USES FOR RIBBON.

Some of the many uses to which ribbon may be put are shown in today's drawing. The flat ribbon of lace shown in the upper sketch is bordered on both edges by a fringe of two inch satin ribbon and finished with a bow at the belt. The sleeve cap is also finished with it. The muff is a good model for between seasons, being made of satin covered with full self-tone chiffon and finished on each end with a ruffle of the same. Ribbon bow and ends on top. The right hand sketch shows a graceful arrangement of sash drapery made of broad ribbon.

FADS AND FANCIES.

New Way to Wear Strings of Pearls

This Spring. It is quite the rule now to see rows of pearls appearing from inside the collar. Formerly when pearls were used they were worn outside the high collar, but now a new style is in force, and they are worn next to the neck.

GIRL'S CHEMISE NIGHTDRESS.

Itself and allowed partly to hang over the front of the collar. This fashion seems to have come into vogue because of the well known fact that pearls, in order to keep their exquisite luster, should be worn next to the skin.

A very odd and dainty short negligee is made of laced ribbons about an inch in width in lemon color. It is trimmed with ivory toned lace.

A richly embroidered Chinese kimono is in lemon colored silk crape. Nightgowns made in what is known as chemise style, that are drawn over the head, are liked by many girls, but there is a great diversity of taste in the matter of underwear as in other departments of dress, and this design is very new.

JUDIC CHOLLET. This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for girls six, eight, ten and twelve years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7322, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

METHODIST BISHOPS SCORE CONDITIONS

MINNEAPOLIS, May 2.—Criticism of the condition which enabled the church to gain "less than 2 per cent in its membership in the last year," and charges that the church press was being used as "a free forum by the promoters of disaffection" were made in the Bishops' report to the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today.

The report, known as the "Episcopal Address," was signed by 18 Bishops in this and six Bishops in foreign countries and is regarded as the most important document to come before the conference, as it contains the Bishops' recommendation for the future guidance and policy of the church.

The report was read by Bishop Earl Cranston, of Washington, D. C. Another section upon which the Bishops have been at work since last general conference at Baltimore, four years ago, will be delivered tomorrow.

"In the last year," said the report, "the church has made a net gain of but 55,000, which is less than 2 per cent, as the outcome of the year's activities and the outlay of many millions of dollars. The statistical paradox glares us out of countenance. It shames and humiliates us. What are honors of officers worth in any army that does not win battles? No marvel that some are proposing to reduce the Major-Generals to post duly and let the army dissolve into antique ecclesiastical camps."

This was a reference to the proposed limiting of the activities of the Bishops to a local district. Their jurisdiction now is universal. Some of the reasons for the meager growth as set forth, were laid to a too strict application of the law of the church demanding that all members who remove from a given community without their church letters be dropped from membership after one year.

"A fair calculation," the report said "reveals the astounding fact that probably not less than 500,000 members disappeared from our rolls by reckless use of the 'dropping' process."

"Nevertheless we still face the patent fact that our distinctive doctrines are not being emphasized as they were once, or, where preached, are discredited for the time by a uninspiring world, drunk with vain philosophies and filled with glibulous indulgences."

Pleading for an emphasis on the distinctive Wesleyan doctrines, the report said they were the only power to save the nation against vice.

taken Saturday. There being four generations.

Mr. Bertleson has returned to Alaska to work this summer.

Bernard Berg is going into the poultry business. He will soon raise birds that lay hard shelled eggs. Henry Howe won't raise chickens though.

Two runaway boys were found here Sunday morning. An officer came after them and took them back to Portland, their home.

Monday night while Bernard Berg and Henry Howe were sorting some eggs in the warehouse of the S. P. Company, which had been broken by the truck tipping over with 11 cases, it was noticed by S. B. Berg that there was a light in the freight house and it was supposed that there were robbers there. Dave Sheppard, the marshal, was notified and he, with Mr. Clancy, guarded the doors while Mr. Stollings went after Mr. Irwin, the agent. Mr. Irwin explained to Mr. Stollings that the boys were in there sorting eggs but he said they had watched them some time and it could not be. The agent went with Mr. Stollings was after him Bernard and Henry had started home, each carrying an egg case. Dave, supposing this to be a robbery of a box of goods apiece, ordered them to hold up their hands, which they did all in all, supposing it to be a joke, but it proved to be a wise move as Dave would have shot them had they not done so. It was a narrow escape for the boys but we are rejoicing that no one was injured.

C. G. Tull is on the sick list.

POTATO MARKET FAR FROM ACTIVE

Everywhere in the country a very slow tone is showing in the potato trade. Expectations of holders for an improved market have thus far failed to materialize.

Business passing at country points is of small moment. So far as the outside call is concerned, there is practically nothing doing. It is now asserted that the big California boosters, instead of purchasing supplies are trying to unload their accumulations.

Quite liberal purchases made by California speculators are still retained at Oregon country points and these are the stocks that the artificial pricemakers are trying to unload. The stock is being freely offered at from 50c to 60c per cental less than offerers paid farmers.

The situation in California continues so congested that the trade there sees no hope for any immediate improvement. Best potatoes are normally quoted at high as $2.35 in the San Francisco market, but is stated that little stock is moving beyond $2 @ $2.15, and some is offered for less.
