Another notable monument has been added to the existing memorials of the civil war. This one, unlike the most that have been erected, has not for its purpose the glorification of the men who went to the front and fought, but of the women who stayed at home, worked and prayed for the "lost cause." It is the new marble group at Columbia, representing the glorification by the state of South Carolina and her children of the women of the Confederacy. The sculptor is F. W. Ruckstuhl of New York. The seated figure typifies the women of the south, the winged figure with the wreath the genius of the state. The inscriptions on the pedestal were selected from offerings made by writers whose identity was kept secret until the choice had been made. The successful contestant was William E. Gonzales, editor of the Columbia State. On the eastern face of the pedestal are these words: "In this monument generations unborn shall hear the voice of a great people testifying to the sublime devotion of the women of South Carolina in their country's need. Their unconquerable spirit strengthened the thin lines of gray. Their tender care was solace to the stricken. The tragedy of the Confederacy may be forgotten, but the fruits of the noble service of the daughters of the south are our perpetual heritage."

New Southern Tribute to Women of the Confederacy

Summer Linen Gown. This chic little model of great charm should find a welcome place among the plans of the smart girl's summer wardrobe. It is developed in wedge-wood blue linen with bandings of Irish crochet lace. There is a deep yoke of finer lace above a plain vast of the material, which is headed by two narrow revers of black satin and three black buttons. The main portion of the bodice is composed of alternate lace and linen with tucked under sleeves of white net. The band of lace which covers the shoulder continues, apparently, down the side of the skirt thus forming a center panel of the material which is crossed by a single band of lace and finished at the bottom by five widely placed tufts.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY HAS FINE MEETING. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran church held a successful meeting at the home of Mrs. David Scherrubel. VEREINS DEFEND GUSTAV SCHOENRR

CHARGE THAT HE IS CANDIDATE OF CORPORATIONS IS REFUTED

MEMORY OF LINCOLN IS HONORED

Members of Societies in Portland and Other Parts of State Attend Banquet and Celebration

The regular monthly meeting of the Deutsche Verein, held at Knapp's hall Sunday afternoon, was remarkable for an unusually large attendance, almost every member being present as well as delegates from the vereins at Portland, Salem, The Dalles, Sandy, Oak Grove, Macksburg, Milwaukie and Astoria. Over the president's station, were displayed large portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Bismark. The following program was well received: Opening address, President, Gustav Schoenrr; song, "Wacht am Rhein"; Verein; recitation, "Where is the German Fatherland?" Miss Widmayer, of Portland; vocal quartet, Messrs. M. Michaels, J. Dambach, C. Hartman, R. Petzold; violin solo, F. Rotter; piano and vocal solo, "Baila" of Hobein; recitation, "Winklerfeld at Lemphich," Master Gus Schoenrr; comic vocal selections, E. Pfeiffer; address by visitors; violin solo, Master George Klenssen; song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," Verein; closing address, vice-president, D. M. Klenssen.

It being the eve of the anniversary of the tragic death of President Lincoln, Mr. Schoenrr paid an eloquent tribute to the memory of the martyred emancipator and statesman. "No power of man can undo what Lincoln did, that work is too sublime," he said. Vice-President Klenssen denounced attacks upon the character of President Lincoln, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state representative, branding as a falsehood the assertion that Mr. Schoenrr is the candidate of the big corporations, which seek his nomination and election that he may serve their purposes at Salem, ignoring the masses. He denounced Mr. Schoenrr as "a man of the people with the people, one whose honesty has never been questioned and whose word is never doubted."

"The unmanly attacks on Mr. Schoenrr are the dark-lantern work of one of his competitors for the nomination, who is trying to build himself up by injuring a better man. Men not fit to blacken Gustav Schoenrr's shoes are trying to blacken his reputation, but they will find to their sorrow, that they have only added oars to the long list of his friends, and these are enough to nominate and elect him, and then some."

STOCK MARKET HAS SLIGHT BREAK

The Portland Union Stock Yards Company report as follows: Receipts for the week have been 2013 cattle; 52 calves; 1293 hogs; 2 041 sheep and 125 horses. The market for the week has been somewhat spotted throughout the week, with a fairly high grade of values. Buyers supplied a greater part of their wants from Monday's offerings and were not quite so eager the rest of the week. Although the break in the market did not generally exceed 15c. Except in the case of some especially good animals went over the scales at prices that were equal to Monday's best. Butcher cattle sold highest; bulls sold as high as $5.50, and with cows selling from $5.65 to $6.60 sheep were able to congratulate themselves on the range offered in the market. The hog market showed a stronger and higher tendency during the week. Heavy sold at $7.50, with medium packing as high as $8.40. There was not a sufficient supply and while the receipts from local territory showed a distinct improvement over the same period last year, there is evidence of an early necessity of packers being compelled to go east and pay more for hogs are really worth in order to meet the demand for pork and its products.

FISH HOOK PIERCES YOUNG WOMAN'S EYE

Miss Ruth Giveas, whose parents live near Estacada and who had been making her home in Portland nearly a year, was fishing Sunday. A fish-hook penetrated the eyelid of her right eye. The hook was removed by a physician several hours later. She was returning from a fishing trip and was following A. A.
