horse threaded its way through the vehicles down Main street, imperiling more persons, until John Edwards, a bootblack, seized the reins, and, although dragged for more than a block, kept his hold until the horse stopped. The wagon meanwhile had turned over and was wrecked.
