

A STUPID LAWYER

By C. D. ARKWRIGHT

I am what is called a shyster lawyer. It isn't my fault that I rise no higher in my profession; it is fate. When I graduated from the law school my ambition was to be some day chief justice of the United States. In two months I was ready to accept the attorney generalship. Then I fell in the scale to covet a fair practice. And now I am a shyster. I am the meanest kind of a shyster. I devote my time to separating those whom God has joined together, not the higher, but the lower classes. I have secured a divorce for a fee of $5.

One day a young couple came to my office to get divided. Their ages were the man nineteen, the girl eighteen. He wore a threadbare coat that indicated he was or had been a street car conductor.

"Mr. Lawyer," he said, "I suppose it costs a lot to get a divorce. We had to sell our furniture to raise the money. But we got $50 for it. Here it is."

"He opened a pocketbook and took out five dirty ten dollar bills. His wife stood by looking like a young thundercloud.

"What's the trouble?" I asked.

Both began to talk at once, each abusing the other in a disconnected way. I caught as much as I could of what they said, but was unable to gather the slightest cause for divorce from either.

"That'll do," I said. "You," addressing the husband, "have treated your wife abominably. And you," to the wife, "have done a number of things you wouldn't have done had you been older and more experienced. In order to secure a divorce for you you must act harmoniously, for legally the grounds for an action on either side are very weak. You must throw off this antagonism long enough to form with me a plan for separation. I shall be busy for about an hour, and meanwhile I wish you to sit down on that sofa, side by side and try to get back to the days when you were courting. Think about the first kiss, the putting on of the engagement ring I see on that round finger. Then the wedding and all that. If you keep thinking about these things till I get through some other cases we can all act together for a divorce."

They did as I told them to do, but took seats as far apart as possible and at first it looked as though nothing would be gained. They sat thus, both bolt upright for a while, but I kept an eye on them and saw that they were trying to keep their minds on what I had indicated. In about half an hour I gathered up some papers and went into another room. When I returned half the distance between them had been eliminated. Encouraged, I hunted for a paper I had left on my table and went out again. When I returned the wife was wiping away tears. The husband, judging from his expression, was endeavoring to steel himself against a reconciliation.

I left the room again, telling them that I would return in about forty minutes, when I should expect them to have got rid of enough antagonism to work together and with me to secure the divorce. "I fear," I said to the husband, "that you, who are the more at fault in this matter than your wife, are nourishing the bitterness in you and will spoil it all."

With this I made another trip and was gone an hour. Then, returning, I stood at the door listening. I heard the husband saying that it had been all his fault and the wife saying that it had been all her fault, and they were calling each other "dearie" and "sweetheart" and a lot of other pet names. I entered the room suddenly and found them locked in each other's arms.

"Well," I said, "I've come to a stopping place in other business and am now ready for you two."

They arose from the sofa, and the husband said they'd been talking the matter over and if I didn't mind the disappointment they would try to get on together for awhile longer. Taking out his pocketbook, he offered to pay me what he had asked for taking up my time, but I told him there would be no charge. I asked him if he couldn't put the money back into his furniture, and he said he thought he could. At any rate, he would try. Before they left me I made them promise that if they changed their minds and should conclude, after all, to secure a divorce they would give me the job. Thus they promised to do as some compensation for my "disappointment" in not having been employed already, for they were too stupid to see through the ruse that had prevented a permanent breach between them.

"It's hard on you, Mr. Lawyer, to expect you were going to get a good fee and then not get it, but you'd ought to have seen that a makeup in order to get the divorce was the same as making up regular."

"Just so, my boy," I replied. "If you come back here again for a divorce I won't be so far from stupid."

They never came back for a divorce, but one day a prosperous looking young man came into my office and asked if I remembered him. I said I did not, and he told me that I was the lawyer who had enticed myself out of a fee by not moving quick enough. He added that my stupidity had been a godsend to him, and he wanted me to come and dine with him and his wife I went and saw a happy family.

utes, when I should expect them to have got rid of enough antagonism to work together and with me to secure the divorce. "I fear," I said to the husband, "that you, who are the more at fault in this matter than your wife, are nourishing the bitterness in you and will spoil it all."

