

Grand Jury Sustains Prosecutor

DISTRICT ATTORNEY E. B. TONGUE

The grand jury which investigated the Hill murder case have filed a report showing why no action was taken in that case. The report reads:

We have indicted in all cases where, in our estimation, the evidence introduced before us was such as in our judgment would, if unexplained and uncontradicted, warrant a conviction by the trial jury. That we have left no person undicted where in our judgment we would have been warranted in returning an indictment. Our conclusions and actions have in all instances been governed entirely by the evidence introduced before us.

This shows why no arrests were made in this case. The grand jury have themselves spoken and gone on record, telling you the exact reason. They further say in their report:

"On account of the many, various and conflicting reports in the newspapers concerning the investigation of the murder of the Hill family, we take this opportunity to commend district attorney Tongue and Deputy Stipp, in their honest, careful, cautious and unbiased method pursued in conducting a thorough investigation of the testimony of all witnesses, not only in the Hill case but in all other matters coming before us during our deliberative session."

This report now on record, filed in the county clerk's office signed by every member of the grand jury including 3 Democrats, the only people who know what the evidence was.

Should be and is a complete answer to all the campaign falsehoods circulated against me in this matter. The grand jury by their action saved you perhaps $10,000. Do you condemn or approve of this?

Who should know me better than Judge J. U. Campbell and Judge J. A. Eakin our circuit judges. READ what they say in the official pamphlet about my work, do not be misled by campaign lies.

Out of 700 circuit and supreme court cases only 18 have been lost. The county has not paid out a single dollar for legal assistance. Thousands of dollars have been saved by the manner in which criminal business has been handled. The county has not lost a single dollar by wrong legal advice.

That is our record. If you approve it vote to continue it.

I dislike to say anything about my opponent's record but since he has accused me of unfairness in last week's Courier, I feel compelled to answer it or people might say I admitted it by being silent, so invoke this statement:

He has not won a criminal case in the circuit court during the two and one-half years residence in Oregon. He has not won a criminal case in justice court without the help of Mr. Fulton, and then only one. On March 24, 1912 a case was tried at Astoria when the city sued the A. & C. R. R. Co., the city paid Mr. Fulton $600 to try this case. Every case that HAS BEEN TRIED BY HIM, the records show he has been assisted in every case by from one to four lawyers. I do not care when the matters arose I am speaking of the cases TRIED BY HIM.

STUDEBAKER HAS AUTO MAKING RECORD

All records for quantitative manufacturing were broken during March by the Studebaker Corporation whose Detroit factory produced an almost equal number of E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" automobiles, to the combined value of $4,276,000—a figure far in advance of anything ever before attained by any of the world's motor car builders.

Across the Detroit river, at Wilkerville, Oat., the Studebaker Corporation of Canada was increasing this record by an output marketed at $325,000 more. The grand total for the month's work was, therefore, exactly 4,601,000.

In addition to the month's record the Studebaker plants also established a new figure for one day's shipments. On March 30 a total of 374 new motor cars were loaded at the Studebaker sidings and started on the journey to the salesrooms of 38 Studebaker branches and dealers in the United States and abroad.

As a manufacturing achievement, aside from its interest to motorists and students of business conditions generally, the Studebaker feat is of great importance. To produce more than four and a half million dollars' worth of goods in twenty-six working days in a labor so intense as to stagger imagination, particularly when the article of manufacture is a creation as complex as a motor car.

To make the feat possible the Studebaker organization had to lay its plans for many months in advance. Unusual quantities of raw material had to be secured and stored for there must be no shortage of even an unimportant nut or bolt when production is being speeded up. For some departments there was no rest during the entire month. Day and night the great steam hammers pounded away incessantly, and the case-hardening ovens where the special steels are treated, were never allowed to cool. Some of the machine shops toiled incessantly.

General Manager Gunn allows nobody to question whether or not the March record can be broken in April. He is confident that the 13,000 workmen in the twelve Studebaker plants have only hinted at what they can really accomplish. The only element of doubt is the supply of freight cars. If enough of these can be secured, dealers in the United States and Canada will be enabled to turn over to waiting customers a round $5,000,000 worth of cars, made complete in the Studebaker shops during April.

SUBMARINE HELD AT BOTTOM OF OCEAN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Eight members of the crew of the submarine Carp drank champagne on the bottom of the ocean yesterday and then won a toss with death. A cable caught in a hawse pipe, had imprisoned them for an hour and a half at a depth of 200 feet, farther under the waves than a diving vessel ever had gone before. There was no hope of freeing the fouled cable. The only hope lay in using the air in the submarine to force out the 26 tons of water in the tanks to give the diver sufficient buoyancy to tear it loose. If the jammed cable held, the men would suffocate. The compressed air was shot into the water tanks. The big steel tube rocked and groaned for an instant and then was still again. The prisoners looked at the pressure gauge and saw that the vessel was still fast. Lieutenant S. B. Smith, in command ordered the men to run back and forth along the alley of the 144-foot craft in the hope of starting vibrations that would release the boat. Suddenly the men were thrown on their backs and the pressure gauge fell.

The crew of the barge overhead saw a long fish nose shoot 100 feet into the air then the submarine righted itself on the surface. The men were bruised but not seriously hurt.

The submarine was drawn under the water by a cable attached to a 10-ton weight at the bottom of the bay. In a special Government test to determine the pressure resisting power of the divers at great depth. The Carp's windlass was used in drawing the craft down, another cable having been left on the weight when it was lowered from the barge.

The men had orders to remain at the bottom ten minutes. Champagne and sandwiches had been provided and the men drank a last glass, before reversing the windlass to go to the surface. The windlass would not work, but this contingency had been provided for by a device to cut the cable. The cable was cut, but in the meantime the imprisoned men realized that the other cable had caught in the hawse pipe.

80 LOST IN WRECK OF BIG STEAMSHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Details of the loss of the Chilean steamer Cachapual, with 80 lives on the night of March 21, were brought here last night by the British steamer Queen Helena. The Cachapual was manned by British officers and a crew of 50 Chileans and carried at the time of her disappearance a list of 30 passengers.

The steamer failed to appear at Payta, Peru, on her regular run from Guayaquil, Ecuador, 250 miles distant on the morning of March 22, and steamers dispatched in search of her could find no trace. It is the generally accepted theory, according to officers of the Queen Helena, that the Cachapual's boilers exploded, as they had given her frequent trouble.

The Cachapual was an iron, screw steamer of 2370 tons gross register, built in 1881 at Birkenhead, and was owned and operated by the South America Steamship Company.

WHITE LINEN.

Originality distinguishes this frock of white linen and all-over eyelet embroidery. The right side of the bodice is surplice effect and made of the plain white linen. The bottom of the sleeves is finished in large hand-embroidered scalloping. The left side is of the embroidery in simple peasant style; the short cuff of the eyelet which appears below the plain linen sleeve gives it the effect of an under bodice of the embroidery. The yoke and collar of mousseline is laid in circular tucks. The tunic is of plain linen, the lower edge cut diagonally and scalloped and falls over an underskirt of the eyelet-embroidery. Girdle and flat fringed ends of black velvet.
