PROTECT RAILROAD GRAFT

Over a decade ago officials of the Post Office Department started a campaign for a restricted circulation of the public press, and for this purpose demanded of Congress an increase of the postage rate, adopted a code of laws extraneous to the laws passed by Congress, and enforced them with the help of a small army of inspectors and a secret star-chamber court.

In the course of six years of revolutionary ferment and its aftermath, from December 1, 1905, to October 14, 1911, the Russian authorities confiscated issues of newspapers and periodicals in 1,055 cases. In 283 of these cases the issues confiscated were destroyed, and in 12 cases certain pages of articles were removed by order of the court. These figures refer only to confiscations which were subsequently approved by the courts.

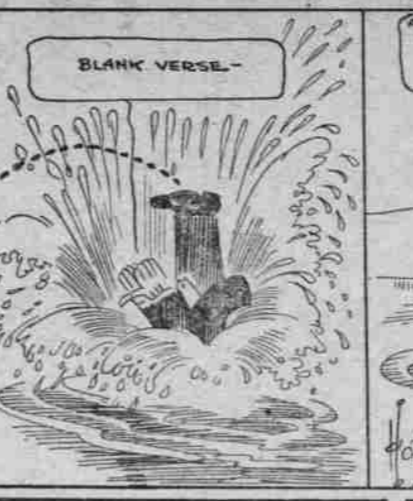

In the United States of America during the same period, 1905 to 1911, inclusive, 5,263 publications were denied access to or ejected from the mails, resulting in a permanent suspension of issues, in many cases with little less disastrous results to the owners than would have been the confiscation of types, presses and other printing and publishing equipments. In Russia the confiscation of 1,055 publications applied only to certain specific issues or parts of issues, not to the publications themselves, in every case the authority for the procedure being justified by regularly constituted courts.

It Is a Husband's Duty to Share His Pay With Wife

By Lady FRANCES COOK, Suffragette

THERE are thousands of women who must implore their husbands for every nickel. Many a man certainly has no regard for his vows at the altar, "with my worldly goods I thee endow," since often the truth of the matter is that he DOES NOT INTEND TO ENDOW HER WITH A SINGLE PENNY. Pray do not misunderstand me. There are many husbands, splendid men, who realize that a woman NEEDS MONEY FOR HER OWN USE of which she need not give an account. But we must consider the many women afflicted with the STINGY HUSBAND. Here I must say that there is more suffering as to this in England than in America. Over there if a woman happens to save a few pounds the husband can force her into court, take her little savings from her and spend them. It is needless to say that there are many downtrodden women doing all the cooking and mending clothes who do not know the pleasure of having a little money that they may CALL THEIR OWN. THEREFORE, IF THERE WAS A LAW BY WHICH A HUSBAND WAS COMPELLED TO GIVE HALF OF HIS EARNINGS TO HIS WIFE, CERTAINLY APPORTIONED IN SUCH A WAY THAT THE MUTUAL EXPENSES WOULD BE PAID, THEN SHE WOULD ENJOY MANY LITTLE THINGS THAT ARE QUITE NECESSARY TO A WOMAN OF WHICH SHE IS NOW DEPRIVED.