With this I made another trip and was gone an hour. Then, returning, I stood at the door listening. I heard the husband saying that it had been all his fault and the wife saying that it had been all her fault, and they were calling each other "dearie" and "sweetheart" and a lot of other pet names. I entered the room suddenly and found them locked in each other's arms.

"Well," I said, "I've come to a stopping place in other business and am now ready for you two."

They arose from the sofa, and the husband said they'd been talking the matter over and if I didn't mind the disappointment they would try to get on together for awhile longer. Taking out his pocketbook, he offered to pay me what he had asked for taking up my time, but I told him there would be no charge. I asked him if he couldn't put the money back into his furniture, and he said he thought he could. At any rate, he would try. Before they left me I made them promise that if they changed their minds and should conclude, after all, to secure a divorce they would give me the job. Thus they promised to do as some compensation for my "disappointment" in not having been employed already, for they were too stupid to see through the ruse that had prevented a permanent breach between them.

"It's hard on you, Mr. Lawyer, to expect you were going to get a good fee and then not get it, but you'd ought to have seen that a makeup in order to get the divorce was the same as making up regular."

"Just so, my boy," I replied. "If you come back here again for a divorce I won't be so far from stupid."

They never came back for a divorce, but one day a prosperous looking young man came into my office and asked if I remembered him. I said I did not, and he told me that I was the lawyer who had enticed myself out of a fee by not moving quick enough. He added that my stupidity had been a godsend to him, and he wanted me to come and dine with him and his wife I went and saw a happy family.

utes, when I should expect them to have got rid of enough antagonism to work together and with me to secure the divorce. "I fear," I said to the husband, "that you, who are the more at fault in this matter than your wife, are nourishing the bitterness in you and will spoil it all."

With this I made another trip and was gone an hour. Then, returning, I stood at the door listening. I heard the husband saying that it had been all his fault and the wife saying that it had been all her fault, and they were calling each other "dearie" and "sweetheart" and a lot of other pet names. I entered the room suddenly and found them locked in each other's arms.

"Well," I said, "I've come to a stopping place in other business and am now ready for you two."

They arose from the sofa, and the husband said they'd been talking the matter over and if I didn't mind the disappointment they would try to get on together for awhile longer. Taking out his pocketbook, he offered to pay me what he had asked for taking up my time, but I told him there would be no charge. I asked him if he couldn't put the money back into his furniture, and he said he thought he could. At any rate, he would try. Before they left me I made them promise that if they changed their minds and should conclude, after all, to secure a divorce they would give me the job. Thus they promised to do as some compensation for my "disappointment" in not having been employed already, for they were too stupid to see through the ruse that had prevented a permanent breach between them.

"It's hard on you, Mr. Lawyer, to expect you were going to get a good fee and then not get it, but you'd ought to have seen that a makeup in order to get the divorce was the same as making up regular."

"Just so, my boy," I replied. "If you come back here again for a divorce I won't be so far from stupid."

They never came back for a divorce, but one day a prosperous looking young man came into my office and asked if I remembered him. I said I did not, and he told me that I was the lawyer who had enticed myself out of a fee by not moving quick enough. He added that my stupidity had been a godsend to him, and he wanted me to come and dine with him and his wife I went and saw a happy family.

BITHIAHS TO GIVE CONCERT TONIGHT

A fine treat is in store for the music loving people of this city this evening at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal church. The Bithiahs have arranged a fine program comprising instrumental and vocal numbers of a high order. Some of the best talent of Oregon City, and some of the finest soloists of Portland have been engaged. Dr. Ford assures the public that the entertainment will be of high order.

How strong are you going in the support of your candidate in the Enterprise automobile contest?

The time to read the Morning Enterprise is at the breakfast table or a little before.

COMMENCEMENT TO BE FREE TO PUBLIC

The school directors, at a meeting Tuesday night, decided that no admission fees would be charged to the High school commencement exercises this year. For many years fees have been charged. The exercises will be held in the High school auditorium instead of the Shively Theatre as heretofore. Three janitors were re-elected as follows: W. W. Mars, High School; Fred Erickson, Barclay School and Herman Bierman, Eastham School. The janitors will receive $50 a month throughout the year, and will be allowed vacations of ten days each. Teachers for the coming year will be named by the board at a meeting next Tuesday evening. The annual school exhibition will be held Friday and Saturday of this week or the later part of next week.

