OHIO MAKES HIM WINNER, SAYS TAFT

PRESIDENT ASSERTS THAT HE HAS 30 MORE DELEGATES THAN IS NECESSARY

HARMON BEATS WILSON EASILY

Chief Executive Goes To New Jersey Today To Continue Fight Against Roosevelt—Race Is Close

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Asserting that he has 570 delegates to the Chicago convention, or 30 more than enough to assure him the nomination, President Taft today declared he was going to New Jersey "to make assurance doubly sure." He will leave Washington for Philadelphia tomorrow morning and make his first political speech at Camden.

The President's statement was issued after a day of activity at the White House. Political conferences with his managers and appointments with his Cabinet members were followed by a meeting of the full Cabinet, at which, the members admitted, the political situation was reviewed in detail.

"Our opponents quote from a statement of mine made in Cleveland that the fight in Ohio, my home state, much to my gratification, would be the decisive one," said the President in his statement, "and would settle the question of my nomination. This is true. I shall have at least 17 votes from Ohio, including the delegates-at-large, for we have every assurance that we control the state convention. This will constitute a clear majority in the National convention. In addition to the votes from Ohio, delegates elected for me from other states of which I have been advised since my Cleveland statement give me at the most conservative estimate 570 out of the 1078 votes in the National convention—30 more than necessary."

"I am going to New Jersey to take part in the coming campaign there, for the same reason that I went to Ohio, and such delegates as we may receive from New Jersey will thus make assurance doubly sure."

Early in the day, Director McKinley of the Taft headquarters, claimed at least 600 delegates for the President. The President's estimate, while smaller, was declared at the White House to represent "rock bottom" figures, which are expected to be increased materially. The claim to the six delegates-at-large in Ohio was made by the President after re-asserting messages from his Ohio managers.

ROOSEVELT AND WILSON LEAD

Taft Gets Less Than Third of Delegates in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 22.—Nearly complete returns from yesterday's Ohio president primary today indicate that Colonel Roosevelt won 32 of 42 delegates to the Republican National Convention, selected in 21 Congressional districts, and that President Taft was given ten district delegates or slightly less than a third of the total number named.

On the Democratic ticket Governor Harmon is believed to have won by a larger percentage than did Colonel Roosevelt, being credited with 25 district delegates, as against seven for Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey.

Although President Taft secured but 10 out of the 42 delegates, the Taft-Roosevelt fight in Ohio is not finished, but will be carried into the state Republican convention, which on June 3 will select six delegates-at-large to the National convention.

Of a total of less than 1000 delegates to the state convention, a large portion of whom also were named yesterday to sit in the state convention, nearly complete returns indicate that President Taft has nearly a sufficient number to control. This may give President Taft's managers the six delegates-at-large to be named by the state convention, and probably will make the President's total 16, just an even third of the Ohio delegation of 48 delegates, which will attend the Chicago convention.

Governor Harmon, on the Democratic ticket, unlike Colonel Roosevelt, will not be forced to make a further fight for delegates-at-large, as the Democratic call specifies that the winner of the Presidential preference primary shall name his own delegates-at-large.

Amplified returns in the Republican contest show that Senator La Follette polled a heavy vote in several counties, and it is possible that final results will show that he ran second to Colonel Roosevelt in a number of counties.

The Taft managers declared that this occurred only in Democratic counties, where Democrats voted the Republican ticket. W. J. Bryan and Speaker Champ Clark, although their names were not on the ballot, got a small fraction of the total vote cast, but it seems doubtful if the combined Bryan-Clark vote had any considerable result on the outcome of the Harmon-Wilson fight.

Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, has eight district delegates. Harmon has a large lead in the Presidential preference vote.

With the probability that there may be an increase as later returns come in it is estimated that Colonel Roosevelt has a plurality of approximately 20,000 over President Taft in the popularity contest, as expressed through the selection of the delegates to the National convention. Taft carried three entire districts, not including the seventh, which later was figured for him. There is a division in two.

PRESIDENTIAL RACE TEACHES LESSON

CONTESTANTS SHOULD PROFIT FROM EXAMPLE OF TAFT AND ROOSEVELT

GREAT MEN NEVER GIVE UP FIGHT

Person Who Once Convinces Himself He Cannot Lose Is Usually Successful Throughout Life

STANDING OF CANDIDATES

Ruby McCord	191,200
Joseph Sheahan	47,200
Kent Wilson	23,500
John Brown	15,000
John Weber	6,800
John Haleston	6,000
A. G. Kindler	7,200

In their efforts to win the Ohio delegation to the national Republican convention President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt fought to the last minute. The vote of that state at the Presidential preference primary which was held Tuesday, and at present appears to have been in favor of Colonel Roosevelt, may determine who is to be the next President of the greatest Republic and the greatest country the world has ever known.

Both of these great men, who for twenty years were the closest friends were fighting for principle. Each believed that what he stood for was right, and each did his best to win. Of course one had to lose, but the glory that success would bring, caused each to exert himself to the utmost.

That was a great struggle—one fraught with great importance to the candidates themselves but of far greater importance to the country. Neither Mr. Taft nor Mr. Roosevelt could have made such a determined fight, could have been so confident of success to the end if he had not had the right training in early life. It was the superior training in connection with natural ability that placed them in positions to be candidates for the highest office in the gift of a nation. Money did not count, social position did not count, the so-called "pull" did not count. What counted was what the men themselves had accomplished and what the sovereign people thought they would accomplish in the future.

