THREE HUNDRED CITIZENS AT BIG MASS MEETING VOICE SENTIMENTS

MERGER CALLED ONLY SOLUTION

Governor West is Asked To Appoint Commission To Work Out Details Of Union

DALLAS, Or., April 25, (Special.)—Calling on Governor West to appoint a commission to look into all phases and plans broached for the consolidation of the University of Oregon and the Oregon Agricultural College, a resolution was unanimously passed here tonight at a mass meeting, presided over by E. B. Piper, president of the Portland Commercial Club. The meeting immediately followed the banquet at which Dallas was host to the Portland excursionists who left Portland early this morning. Over 300 people attended the meeting held at the Courthouse. The resolution was introduced by W. K. Newell, of Portland, and the sentiment voiced was in effect that the appointment of such a commission probably would put to an end criticism often heard and which has caused resentment at both institutions. Among those who spoke at the meeting were J. D. Lee, G. F. Johnson, William Hanley, Rev. E. W. Miles, Dallas; George Hyland, W. E. Prudhomme, W. J. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricultural College; P. L. Campbell, president of the State University and Mr. Newell. Only Mr. Newell and Mr. Lee, who seconded the resolution's passage, talked for the commission plan. When the matter was put to the vote both President Kerr and Campbell voted in favor of the commission. Following the meeting President Campbell said: "I think it a wise move and the plan for the commission is the only logical way to get at a feasible solution of the problem which has been uppermost in the educational progress of Oregon." Citizens of McMinnville, Sheridan and Dallas extended an enthusiastic welcome to the business men of Portland, who are en route to Corvallis and the Oregon Agricultural College.

FORBES PRATT AND MISS MONA KING WED

Miss Mona Elizabeth King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. King, of Mount Pleasant, and Forbes Barclay Pratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pratt, were married in St. Stephens' Chapel, Portland, at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, the Rev. H. M. Ramsey officiating. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Pratt came to Oregon City and informed the bridegroom's parents of the wedding. They left early this morning for California where they will spend their honeymoon. While the parents of the bride and bridegroom knew they were engaged to be married, the wedding was a surprise to them, for they thought it was not to be solemnized for several weeks at least. Mr. Pratt is employed by Morris Bros., of Portland. He is of a prominent pioneer family, as is the bride. 2 Couples Get Licenses Licenses to marry were issued Thursday by County Clerk Mulvey to Margaret C. Mulvey and L. Arthur Smith and Beatrice Maston and Eric H. Broman. Giltroy To Speak Deputy Head Council Giltroy, Woodmen of the World, will meet with Willamette Falls Camp No. 148, Friday night. SECOND PRIZE IS BOOSTING CONTEST

ENTHUSIASTIC CANDIDATES DECLARE IT WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE TO LOSE

$100 IS FINE SALARY FOR WORK

Contestants Expect to Reap Harvest Booster Day When Ballots Cast Will Count Double

The announcement that the Enterprise would give $100 as second prize in the subscription contest has given impetus to the great vote getting race, which is the topic of conversation throughout Clackamas County. One or two of the candidates have informed the manager that they were in doubt as to whether they could win the automobile, inasmuch as they were unable to devote all their time to obtaining votes, but the offer of a second prize, which they feel sure they will win, has given them an incentive to work their hardest. They have had such gratifying results that there is a possibility that one of them will win the automobile, although there are at least four ahead of him in the list of standings given above. The candidates say the offer of $100 as almost equivalent to a guaranty that they cannot lose for all count on being at least second in the race. The money will be at least a fair salary for the time they have devoted to soliciting votes, and coming in a lump sum will be doubly appreciated. It is believed that all the candidates will be in Oregon City working Booster Day, and late this afternoon will deposit their ballots in reserve order to take advantage of the double offer. Not one of the candidates should overlook the double vote proposition for doing so would be equivalent to throwing dollars in a raging sea. It probably will be the last double vote offer, and to hold ballots in reserve they can be "cashed" for twice their face value would be utter folly. The offer undoubtedly will reveal the true standings of the candidates, but there will be plenty of time for the strategists to show their generalship after Saturday. As published before the object of the double vote proposition is to have all ballots received up to date polled so that the judges will not have the entire count thrust upon them at the last minute.