DR. FORD TO SPEAK ON FORUM ADDRESSES

When Dr. T. B. Ford opened the series of open forum discussions in the pulpit of the Methodist church a few weeks ago he announced that at the close there would be no reply to anything that any speaker said, but that he would give his impressions of the addresses.

The first series has closed and next Sunday evening Dr. Ford will speak on "My Impressions of the Addresses delivered in the Open Forum Pulpit," and invites all who have spoken to be present. His address will be one of great interest for he will speak with great frankness as to necessary concessions on the part of the church and on the part of men. He believes that church of today should command the attention and support of men of modern mind and in a modern church for a modern world. One of the men who has spoken will preside Sunday evening.

Seventeenth Century Grocers.
Shopkeepers in the seventeenth century were subject to other restrictions than those respecting prices. It was enacted that "any person using the trade or mystery of the grocer should not either by themselves or any third party directly or indirectly, keep more than one shop at the same time." Grocers were also forbidden to sell any commodities except "razors, currants, sugar, spice, soap, candle, molasses, gunpowder, shot, match, tar, pitch, rozen, tobacco and pipes, cotton wool, cotton yarn, starch, blining, rice, linseed oil, white and red lead, olives, prunes, figs, Spanish white alabaster, alum, almonds, brimstone, lampblack and candle rushes."—London Globe.

Scientific Marvel.
Perpetual motion is easy enough with a scandal that has once started.—New York Press.

Very Tiny.
"What a tiny foot you have! Why, you could clean your shoes with a toothbrush!"—Fillegende Blatter.

Cookery Notes

Luncheon Menu.
As an introduction to a dainty luncheon no better selection could be made than grapefruit cocktail, an appetizing and refreshing development of this favorite fruit. Left over chicken meat can be transformed into a palatable dish and served as a creamed hash on toast. The new asparagus is just as good as it looks, especially in salad form. French pastry completes the menu:

Grapefruit Cocktails.
Chicken Hash on Toast.
Asparagus Tip Salad.

Pastries. Tea.

One cupful of chicken meat (cold), one cupful of white sauce, half a cupful of sweet green pepper, one and a fourth teaspoonfuls of onion juice, four slices of toast, trimmed and buttered. Cut the chicken in quarter inch cubes, chop the green pepper very fine, add to the chicken and cook all in the white sauce until the chicken is heated through (use double boiler). Arrange on the toast and serve very hot.

With the Cook in the Kitchen.
Water-like slices of bread spread with caviar sprinkled with lemon juice and salt make tasty sandwiches. Banging the oven door is responsible for half the heavy bread and cake the door should be closed very gently. For spring suppers sliced oranges and shredded coconut put into a dish in alternate layers is appetizing. Macaroni prepared in any of the various ways in combination with cheese, butter and tomatoes is nourishing. Shredded chocolate cocoanut, which is bought already prepared, makes a tasty addition to different kinds of salad. Meat loaf of chopped beef or veal can be made more moist if three or four tablespoonfuls of cream are added just before baking.

Cornstarch Pudding.
Take one pint of sweet milk, the whites of three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and a pinch of salt. Put the milk in a kettle, and when it reaches the boiling point add the sugar and the cornstarch, dissolved in a little milk. Lastly add the whites of the eggs, whipped to a stiff froth. Beat it and let it cook a few minutes. Set two-thirds in a cool place, favoring it with vanilla. To the remaining one-third add half a cake of chocolate, softened and melted. Put a layer of half the white pudding into the mold, over this put a layer of chocolate and then the remainder of the white. One-half a coconut or pineapple may be substituted for the chocolate.

Grapefruit Cocktail.
Cut a chilled grapefruit in halves and with a thin, sharp knife remove the seeds and cut out each section of fruit and serve the pulp with the juice in dainty glasses. Two teaspoonfuls of sugar and one tablespoonful of sherry may be added to each glass or either or both may be omitted. An other method is to take grapefruit juice, lemon and orange in equal proportions. It is then sweetened to taste, flavored with maraschino and diluted just before serving with charged water and served in glasses with some of the grapefruit pulp and a maraschino cherry.

