BRIDAL GOWN OF BEAUTY.
The lines of this beautiful bridal gown are graceful and full of dignity. It is, of course, of the inevitable white satin with banding of old lace. The long square train forms a court mantle and crossing the left shoulder becomes a one-sided raver in front which fastens on the right of the waist. There is a guimpe of fine lace and a bib-like point of old lace in front similar to that which partially shows at the back. The short sleeve consists of a full puff of satin held by a band of lace below which are folds of chiffon.

THE COMEDY, "OVER NIGHT AT H. HEILIG THEATRE WEEK BEGINNING MAY 12. Wm. A. Brady (Ltd.) present the brilliant comedy success, "Over Night" at the Heilig Theatre, 7th and Taylor Streets, for 7 nights, beginning Sunday, May 12. Special price matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

"OVER NIGHT" AT THE HEILIG.

The attraction at the Heilig Theatre, Seventh and Taylor streets, seven nights beginning today, special price matinee, Wednesday and Saturday, will be William A. Brady's production of "Over Night," a three act play from the pen of Philip H. Bartholomae. It was one of the real big successes of last season in New York and remained there for nine months. Part of the time at the Heilig Theatre and the balance at Mr. Brady's own theatre, The Playhouse, where it stayed until well into the summer, until in fact, the hot weather put an end to things theatrical in the big city. Mr. Bartholomae is one of the youngest of playwrights, this being his first effort and not little surprise was caused among the critics and those familiar with the theatre that he should have won favor with such apparent ease. Not only are the lines of the play said to be bright and clever, but the author has given evidence that he knows all about the rules of construction. The story tells of the misadventures that befall the newly-married couples who are on their honeymoon trips up the Hudson River, on board the palace day-in steamer Hendrick Hudson. Through some mischance at the very beginning of the journey, they became separated in such a way that each of the husbands finds himself with the other man's wife on his hands. While there are many things, this is the main complication, and it is said that it has enabled young Mr. Bartholomae to build a play that a reviewer declared to be "one long lingering laugh." It is also asserted that while the subject may be of a rather delicate nature, the author has carefully avoided anything that might border on vulgarity or suggestiveness, and that "Over Night" is clean, pure and wholesome fun. Mr. Brady will give a good production of the comedy and has engaged a first class company for the portrayal of the various characters. Most of the interest centers around the newly-weds and for these roles Thomas Emory has been selected as one of the husbands, Sam B. Hardy as the other, and the Misses Francine Larrimore and Ada Stirling as the trusting and more or less happy wives. Others in the company are Arthur Aylsworth, who will be seen in his original characterization of a country hotel clerk, Inez Buck, Florence Stewart, James T. Ford, M. P. Hamilton, Elsie Scott E. L. Duane.

THE GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST
In Response to Hundreds of Requests Manager Baker Will Repeat Famous Play

This week Portland theatre goes to the magnificent scenic production of the opening act in the Polka Saloon in the Sierras to that beautiful panorama of the final scene showing the great West—their faces turned towards the rising sun. All the scenes take place in the mining country of California, in the early days and from point of romance pure and simple with a setting of the hills and wild places, rough but kindly men and a touch here and there of the primitive savage. "The Girl of the Golden West" has never before been equalled. It was David Belasco's greatest triumph and with Blanche Bates in the part ran over two years in New York. It will open today matinee at the Baker Theatre and seats should be procured at once.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY GIVEN ENTERTAINMENT

Mrs. Barton Barlow, Mrs. Jack Blount and Mrs. Al Blount, of Gladstone, entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Church at the former's home Thursday afternoon. Among the subjects brought up for discussion was the banquet to be given this month by the Brotherhood and the members of the X. L. Club. An invitation was read from the members of the Mothers and Teachers' Club of Milwaukee to attend the meeting to be held at Milwaukee Thursday afternoon of this week, at which time Robbie Wise will give an address.

The home of Mrs. Barlow was prettily decorated with narcissus and ferns. There were about twenty-five in attendance, these being members of the Ladies' Aid Society. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

W. W. WATENPAUGH'S FUNERAL IS TODAY

The funeral of Wallace William Watenpaugh will be conducted at the Methodist church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. T. B. Ford, officiating, and the interment will be in the Canemah cemetery, the remains to be laid beside those of his daughter, Flora, and son, Willis. The burial service at the grave will be conducted by the Meade Post No. 2, G. A. R., of which Mr. Watenpaugh was an active member. He always took an active interest in exercises held by the Post.

Mr. Watenpaugh was born in Catawago County, New York, and left there when about two years of age with his parents for Cane County, near Elgin, Ill., where he remained until the beginning of the Civil War, when he enlisted in August 1861, being a private in Company B, Thirty Sixth Illinois Cavalry. He was wounded at the battle of Murrefreesboro, in 1863. After being discharged he returned to his home near Elgin in

Eels in Scotland.
Although eels abound in Scotch waters and are caught in great quantities, they are not considered fit food there. No matter how plentiful and how very fine and large they may be in any district of Scotland, no native will eat one. The objection to the eel is said to be based on its serpent-like appearance and the fact that it is not overfastidious as to what it feeds on.

For the Children

Miss Mary Taft Holtz
a Youthful Suffragist.

A short time ago the Women's Political Union of New York City offered to pay 1 cent a word for the best article of 200 words on the subject, "Why Am I a Suffragist?" Among the many responses received there was one from a girl of twelve years, living in Brooklyn. The judges who were selected from the officers of the W. P. U. decided that Mary Taft Holtz, for that is her name, was entitled to the prize, and she received the money.

When interviewed later Mary said she had become interested in votes for women through the parade last year and that she had then decided to study up the subject. She became convinced that it was right for women to have the ballot, although her parents are not much interested in the subject of suffrage. Here is one of the reasons she gave for wishing the ballot:

"Because women are human beings. They have each a soul and a brain as well as a physical body. They are therefore as clever and noble minded as men. Yet they are not allowed the same rights that men have. Why? There is no good reason."

Bachelor's Kitchen.
All the children sit around the room on the floor, with a group of "it" in the middle, who asks each player what he or she will give to an old bachelor for his kitchen.

Anything can be named that enters a boy's or girl's head, from a cow to a soap dish. "It" goes from one to the other, asking all sorts of questions, to which the answer must be the name of the thing given by that particular player.

For instance, "it" might inquire, "What is your head made of?" The answer must come with a perfectly straight face. "Door scraper" or "Tabby cat"—a thing easier said than done. Whoever laughs must pay forfeit.

Personations.
To play this game the company seats itself in a circle, while one of the players begins to describe some persons with whom most of the other players are familiar and continues until one or other of the company is able to guess from the description who the person may be.

The one guessing correctly then proceeds to describe some one. If, however, the company is unable to make a correct guess the player goes on until some one is successful.