SUFFRAGETTES GIVEN 9 MONTHS IN JAIL

LONDON, May 22.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lawrence, joint editors of "Votes for Women," were all found guilty at the Old Bailey Sessions today, and each was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment on the charge of conspiracy and inciting to malicious damage to property.

The jury in handing down its verdict of guilty, accompanied it with a recommendation that leniency be shown to the prisoners, and Justice Coleridge, in determining judgment, took this into consideration.

The charge of conspiracy was brought as a sequel to the window-smashing demonstration in London, March 12. Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was arrested for participating in the damage to property and was sentenced on March 22 to two months' imprisonment, with a number of other women.

It was while she was serving that term in jail that the charge of conspiracy was brought against her, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and Miss Crystal Pankhurst, the last of whom disappeared.

The two women in the dock were bathed in tears when the verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury. Mrs. Pankhurst clung to the edge of the prisoners' enclosure, trembling visibly, and pleaded to be treated as a first class misdemeanant.

Mrs. Lawrence raising both hands in the attitude of prayer, avowed she is utterly the phrase: "May God defend us, as our cause is just."

The prisoners were all sentenced to be confined in the second division, which does not involve hard labor.

The teachers, who have just closed a successful term of school at Willamette, are Professor J. R. Bowland, Mrs. Mary Critzer, Miss Belle Matley and Miss Genevieve Capen.

The remains of Mrs. Douthit were laid beside those of her father, A. F. Surtus, who died in May 1888.

BISHOPS ARE RAPPED BY BAKER RECTOR

PORTLAND, May 22, (Special).—Caustic criticism was heaped upon the bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church by Rev. J. N. Barry, of Baker, at this afternoon's session of the United Clerical in St. Mark's Parish House. Mr. Barry, who is an Episcopalian minister, complained that the bishops are answerable to nobody; that they observe the church laws or not as they see fit, and that it costs two-thirds as much to maintain the six missionary bishops on the Pacific Coast as it does to maintain all other missionaries combined, including the ordinary clergy and deserting parsonage questions. He charged that in at least one instance irregularities had been found in the accounts of a bishop.

JOHN R. DIMICK IS BURNED TO DEATH

BROTHER OF MAYOR PERISHES IN HOME ON RANCH NEAR AURORA

BLAZE STARTS WHILE HE IS AWAY

Theory Is That He Was Overcome By Smoke While Trying To Remove Effects From Building

John R. Dimick, brother of Grant B. Dimick, and one of the best known lawyers and farmers in the state was burned to death Wednesday morning at his home near Aurora. It is supposed that Mr. Dimick found his home ablaze upon returning from a visit to a neighbor, and perished while trying to save his effects. He and Miss Weatherford, of Olex Gilliam County, were to have been married June 6, and all arrangements for the wedding had been made.

The tragedy occurred seven months to the day after the death of Mr. Dimick's younger brother, Ralph, the noted Notre Dame University football player, who died in Portland after being injured in a football game. While delirious, as the result of the injury, Ralph Dimick jumped from a hospital window and ran several blocks before he was overtaken. He died soon after.

John R. Dimick left his home shortly before 10 o'clock telling John Taylor and Alwood Pratt, employed by him, that he was going to visit John Spinney, a neighbor, and would return soon. Taylor and Pratt went to work in a nearby field, and about 11 o'clock noticed that the house was ablaze. They hurried to it, but upon their arrival the building was enveloped in flames. They found several trunks and other furniture in the yard and surmised that Mr. Dimick had taken them out of the building and probably had perished in the flames. Persons from all parts of the neighborhood hurried to the scene and waited for the fire to burn itself out. It was found that Grant B. Dimick and his sister, Mrs. Nellie D. Fry, of Portland, were notified. Mrs. Fry came to this city and she and her brother went to Aurora in an automobile. Before their arrival the charred body had been found on a cot, which was near a window. It was evident that Mr. Dimick had been overcome by smoke and had fallen on the cot as he was trying to make his exit through the window. Coroner Wilson viewed the remains, which were taken to Aurora where the funeral will be held probably Friday.

John R. Dimick was a son of John B. Dimick, a Clackamas County pioneer, and celebrated his forty-fifth birthday May 9 last. Besides Grant B. Dimick he is survived by the following brothers: George A., of Hubbard; Augustus, formerly in the railroad business, but now a farmer of this county; and H. E. of Seaview, Wash. Ralph was the youngest member of the family.

Mr. Dimick graduated from Monmouth College in 1889 and the Salem Law School in 1904. He and John A. Carson practiced law together in Salem for about two years and later he and S. T. Richardson formed a partnership. Later he bought a ranch of 88 acres, and has since then devoted most of his time to farming, having been one of the most extensive growers of onion sets in the state. He sold about $5,000 sets from a small tract last year and intended to enter more extensively in the business this year. About two weeks ago Mr. Dimick came to this city to visit his brother, and it was then that he divulged his engagement to marry. He asked his brother to go with him to get the license and exacted a promise that he would attend the ceremony. Mr. Dimick's father who had lived in Hubbard for many years died