Kitchenettes.
If by any chance you have to use a nice clean saucepan over a smoky fire smear it over on the outside with just a little grease before putting it on. This prevents the smoke from hurting it, and if you will wash it afterward in some good suds it will be as bright as ever.

One of the best ways to have a little meat go a long way is to make it into a pie and add potatoes or any other left over vegetables, a hard boiled egg or two cut into slices and a couple of tomatoes. Serve some nice gravy with it.

Japanese Rice.
A Japanese cook's way of preparing boiled rice is to wash the rice carefully and put a cupful of it into two cupfuls of boiling water with a level teaspoonful of salt. Cook the rice rapidly, and as soon as the water is absorbed lift the cover from it, set the dish containing it on the back of the stove and let it steam until it is dry. This is the way a Chinese cook always prepares the rice which he serves with chop suey.

Economical Dessert.
An angel cake that has been in the house for a day or two is turned into a delectable dessert if it is cut into slices and spread with marshmallow icing. Put the slices together and let the top and sides of the loaf with regular frosting and sprinkle the top with candied cherries, rose petals or violets. Surround with whipped cream which has been beaten into ice cream.

Mock Cherry Pie.
There is a mock cherry pie possible at this season which in favor is an excellent counter-foil of its prototype. Mix a cupful of boiling water with a cupful of cranberries, half a cupful of chopped raisins, a cupful of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, a little vanilla and three level tablespoonfuls of flour. Bake between two crusts or with a strapped top.

VERNON WINS FROM BEAVERS IN NINTH

LOS ANGELES, May 14, (Special.)—Portland led at the end of the eighth inning today, but not at the end of the ninth. The score was 4 to 3. Raleigh pitched better ball than Koestner. The Beavers made 6 hits and Vernon 8. Vernon made 3 errors and Portland 1. Portland scored in the second, third and seventh. Vernon made a score in the first and second and 2 in the ninth.

The results Tuesday follow:
At Los Angeles—Vernon 4, Portland 3.
At Sacramento—Los Angeles 5, Sacramento 4.
At San Francisco—Oakland 5, San Francisco 4, (10 innings.)

Pacific Coast League Standings

W.	L.	Pct.
Oakland	25	14	.641
Vernon	22	15	.595
Los Angeles	20	19	.513
San Francisco	17	21	.447
Sacramento	16	22	.421
Portland	12	21	.364

Northwest League
At Portland—Seattle 7, Portland 0.
At Seattle—Tacoma 10, Spokane 7.
At Victoria—Victoria 11, Vancouver 2.

National League
St. Louis 6, Brooklyn 0.
Chicago 2, Philadelphia 0.

American League
Chicago 7, Philadelphia 0.
Detroit 5, New York 0.
Cleveland 2, Washington 2.
Boston 6, St. Louis 5.

WILLAMETTE SCHOOL TO BE ENLARGED

Wilkinson & Tozier have been awarded the contract for building an addition to the Willamette school building, and the work will be commenced at once. The addition will be similar to the present building there being four new rooms added, making in all eight rooms. It is probable that there will be several more teachers elected during the coming year, as the population of Willamette has been largely increased. These contractors are completing the bungalow for Harry B. Cartridge and wife, which will be one of the most attractive homes in Oregon City. It is located on Ninth and Washington streets.

FORESTER PLANS BIG SAVING OF TIMBER

SALEM, Or., May 14.—As the second fire season since the inauguration of a state forestry department approaches State Forester F. A. Elliott is preparing to issue a manual of instructions to fire wardens and rangers which, no doubt, will be the means of greatly facilitating the work of protecting the vast timber resources of the state this season. The manual is in the hands of the printers and will be ready for distribution by next week.

For the purpose of impressing upon the wardens the importance of their work, State Forester Elliott gives seven reasons why the state appropriates money for the protection of forests from fire. After asserting that in 1911 the state lost less timber by fire than during any previous years for which there is a record, yet the timber destroyed totalled approximately $7,000,000 feet, which, figured on the basis of dollars and cents, amounted to a loss to the people of the state of more than $500,000.