 Speaker Declares Election of Rival Might Place Him In White House For Rest of Life

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 25.—Bitter denunciation of Former President Theodore Roosevelt by the man whom he put into the White House today featured President Taft's first appearance in the present campaign as a lightning man, and he brought forth hearty cheers from a big audience, who fancied him in that role. President Taft declared flatly that he believed Roosevelt if again elected would be almost impossible to dislodge from the White House and that another term for the "Rough Rider" might result in a lifetime dictatorship. Answering Roosevelt's charges, Taft recited the former president's third term statement in 1904, and again in 1908. He said Roosevelt full credit for electing him in 1908, and then said: "Neither in thought, word nor act, have I ever been disloyal to the friendship I had for Theodore Roosevelt." President Taft went at length into Roosevelt's announced intention to dislodge and his "charter of democracy" delivered at Columbus. He continued: "His 'charter of Democracy' was ineffective, and so he attacked the administration and myself. Ever since then he has been abusing the administration and accusing me. So far as my personal feelings are concerned I would not have replied, but I represent the cause of that element of the Republican party which believes in the sacredness of the constitution. Mr. Roosevelt has misled many honest people to believe his charges, the cause which I represent is entitled to defense." President Taft then went on to answer Roosevelt's charges. "He says," declared the president, "that I favor the oligarchy of bosses, or 'represent the special interests,' and that my administration has produced nothing progressive, that I am a reactionary—and other charges too numerous to mention." Seeing the president for the first time as a fighting man the crowd cheered him throughout his speech of one hour and thirty minutes, which practically anticipated the address he delivered in Boston. "The renomination and reelection of Roosevelt to a third term," said President Taft, "would be dangerous. He has forgotten the standards of the square deal. He says the bosses are supporting me. His definition of a boss depends upon whom the boss is supporting. If he is supporting Roosevelt, he is a leader—if he is supporting me, he is a boss." With his voice trembling with emotion the president held forth with a warning to his hearer that in Roosevelt they are "in danger of a dictator who, once he received the third term would cling like a leech to the White House and never leave it until death removed him. The president added: "I am sorry to say it but Roosevelt is a man of such strong personality, a man of such strength of purpose and who has so little regard for the constitution for legal procedure, or for the courts, that he is not to be trusted with the presidency. I am sorry to say it, but I believe it in my soul, and I must state my convictions." How strong are you going in the support of your candidate in the Enterprise automobile contest?

THE GRAND

MATHEMATICS FIGURES IN PLATT VERDICT

A verdict of $1,000 was awarded Thursday in the damage suit of O. F. Platt, father of Paul Platt, the eight-year old boy, who was drowned in the basin near Canemah January 27, against the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. The boy was walking with his mother and Mrs. Margaret Lund when he fell under the railing of the Canemah walk. The jury figured the boy's natural expectancy of life at fifty-eight, and that the interest on $1,000 for that length of time and the principal would be about what he would have earned had he lived. There is another suit for damages instituted by the father against the company. The plaintiff was represented by Brownell & Stone and the defendant by J. E. Hedges.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND OFTEN STRUCK HER

Alleging that her husband frequently struck her, and on one occasion rendered her unconscious, Lula V. Lathrop, through attorneys Brownell & Stone, Thursday filed suit for divorce against Walter B. Lathrop. They were married in Portland February 10, 1908, and the plaintiff alleges her husband began treating her cruelly in July 1908. Judge Campbell dismissed the divorce suit of J. V. Guyton against Allice Belle Guyton, on motion of the plaintiff's attorney.

Sundergard Falls From Trestle and is Badly Hurt On Way To Hospital In Wreck
 The damage suit of N. J. Sundergard, who after being injured by falling from a trestle, was injured again in a collision while being taken to a Portland hospital, against the Oregon Electric Company is on trial before Judge Campbell and a jury. The plaintiff asks $25,000 damages. Sundergard alleges that while he was working for the defendant at Willamette November 11, 1910 he was pushed from a trestle by a car and sustained an injury to his right leg. He was placed aboard a train and hurried to Portland. The train collided with another after entering the city and the plaintiff's leg which had been injured in the first accident was broken in several places. He asserts that the collision was a head on one and that he was thrown violently from a cushion against a seat and the sides of the car. Sundergard is permanently injured and uses a cane in walking. Judge Campbell decided that only the suit against the company for injuries received in falling from the trestle could be tried in this county. The suit for injuries received in the collision will be heard in Portland. An interesting phase of the litigation will be the proof as to how serious were the injuries resulting from the second accident. Dimick & Dimick and H. Daniels represent the plaintiff and George C. Brownell, Howard Bennett and Harrison Allen represent the defendant.