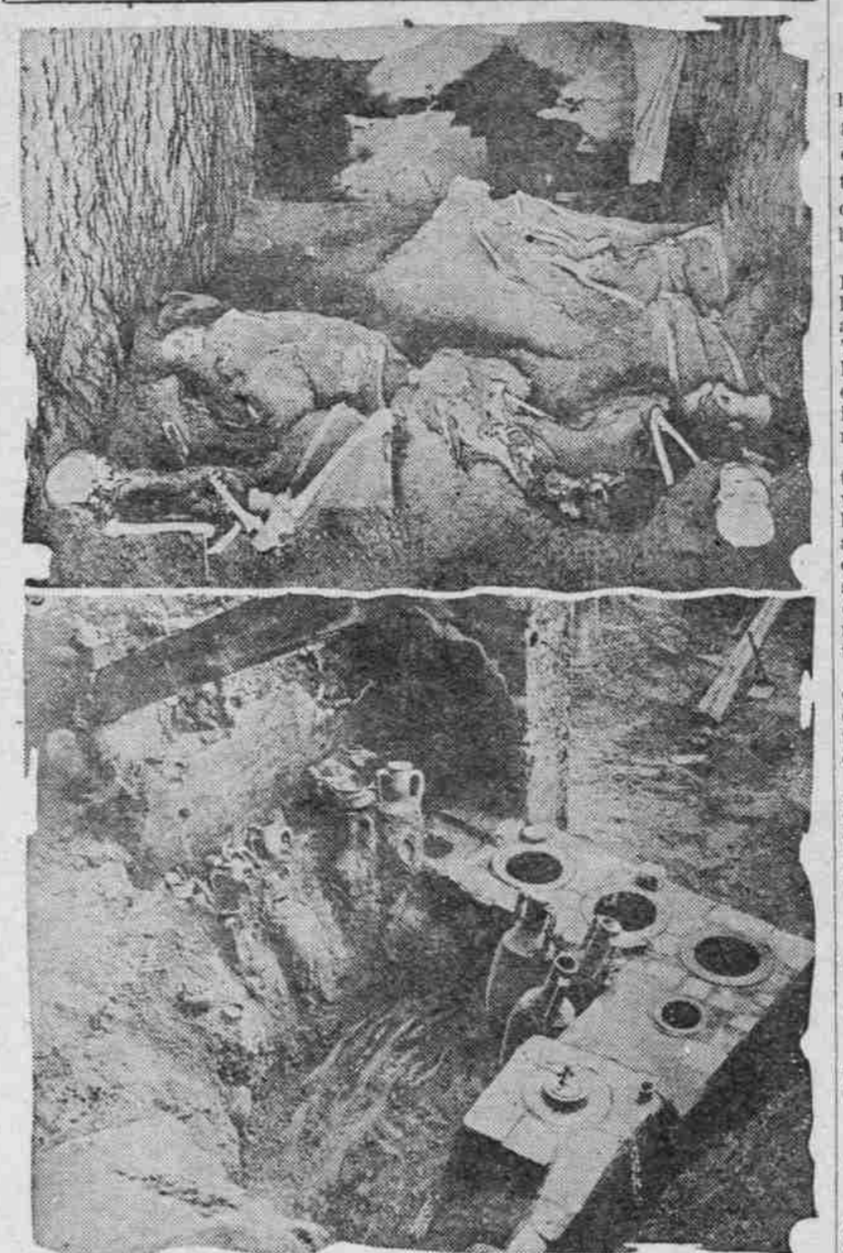

Weather Forecast—Fair, with Possible Showers, Generally Cooler

The mill men are continuing to earn bonus money right along, it being an exceptional poor run when the day's out put does not exceed 190 tons. The attention of those who scout the boy scout idea is called to the saving a boy's life at Hood River when three scouts saved a companion through tactics taught by this movement. Portland, Medford, The Dalles and other Oregon towns have had their white slave scandals, but this city has escaped notoriety of this nature thus far. The indomitable spirit of those Seaside merchants is to be lauded. Even before their ground had cooled off after their terrible fire, they, almost to a man, placed rush orders, which will result in the speedy rebuilding of this thriving summer resort. Ten dollars for a pencil sharpener seems to be a bunch of money for a little machine to put a point on a pencil. Will the flags carried Decoration day have a star for the newest state? Count the stars. For the first time in many months there is a house vacant in Oregon City. The average amount of typewritten book work done by Multnomah County Recorder's women clerks in a week is 90 pages. Our local girls beat that record. Some automobile chaps are already telling us what they are going to do at the fair at Canby this fall. The Standard Oil people really paid a $50,000 fine yesterday. Enough to install elevators at Fourth, Fifth and Seventh streets and put in a pontoon bridge below the falls. The next time you buy a five cent tin cup remember you are patronizing a ten million dollar trust, but what can you do about it? The high school students who graduate in a couple of weeks say they are getting a lot of free advice just now. Wouldn't it be a good plan to have a clean up day every month, instead of once or twice a year? The high school students responsible for the publication of the high school paper deserve a great deal of credit. Each issue of the Hesperian has been well edited, and splendidly planned and executed, taking a front rank among similar publications in the country. The policy of the mill officials with reference to prohibiting the firing of miscellaneous fire works within the picnic grounds is right in line with the policy of a "Sane Fourth." While the number of fatalities throughout the country the last celebration was less than the year previous plans are already being worked out to reduce the number of serious accidents. Having failed to introduce an ordinance allowing the railway company to charge but three cents for a ride, Councilman Jay wants to force the company to sell six tickets for a quarter. Great joy will exist in the city should this come to pass. Roseburg certainly knows how to advertise for her Strawberry Carnival. One lady says "of the streets during the Rose Carnival. At that time everyone will be in Portland and white dresses will not be soiled, carpets oil-tracked, etc. Merchants must pay for sprinkling. J. E. Hedges, Secretary of the Board of Water Commissioners, said Wednesday that he would object to the sprinkling of Main and other business streets unless the merchants paid for the water for sprinkling purposes. "Of course there is plenty water with which to sprinkle the streets," said Mr. Hedges, "but I am not in favor of the water board furnishing water gratis to sprinkle the business streets when the poor people in other parts of the city have to pay for water for sprinkling purposes. The same question was discussed when Dr. Carl was mayor and the merchants refusing to pay for water for sprinkling the board refused water for that purpose. If all the business men will pay for water for sprinkling purposes as the people in the residential districts, the board will see that all the water desired is furnished. Big Mouthed. Human Skeletons and a Bar Lately Unearthed in Pompeii