"The records show that 73 per cent of these fires could have been avoided if care had been taken by everybody concerned, while only 27 per cent were reported to have started from unavoidable causes," says Forester Elliott. "This means that approximately $350,000 was lost to the public through carelessness. A similar loss would not be tolerated if it fell directly upon the fruit, agricultural or stock industry. Why should the state be indifferent to the economic value of its timber industry?"

Proceeding thus, the state forester says: "Oregon has more standing timber than any other state in the union, approximately 500,000,000 feet, when manufactured into lumber, Oregon's timber will bring in at least $6,000,000,000 of outside money, 80 per cent of which will be spent for labor and supplies. Oregon is receiving $60,000 annually for lumber and timber products. The industry is developing rapidly. Oregon timber and the lumber industry pay approximately one third of the taxes of the state."

"When timber is destroyed by fire, the state loses directly the taxes which the property would yield until cut, and indirectly at least 80 per cent of its manufactured value. For every thousand feet of timber burned the owner loses the value of the stumpage, about $2, and the state the amount expended for labor and supplies in manufacturing it into lumber, about $8."

"In 1911, 842 fires were reported, of which 613, or about 73 per cent, were caused through carelessness. That a majority of these fires were the result of violations of the law by campers, hunters, railroad companies, loggers and ranchers, is beyond question. This record should show a marked improvement during the coming season, and it should, therefore, be the aim of every state fire warden to reduce the number of avoidable fires in his territory. The forest fire law was enacted chiefly to assist in reducing the number of fires of this kind."

Millworker Is Sentenced
Albert Hintz, a millworker, arrested on a charge of intoxication by E. L. Shaw, was fined $2.50 and given a jail sentence of fifteen days by Recorder Stipp Tuesday.

Watch the automobile contest.

LOS ANGELES, May 14, (Special.)—Portland led at the end of the eighth inning today, but not at the end of the ninth. The score was 4 to 3. Raleigh pitched better ball than Koestner. The Beavers made 6 hits and Vernon 8. Vernon made 3 errors and Portland 1. Portland scored in the second, third and seventh. Vernon made a score in the first and second and 2 in the ninth.

The results Tuesday follow:
At Los Angeles—Vernon 4, Portland 3.
At Sacramento—Los Angeles 5, Sacramento 4.
At San Francisco—Oakland 5, San Francisco 4, (10 innings.)

Pacific Coast League Standings

W.	L.	Pct.
Oakland	25	14	.641
Vernon	22	15	.595
Los Angeles	20	19	.513
San Francisco	17	21	.447
Sacramento	16	22	.421
Portland	12	21	.364

WILLAMETTE SCHOOL TO BE ENLARGED

Wilkinson & Tozier have been awarded the contract for building an addition to the Willamette school building, and the work will be commenced at once. The addition will be similar to the present building there being four new rooms added, making in all eight rooms. It is probable that there will be several more teachers elected during the coming year, as the population of Willamette has been largely increased. These contractors are completing the bungalow for Harry B. Cartridge and wife, which will be one of the most attractive homes in Oregon City. It is located on Ninth and Washington streets.

utes, when I should expect them to have got rid of enough antagonism to work together and with me to secure the divorce. "I fear," I said to the husband, "that you, who are the more at fault in this matter than your wife, are nourishing the bitterness in you and will spoil it all."

With this I made another trip and was gone an hour. Then, returning, I stood at the door listening. I heard the husband saying that it had been all his fault and the wife saying that it had been all her fault, and they were calling each other "dearie" and "sweetheart" and a lot of other pet names. I entered the room suddenly and found them locked in each other's arms.

"Well," I said, "I've come to a stopping place in other business and am now ready for you two."

They arose from the sofa, and the husband said they'd been talking the matter over and if I didn't mind the disappointment they would try to get on together for awhile longer. Taking out his pocketbook, he offered to pay me what he had asked for taking up my time, but I told him there would be no charge. I asked him if he couldn't put the money back into his furniture, and he said he thought he could. At any rate, he would try. Before they left me I made them promise that if they changed their minds and should conclude, after all, to secure a divorce they would give me the job. Thus they promised to do as some compensation for my "disappointment" in not having been employed already, for they were too stupid to see through the ruse that had prevented a permanent breach between them.

