HOW INVESTORS REGARD US

Some cities through their commercial organizations consider BOAST instead of BOOST the requisite of a good Publicity Department. Not so with our Commercial Club. When inquiring investors write for information, their questions are truthfully answered without hesitation, nothing but natural coloring being given to any point, because when the truth is handled carefully, should the prospect or interest himself be come to find conditions exactly as represented. Many capitalists have recently interested themselves in our great natural resources; land near our city is gradually, although slowly increasing in value, and large tracts are being held for what now seem to be fabulous prices, but not long hence the time will come when everything will be gobbled up and the gobblers looking for more.

At the present time, however, the truth regarding some matters does not look well on paper, and up to date even though cannery people, creamery men, shoe manufacturers, iron foundry men, none of those inquiring has considered our offerings in certain lines sufficiently alluring to cause them to select our district for their lines of endeavor.

LOCAL CONDITIONS GOOD

We had quite an exciting hour before the Live Wires Tuesday evening. Two or three of our well known citizens took sides on one of the most perplexing questions of the day, "Labor and Capital," while the topic seems to us out of order. There is no question of this nature between employer and employe here. All seem perfectly willing to work out their own cause, with the system of reward for extra effort on the part of employer in effect in our largest paper mill, the results show the feeling existing. All would be better off if the matter could be dropped not alone by those in politics and the Live Wires, but from the state of topics for discussion, for conditions here in every way are better than elsewhere.

SALEM, Or., May 9.—With initiative petitions springing up in various parts of the state it seems apparent that more measures will be brought to the people at the next general election than ever before. Two years ago 31 measures were submitted to the people, and there are almost that many in sight now for this year with no telling how many more are brewing in the minds of various persons.

Live Wirelets

(By Edgar Bates.)

Any man looking for an investment for a few thousand dollars, Oregon City offers a splendid opportunity, which will net him splendid returns for his money. Small bungalows, or cottages in this city are always in great demand, and a house is nearly always rented before completion. Backed by the large mill pay roll and a highly productive farming country on all sides this town never will take a backward step but is slowly and steadily forging ahead.

These days everyone wants to get next to a "pull." The best pull we know of is the dentist's which nets him about a dollar per.

Tooth brushes and manicure sticks for a dog! Bet a dollar a woman owns the cur.

Pendleton is at work on an $85,000 High School. Our new building is a dandy, but is really too small. A year or so more it will be up to the school board to erect a new building or a big annex.

Where are you going to spend the 30th.

Oregon City eats over a ton of pop corn a month—ask the pop corn man.

Why don't you get busy on that flower-box today?

A shave can yet be had for 15 cents and a safety razor purchased for 20 cents but you wouldn't believe it to see some fellows we know.

A few more instructive attractions at the picture show houses like the lecture given at one of the theatres this week cannot help but have its influence for the better on the hundreds of people who flock to the 'movings.'

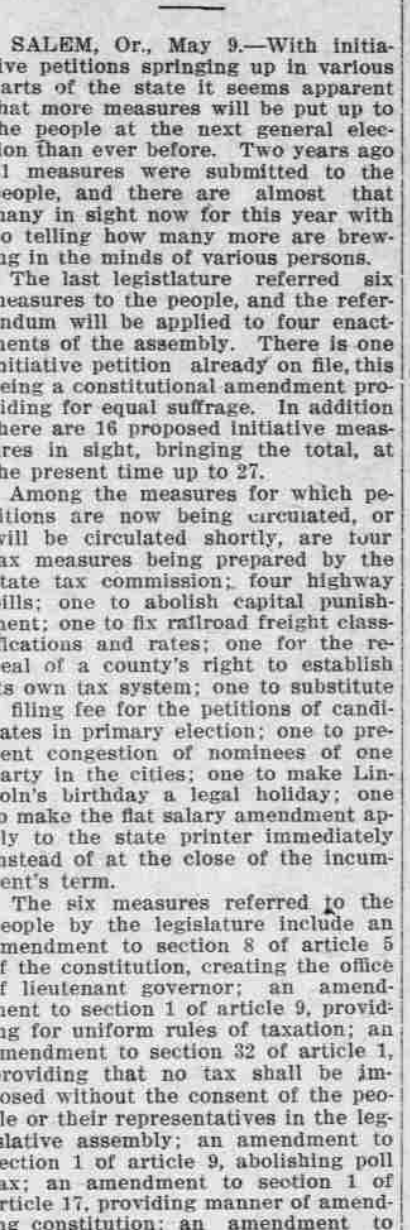

Which is worse? Black shoes and tan stockings or tan shoes and black stockings. Keep your eyes open today and you will have a chance to decide for yourself.

Why don't some one start a boat house? Within a radius of 5 or 6 miles from here there are to be found the prettiest spots on the entire river. Any man with a bunch of canoes and small boats can pick up a nice bunch of money this summer.

Our Architecture Would Show Off Better if It Had an American Distinctiveness and Wasn't Copied. By HECTOR GUIMARD of Paris, Vice President of the Society des Artistes Decorateurs. I HAVE wondered if it is possible for the lofty buildings you have here to be pleasing to the eye as well as useful in housing their many business tenants.

SERIOUS as have been the charges brought against the steamship company for the lack of life saving apparatus aboard the Titanic, there has been none that the life belts were not buoyant, a condition which has been found to prevail on more than one big excursion boat in this country.

An Historic London Street. Leadenhall street was so called from the lead roofed mansion of Sir Hugh Nevill, which the city acquired for a court of justice. Few London streets possess more interesting literary and historical associations. Here Peter Motteux, the translator of "Don Quixote," kept "an East India shop," and Gibbon's great-grandfather "did not aspire above the station of a linen-draper in Leadenhall street."

Burnt Almonds. Burnt almonds are a confection of purely French origin, owing their inception to the gluttony of a French merchant. One day, tradition has it, Marshal Duplessis-Pralin sent for Lassagne, the inventor of many toothsome dainties, and bade him concoct a new bonbon. Lassagne searched, reflected, combined, until he finally hit upon the confection of burnt almonds, which were baptized with the name of the old gourmet, the French for burnt almonds.—New York Herald.

OREGON SPUD CROP NEARLY EXHAUSTED

That the potato holdings of Oregon do not reach more than 250 cars instead of 490, as figured by the representatives of a San Francisco house, is the opinion of leading buyers. Figures compiled by these interests indicate that not more than 75 cars at the most are held by dealers in Oregon, although it is stated that about an equal amount of Oregon stock is held in storage in San Francisco and Los Angeles by speculative interests of the south.

Congressmen Fight For Construction of Roads

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Because of the extended debate on the proposition to extend federal aid to the construction of state roads, there has been talk of having meetings of the House of Representatives at night in order that the business before it might be finished so that an adjournment could be taken before the National conventions are held. However, Mr. Mann of Illinois asserted that there would be no trouble in getting away by June 1st if the Senate would but get its work done. Nevertheless the date when Congress will adjourn seems to be as much in doubt now as it has been at any time during the session.

Talking about appropriations for roads, the House had a long debate over the question. Mr. Mann of Illinois said he recognized the fact that probably the time had come when the National Government in some form or other would give aid out of the Federal treasury for the construction of roads, and he believed that whether the Shafter bill would involve a present expense of $10,000,000 or $20,000,000 a year, the expense would amount ultimately to hundreds of millions of dollars.