Photos by American Press Association.

Recent excavations in Pompeii have uncovered a considerable part of "the Street of Abundance," which is described as a sort of Fifth avenue of the ancient city. Among the houses which have been explored is the palace of Obellius Firmus, apparently one of the richest of the Pompeians. Before one of the gates, as shown in the first photograph, the excavators found the bodies of the master of the house, his wife, two children and two slaves overwhelmed by the ashes of the great eruption. In the same street was a fashionable drinking saloon, with the amphora, or wine jars, perfectly preserved by their thick covering of ashes. The body of a man supposed to have been the vintner, or the ancient equivalent of a bartender, was found near the stone bar, which appears in the second photograph. In other houses frescoes of vivid coloring were discovered, depicting human figures of life size and great beauty. The Street of Abundance was evidently largely a business street. It had shops or booths with marble counters over which were sold jewels and art objects, toilet articles, perfumes, etc. There were even "beauty parlors," and in one of them the excavators found recipes for complexion cream and rouge.

MR. AND MRS NILES GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Niles gave them a pleasant surprise party at their home in Gladstone Tuesday, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Niles and the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Niles. They were married at Manitowish, Wis., May 14, 1874, and came to Oregon in September 1894, where they bought a home near Milwaukie. After making several trips East they decided to remain in Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Niles have a son and daughter, Mrs. Eugene Anderson, of Kaukaee, Ill., and Ernest Clifford Niles, of Manitowish, Wis., and three daughters in Oregon, Mrs. B. L. Hagemann, Mrs. Ralph McGetchie and Mrs. Lake May. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Niles, Mr. and Mrs. James Halron, of Manitowish, Wis., Mrs. John Symes, Mrs. J. Willis, Mrs. James McFarlane, Mrs. Theresa Becker, of St. Johns, Mrs. Helen Monahan, Mrs. J. A. Tufts, Mrs. J. W. Davenport, Mrs. B. L. Hagemann, Mrs. Ralph McGetchie, Mrs. L. May, Mrs. George Warren, Mrs. Charles Hannafoord, Alice, Helen, Duane, Halron, Gladys and Albert Hannafoord, Helen Davenport, Lyne and Marshall Hagemann. The Niles home was artistically decorated with roses and early spring flowers.