"It's hard on you, Mr. Lawyer, to expect you were going to get a good fee and then not get it, but you'd ought to have seen that a makeup in order to get the divorce was the same as making up regular."

"Just so, my boy," I replied. "If you come back here again for a divorce I won't be so far from stupid."

They never came back for a divorce, but one day a prosperous looking young man came into my office and asked if I remembered him. I said I did not, and he told me that I was the lawyer who had enticed myself out of a fee by not moving quick enough. He added that my stupidity had been a godsend to him, and he wanted me to come and dine with him and his wife I went and saw a happy family.

VERNON WINS FROM BEAVERS IN NINTH

LOS ANGELES, May 14, (Special.)—Portland led at the end of the eighth inning today, but not at the end of the ninth. The score was 4 to 3. Raleigh pitched better ball than Koestner. The Beavers made 6 hits and Vernon 8. Vernon made 3 errors and Portland 1. Portland scored in the second, third and seventh. Vernon made a score in the first and second and 2 in the ninth.

The results Tuesday follow:
At Los Angeles—Vernon 4, Portland 3.
At Sacramento—Los Angeles 5, Sacramento 4.
At San Francisco—Oakland 5, San Francisco 4, (10 innings.)

Pacific Coast League Standings

W.	L.	Pct.
Oakland	25	14	.641
Vernon	22	15	.595
Los Angeles	20	19	.513
San Francisco	17	21	.447
Sacramento	16	22	.421
Portland	12	21	.364

WILLAMETTE SCHOOL TO BE ENLARGED

Wilkinson & Tozier have been awarded the contract for building an addition to the Willamette school building, and the work will be commenced at once. The addition will be similar to the present building there being four new rooms added, making in all eight rooms. It is probable that there will be several more teachers elected during the coming year, as the population of Willamette has been largely increased. These contractors are completing the bungalow for Harry B. Cartridge and wife, which will be one of the most attractive homes in Oregon City. It is located on Ninth and Washington streets.

FORESTER PLANS BIG SAVING OF TIMBER

SALEM, Or., May 14.—As the second fire season since the inauguration of a state forestry department approaches State Forester F. A. Elliott is preparing to issue a manual of instructions to fire wardens and rangers which, no doubt, will be the means of greatly facilitating the work of protecting the vast timber resources of the state this season. The manual is in the hands of the printers and will be ready for distribution by next week.

For the purpose of impressing upon the wardens the importance of their work, State Forester Elliott gives seven reasons why the state appropriates money for the protection of forests from fire. After asserting that in 1911 the state lost less timber by fire than during any previous years for which there is a record, yet the timber destroyed totalled approximately $7,000,000 feet, which, figured on the basis of dollars and cents, amounted to a loss to the people of the state of more than $500,000.

"The records show that 73 per cent of these fires could have been avoided if care had been taken by everybody concerned, while only 27 per cent were reported to have started from unavoidable causes," says Forester Elliott. "This means that approximately $350,000 was lost to the public through carelessness. A similar loss would not be tolerated if it fell directly upon the fruit, agricultural or stock industry. Why should the state be indifferent to the economic value of its timber industry?"

Proceeding thus, the state forester says: "Oregon has more standing timber than any other state in the union, approximately 500,000,000 feet, when manufactured into lumber, Oregon's timber will bring in at least $6,000,000,000 of outside money, 80 per cent of which will be spent for labor and supplies. Oregon is receiving $60,000 annually for lumber and timber products. The industry is developing rapidly. Oregon timber and the lumber industry pay approximately one third of the taxes of the state."

"When timber is destroyed by fire, the state loses directly the taxes which the property would yield until cut, and indirectly at least 80 per cent of its manufactured value. For every thousand feet of timber burned the owner loses the value of the stumpage, about $2, and the state the amount expended for labor and supplies in manufacturing it into lumber, about $8."

"In 1911, 842 fires were reported, of which 613, or about 73 per cent, were caused through carelessness. That a majority of these fires were the result of violations of the law by campers, hunters, railroad companies, loggers and ranchers, is beyond question. This record should show a marked improvement during the coming season, and it should, therefore, be the aim of every state fire warden to reduce the number of avoidable fires in his territory. The forest fire law was enacted chiefly to assist in reducing the number of fires of this kind."

