ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS. (From noon today to noon tomorrow.) Sun sets 7:12, rises 4:40. Evening Star: Mars, Morning Stars: Venus, Jupiter, Mercury, Saturn.

PULL FOR THE INDUSTRIES Oregon needs more industries, not more laws to hamper the industries we have.

Oregon needs more payrolls, not laws to make it more difficult to give any one employment.

The little home owners, the five and ten-acre tract people, many of them want a chance to earn wages. Laws that hinder investments of capital, that make it hard to operate a factory, are laws against development.

No one in Oregon is inclined to work very hard, and employer and employee can be trusted to get along.

Laws that put a handicap on manufacturing in Oregon are laws to keep wage earners idle.

It is the duty of business men and working people to pull for the Oregon industries.

To start with, buy from the home merchant, and ask him to sell Made in Oregon products.

That is the practical way to build up Oregon, and it is the duty which all should respond.—Capital Journal.

POLITICS NATIONAL AND LOCAL Our present day politician is a character hard to analyze. Take our former president as an example, only four years ago our present president was the only man Teddy even thought of for the job and now, to believe the wielder of the big stick, Taft is anything but desirable.

In our state politics the same condition exists on a smaller scale. Before the primaries, we heard all kinds of stories about certain candidates on the same ticket. Three were nominated. Now they are fighting among themselves. The natural result is a Republican district will elect a Democrat unless the warring factions kiss and make up.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB The work of our club is world widely known. Our workers are being watched from a distance. The secretary of our club has been singled out of our entire state by Governor West as the one man to represent this state at the Northwest Development Congress at Seattle in June of this year. Proof sufficient that the worker who gets results is soon known while the man who lets other do it never comes to the front. Our club of 300 men owes much to the untiring efforts of M. D. Latourette.

"PUBLICITY"—A MONTHLY This publication has lost its guiding hand. Its editor-in-chief, M. J. Lazelle has quit his job to seek new fields of labor. Another case of a man too big for his job. The Enterprise wishes Mr. Lazelle all success in his new undertaking and wishes him a successful as well as pleasant vacation before he takes up his new work.

ROSE-BARGAIN DAY The ladies and gentlemen of the booster clubs of our city are getting busy and claim to have in their celebration of June 8 a three ring show all for one admission fee; also that there will be side shows and the usual after show concert, all complimentary. Looks good. Business men joining the ranks will complete the Parliamentary "Popping." A member of congress had been paying attention to a young lady for a long while and had taken her to attend the house until she was well posted in the rules. On the last day of the session as they came out he bought her a bouquet of flowers and said to her, "May I offer you my hand of flowers?" She replied promptly, "I move to amend by omitting all after the word 'hand.'" He blushing accepted the amendment, and they adopted it unanimously.

AD WOLGAST WEALTHY. Lightweight Champion Worth $137,000. Looking For Matches. Ad Wolgast, the lightweight pugilist champion, is deploring the fact that, even though he has $137,000 in cash and securities, he has not made more in the two years he has held the championship.

"Rivers is a good boy, but I'll lick him, sure. I know all about his style. He is a fast and hard puncher, but none too speedy on his feet." "After the Rivers fight I'll take on the bunch as fast as they come at me. I'll never retire so long as I hold the title, but will keep on fighting until I get a kick that lands me on the floor."

Why Marriage Fails. It is too easy to get a marriage license. It is too easy to get a divorce after marriage. I am opposed to early marriages. I am opposed to marriages on short acquaintance. I am equally opposed to long engagements.

The City Editor Is Strong for Browning's Poems--Especially That One on Spring program of the big event, and there is sure to be a time second to none. The May number of the Western Stock Journal beats all former editions in every way including quantity. This is a real live monthly devoted exclusively to the one great topic of the day—"Back to the Soil"—and deserves encouragement.

Live Wirelets (By Edgar Bates.)

There are more than 7,500 automobiles in this state ranging in value from $200 to $900.

The old fountain looks splendid doesn't it. The Humane Society certainly deserves a vote of thanks for installing the "thirst quencher" again and hundreds of people as well as countless horses will make use of it each day.

"Sister Mary Ann's" appeal deserves consideration. In fact her request should be followed by the officials when it comes to laying new concrete walks.

When it comes to musical talent, Oregon City more than has her share of artists. This fact was brought out at a concert Wednesday night.

It appears that Oregon voters will have over forty amendments to vote upon at the election next fall. This is worse than last time.

Some of these times a measure will appear on the ballot, which shall provide for the state purchasing school books for the children, and it is generally conceded this will pass with a big majority.

Gladstone seems to mean business about that water plant and street improvements.

The remarkable rise in the value of lands along the O. W. P. line to Portland in the last ten years is really amazing, but is only an indication of how land values will jump along the Clackamas Southern, as soon as that road gets in operation. In a few years single lots will bring the price asked for an acre today, and some people will "get-rich-quick" in an approved manner.

It is understood that already applications have been filed with the officials of the Clackamas Southern for every position of the company from Superintendent to section-boys.

Pretty soon the women folk will start making those rose bead chains.

Establishment for a model home for poor working girls in Portland is receiving consideration. This is indeed a serious question as wages are as a rule pitiful and seldom adequate for necessary living expenses. A poor girl looking for work will nearly always find better conditions existing in the smaller towns yet they deliberately pass up the little places to "live in the city."

Quite a scheme, this dollar down and a dollar a week plan to purchase a trip to the San Francisco fair with fare, hotel and all expenses paid.

The weather man predicted rain for yesterday—we'll give him one more guess.