BITHIAH MUSICAL DELIGHTS BIG CROWD

One of the most delightful musical entertainments ever given in this city was that of the Bithiahs at the Methodist Church Wednesday evening. Several prominent musicians from Portland assisted in the musical and the local talent never played and sang to better advantage. The church was crowded, and every number was enthusiastically applauded. The patronesses were Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence, Mrs. John F. Clark, Mrs. Anna Sickler Hayes, Mrs. Charles Hagemann, Mrs. William Johnston and Mrs. Charles Canfield. The program was as follows: Two pianos, 8 hands—Wedding Music, Suite, Jansen. 1. Festal Procession. 2. Bridal Song. 3. Round Dance. 4. Notturmo. Sadye Evelyn Ford, Lawrence Woodfin, Louise Huntley, Zeda Goldsmith. (a) Requim ..... Homer (b) Where My Caravan Has Rested ..... Lohr Stuart McGuire. (a) A Chain of Roses ..... Lohr (b) You and I ..... Lehman Zeta Marie Hollister. When Day Fades ..... Parks Gladstone Male Quartet. (a) An Irish Love Song ..... Lang (b) Invictus ..... Huhn Stuart McGuire. You Dear and I ..... Clark Zeta Marie Hollister. Two pianos Danse Macabre Sadye Eveyrn Ford, Louise Huntley. Canaries. Sometimes a canary's coat gets a pale, sickly yellow. Give him half an ounce of ground red pepper, such as is used on your table, and let the bird eat it as he likes. In a week he'll turn a beautiful orange color. Bird lice are troublesome at times. A pinch of powdered saffron put under the wings will drive away the pests. Gravel in the cage every day and a dish of tepid water for a bath every other day are indispensable to the singer's health and happiness. Evidently Not. "It was Tennyson, was it not, who said, 'Woman is the lesser man?'" "I believe it was Evidently Mrs. Tennyson didn't read his copy before it went to the publisher"—Chicago Record Herald.

MERCHANTS MUST PAY FOR SPRINKLING

J. E. Hedges, Secretary of the Board of Water Commissioners, said Wednesday that he would object to the sprinkling of Main and other business streets unless the merchants paid for the water for sprinkling purposes. "Of course there is plenty water with which to sprinkle the streets," said Mr. Hedges, "but I am not in favor of the water board furnishing water gratis to sprinkle the business streets when the poor people in other parts of the city have to pay for water for sprinkling purposes. WOOL GROWERS WAIT FOR BETTER PRICES

In an effort to discredit the regularly established wool sales of the Oregon association some eastern interests are spreading false reports of the time of holding the sales while others assert that no sales will be held at certain points. This has been officially denied by H. C. Rooper, secretary of the Antelope Wool Growers' association so far as the date at Shaniko is concerned. The date for the sale at that point has been twisted several times by dealers, but so far as the association is concerned, it will be held as announced previously, on June 18. Practically no wool has been sold in the interior of Oregon or Idaho, notwithstanding the reports being circulated in some quarters. Such reports are said by association people to be circulated by enemies of the present system of selling for the sole purpose of causing holders to let go before regular sales dates and make the latter event a farce. The small deals that have been closed in eastern Oregon and Idaho cut but little consideration when the total amount of the shearing there is concerned. In the Willamette valley the market, while more active, is still on a limited basis. Growers are seemingly awaiting a substantial opening of the market before offering more freely. Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows: DRIED FRUITS—(Buying)—Prunes on basis of 6 to 8 cents. Fruits, Vegetables. HIDES—(Buying)—Green hides, 7c to 8c; salted 6c to 7c; dry hides 12c to 14c; sheep pelts, 25c to 75c each. Hay, Grain, Feed. EGGS—Oregon ranch eggs, 18c case count; 20c coned. SACK VEGETABLES—Carrots. HAY—(Buying)—Timothy, $12 to $15; clover, $8 to $9; oat hay, best, $10 to $11; mixed, $9 to $11; alfalfa, $15 to $16.50. OATS—(Buying)—$37.50 to $38.50 wheat $1 bu.; oil meal, selling $35; Shady Brook dairy feed, $1.30 per 100 pounds. FEED—(Selling)—Shorts, $28; bran $28; process barley, $41.50 per ton. FLOUR—$4.60 to $5.50. POTATOES—Best buying $1.00 to $1.40 according to quality per hundred. Butter, Poultry, Eggs. POULTRY—(Buying)—Hens, 13c to 14c; spring, 17c to 20c; and roosters 8c. DENMARK'S KING DIES STRANGELY

(Continued from page 1.) who in an interview with the United Press correspondent here said today: "I was emerging from a theatre at 10:30 o'clock last night when I saw an aged man sit down heavily on the steps leading to a butcher's shop. He was dressed ordinarily and seemed to be suffering. I asked him if he needed any assistance, and he thanked me saying: "I live at the Hamburgerhof. I feel better now, and can walk there." "The old man arose to his feet, went a few steps and collapsed. I hurried to him and felt his pulse, which had virtually ceased. Then I summoned a policeman and sent him to the hospital. I continued on my way without knowing I had attended the death of a king."