Millworker Is Sentenced
Albert Hintz, a millworker, arrested on a charge of intoxication by E. L. Shaw, was fined $2.50 and given a jail sentence of fifteen days by Recorder Stipp Tuesday.

Watch the automobile contest.

STOP! LOOK! Listen?

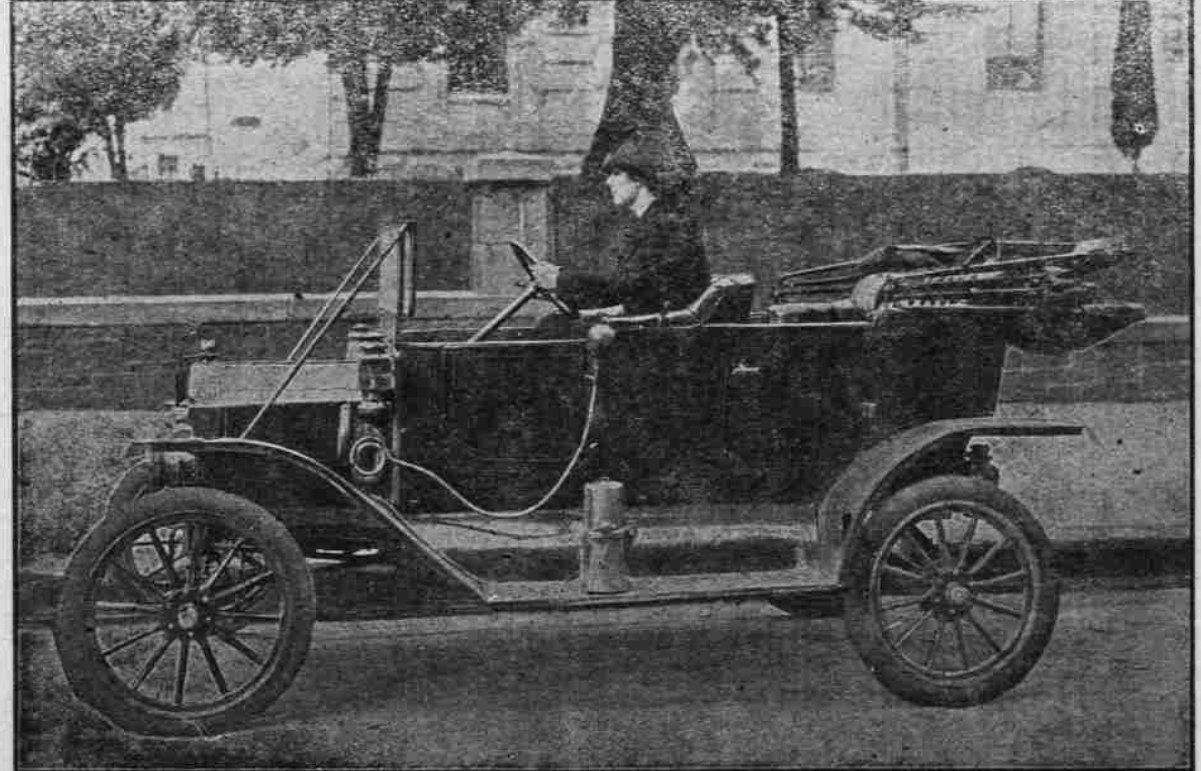

Working for the other fellow and
Get Busy for Yourself

What can be won with a little work a fine prize every 10 days
BESIDES THE AUTO

To what people are saying and you will see how popular you are
THEN GET IN AND WIN

Yours for the asking

Don't it look good to you

To stimulate interest in the voting and give each one a chance to profit by their work we will give a prize every ten days. These prizes will not affect the final count in any way as all votes will count on

THE GRAND AUTOMOBILE

These prizes will be given to the one that hands in the largest number of votes very ten days.

$100 In Gold

We will give $100 to the contestant who makes the second best showing. If you don't think you can win the car get in and win the $100. Just think; $100 for a few week's work in the evening or before work.