SHEWMAN'S ENTERTAIN TUESDAY NIGHT CLUB

The Tuesday Night Bridge Club was entertained this week by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shewman at their home at Risley, and a most enjoyable evening was spent in bridge, the prizes being won by Mrs. Eber A. Chapman and M. D. Latourette. Refreshments were served. The home of the Shewmans was beautified with wild flowers, which were artistically arranged. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Eber A. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Mount, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lewthwaite, Mrs. A. L. Beattie, Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Latourette, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mulvey, Mr. and Mrs. Tyra Warren, Miss Cis Pratt.

MATTY TELLS ONE ON UMPIRE EMSLIE.

Veteran National League Umpire Bob Emslie is very sensitive about the lack of hair on top of his dome, and Christy Mathewson tells an amusing story in connection with it. Emslie was umpiring in New York one day, and the Giants were playing St. Louis. A wild pitch hit Emslie over the heart, and he wilted down, unconscious. The players gathered around him, and Bresnahan, who was catching for St. Louis at the time, started to help Bob. Suddenly the old umpire came to and started to fight off his first aid to the injured corps. No one could understand his attitude as he struggled to his feet and strolled away by himself, staggering a little and apparently dizzy. At last he came back and gamely finished the business of the day.

"I never knew why he fought with the men who were trying to help him until several weeks later, when we were playing in Pittsburgh," says Mathewson. "As I came out from under the stand Emslie happened to be making an entrance. "Say, Matty," he asked me, "that time in New York did my wig come off?" Did Bresnahan take my wig off? "No, Bob," I replied. "He was only trying to help you." "I thought maybe he took it off while I was out and showed me up before the crowd," he apologized.

"Listen, Bob," I said. "I don't believe there is a player in either league who would do that now, and if any youngster tried it he would probably be licked."

"I'm glad to hear you say that, Matty," answered the old man as he picked up his wind pad and prepared to go to work. And he called more bad ones on me that day than he ever had in his life before, but I never mentioned that wig."

PICKS UP ANOTHER WALSH.

Frank Chance Enthusiastic Over Young Pitcher Larry Cheney. The Chicago National league fans believe Manager Chance has discovered a second Ed Walsh in Spitalber Larry Cheney, who has shown up well this season. Among those who are loud in singing his praises is Johnny Evers. "This Cheney is a smart pitcher," he said. "Unless I miss my guess the Cubs are going to have an Ed Walsh in him. That's what we need—a Walsh. Give us one like the mighty southsider and we'll romp home with the pennant and the world's title."

"Cheney, though not quite as large as Walsh, has the same effective split ball and the same dazzling speed. His control is not quite as good as Walsh's, but that will come with experience. I think their deliveries are almost identical. They pitch with the same motion, wet, or fall to wet the ball in the same deceptive way and are almost in the same position when the ball leaves their hands for the plate. Cheney's splitter has as big a jump as Walsh's, and the batters miss just as far when Larry has it going right. Watch Cheney."

"It will be different from how on," said Wolgast. "If I whip Rivers July 4 I am going to do some red hot cash paining. I'll box McFarland, Wells, Brown, Mehegan and Mandot before next Christmas. These fights should bring me big money, and you bet I will save the coin. No more throwing away dollars for me."

"Rivers is a good boy, but I'll lick him, sure. I know all about his style. He is a fast and hard puncher, but none too speedy on his feet." Senate Titanic Committee Questioning J. Bruce Ismay

THE circumstances of the Titanic disaster are likely to be thoroughly inquired into on both sides of the Atlantic. The American investigation was begun in New York by a special United States senate committee the day after the arrival of the survivors and has been continued in Washington, while Lord Mersey, a distinguished admiralty lawyer, has been appointed chairman of the British commission to take testimony regarding the wreck and its causes. Naturally very great interest attached to the testimony given in New York and Washington by J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line, who was saved from the Titanic. Mr. Ismay (the second from the left in the photograph) testified at length before the senate committee, whose members are Senators Smith of Michigan, chairman; Perkins of California, Bourne of Oregon, Burton of Ohio, Fletcher of Florida, Simmons of North Carolina and Newlands of Nevada. The Washington sessions of the committee were held in the senate office building.

GRAIN MARKET IS AT STANDSTILL

The present situation in the grain trade is a nominal affair. There is nothing passing at present in either oats or wheat and prices are nominally continued at the previous price. There is not enough wheat remaining at any one center to cause a stir even though millers needed the supplies, which they claim they do not. The small offerings of oats recently have been entirely confined to growers who had completed seeding and had a little stock remaining. Even of this there was scarcely a sufficient amount to base a quotation. Flour market is giving an exhibition of strength for wheat even though wheat is sharply lower since the last rise in the ground product. Millers contend that with practically no market for export at present, wheat is too cheap. No efforts are being made at present to force an advance.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows: DRIED FRUITS—(Buying)—Prunes on basis of 6 to 8 cents. Fruits, Vegetables. HIDES—(Buying)—Green hides, 7c to 8c; salted 6c to 7c; dry hides 12c to 14c; sheep pelts, 25c to 75c each. Hay, Grain, Feed. EGGS—Oregon ranch eggs, 18c case count; 20c coned. SACK VEGETABLES—Carrots, HAY—(Buying)—Timothy, $12 to $15; clover, $8 to $9; oat hay, best, $10 to $11; mixed, $9 to $11; alfalfa, $15 to $16.50. OATS—(Buying)—$37.50 to $38.50 wheat $1 bu.; oil meal, selling $35; Shady Brook dairy feed, $1.30 per 100 pounds. FEED—(Selling)—Shorts, $28; bran $28; process barley, $41.50 per ton. FLOUR—$4.50 to $5.50. POTATOES—Best buying $1.00 to $1.40 according to quality per hundred. Butter, Poultry, Eggs. POULTRY—(Buying)—Hens 13c to 14c; spring, 17c to 20c, and roosters 8c. Sigs 11c.
