TERMINAL RATES—FREE DOCK

With terminal rates applying to our city and a free public dock for use by all transportation lines and the public alike, Oregon City will be in a class second to none of its larger competitors on the coast. Still, when it is considered that hundreds of tons of freight are handled daily in and out of our city and the mills adjoining our civic lines and our natural position, we are entitled to all these promised benefits. May the Supreme Court's calendar soon reach the Fourth section cases and an early decision allow the Southern Pacific Company to put into effect the rates we should now be enjoying. Meantime we will all work for the Free Dock and have our part done by the time the court renders its opinion, one which we all have hopes of fav-

HOME LIFE.

Make the home what it should be—the abode of happiness. There is no better way of loving and proving our love than by showing at home all the courtesies, attentions, cheeriness, sunshine and "better side" of our natures that most of us reserve for company use, or love that takes these things for granted is either counteracted or perilously near death.

The Lawyer's Fee.

"Yes," said the first burglar disgustedly, "I cracked a lawyer's house the other night, and the lawyer was there with a gun all ready for me. He advised me to get out." "You got off easy," replied the other. "Not much I didn't! He charged me $25 for the advice!"—Catholic Standard and Times.

MOHAIR BUYERS' WAR COMES TO END

Forecasts of a lower price for mohair than had been paid heretofore this season, were confirmed by the sale made at Sodaville when the Lebanon-Sodaville pool was sold at private sale of Theodore Berheim & Co., at 36 cents a pound. That the war between buyers of mohair has come to an end is indicated by the fact that open bids at Sodaville sale were no higher than 35 and one-half cents. This was not accepted by the pool managers and the offerings were later sold at private sale. In all about 20,000 pounds were included in the sale.

Is Married Life Helpful to an Operatic Career?

By GERALDINE FARRAR

REAL HOME LIFE IS SCARCELY COMPATIBLE WITH AN OPERATIC CAREER. My art has absorbed me from the first, and when I must choose between that and something else I always give my art the first consideration. I am heart whole and fancy free. What could a man offer me? I have ambition. I am swallowed up in my music. I want a broad FAME and the DOLLARS that broad fame brings with it more than I want a home and a family. There are none too many good mothers in this world, and far be it from me to belittle them, but I despise a person who tries to do EVERYTHING, and my bent runs toward music. I have no desire to be accounted domestic and to have a reputation for being able to make pies. Maybe when I retire I will think of marriage, not before. It is INCOMPATIBLE with an artistic career—a husband and domesticity. And the idea of marrying to lug a husband around the country with you on tours is perfectly absurd.

By Mme. SCHUMANN-HEINK

IT was my love for my children that gave me the energy and the will power to reach success in my profession. My children, my love for them, the desire to place them in more desirable circumstances, to protect them from poverty and care—this was the MOTIVE POWER FOR MY CAREER. The happiest hours of my life are with my children. They are my INSPIRATION while I am "on the road." They were my INCENTIVE at all times in my career. Success did not come to me early, and the fight was a long and hard one, but my love for my children STRENGTHENED MY WILL AND HELPED ME TO OVERCOME ALL OBSTACLES. I never have considered my children a hindrance in any way. I am first a mother, and then I am an artist. I studied roles and arias seated at the piano, the CHILDREN PLAYING AROUND ME. I memorized parts while STANDING AT THE OIL STOVE COOKING our simple meal or while busy at the washtub.
