M'GRAW WORKS HIS OWN SYSTEM

New York Manager Has Substitutes Equal of Regulars.

WINS WITHOUT HIS STARS.

Utility Men Show Up as Well as the Men They Replaced in Several Games—Team is Well Fortified in All Positions.

By TOMMY CLARR.

A short time ago a New York baseball critic exhibited much joy over the fact that the Giants did not have Bakers, Cobbs, Wagners, Lajoies or other stars of the infield or outfield. At the time it seemed that a commission on sanity should be appointed to examine the dome of the writer who penned such an idea. That was before the subject was given careful thought. Now we are willing to admit that it was pretty wise "dope" which the Gotham scribe handed out. Don't jump at conclusions, folks. Of course Johnny McGraw would grab Cobb, Baker, Wagner and Lajoie. He would immediately replace men who are regulars on the Giants now with any of the stars mentioned. The fact remains that McGraw does not have any of the four 300 batsmen and brilliant performers in all departments. Therefore McGraw has worked out a system of his own.

Larry Doyle is not only the regular second sacker of the New York team, but he is the captain. Yet when Larry was injured recently Shafer was placed at second and in batting and fielding did equally as good work as Captain Doyle. In other words, Doyle is not a star, and therefore it did not require a star to fill his shoes.

During that same period Fletcher, regarded as the regular shortstop, was hurt. Again McGraw was prepared. He had Groh, a young player, who filled in at short field. It was difficult to notice the difference.

Now, on the other hand, take Cobb away from Detroit and what is the result? Well, it has been pretty generally agreed that the Tigers have lost 25 per cent of their offensive powers. Some writers insist that Ty is 50 per cent of the attack. Mack is usually well fortified in substitute material, but either Collins or Baker is such a loss to the team that it is noticeable.

When a capable manager like McGraw can develop a team made up of rather mediocre material with substitutes for every position just about as good as the regulars he is better fortified than the manager who has a team built around three or four stars and no substitutes who can take the place of those stars when they are lost through injury or illness.

Phillies and himself probably robbed him of the pennant. This season the Jinx, hoodoo, voodoo, or what not, has been pursuing the team without rest. Recently there were eight members of the team out of the game at one time.

Oregon City, Ore., May 10, 1912. The soil and climatic conditions of Clackamas County relative to fruit raising and what can be accomplished by a greenhorn.

From 1889 till 1907—18 years, I had followed working at paper making, beginning when I was 16 years old, consequently I knew very little about anything pertaining to fruit growing or tilling the soil. But in the spring of 1907 I became imbued with the idea of becoming a fruit grower. I had read of what the people of Hood River were doing and how greenhorns had started and became successful growers and were earning a comfortable and independent living. I thought to myself, if other people can do these things so can I. In April, 1907, I purchased in Mt. Pleasant in that section known as the Warner tract, a 10.40 acre piece of land, which was partly cleared. The purchase price of this was $775 there was about 4 acres of this cleared and in crops. I cut the crop, which netted me $51.25, leaving the total cost of $723.75 for 10.40 acres or $69.59 per acre. We finished clearing some of the remaining 10 acres at a cost of about $40 to $50 per acre, using some of the wood which reduced this cost some. We then set 5 acres in orchard. Some of my neighbors talked discouragingly of an apple orchard in this locality, while some gave me great encouragement. I set 4 acres in apples and 1 acre in Lambert and Bing cherries. My knowledge of fruit growing was very limited as I said my life had been spent in the paper business, but I got books from the Corvallis College of Agriculture and began to be what they call a book farmer. A little later I purchased 7 acres, all cleared, adjoining me for $128.58 per acre. I spent every spare moment early and late looking after the trees, studying bulletins and the remainder of my time holding my job in the paper mill, which meant bread and butter to us. Some people said to me, "How long will you have to wait for that orchard to come into bearing." I answered, "Six or seven years" and they said who would want to wait six or seven years. Well, it is quite a while to wait but remember the old saying, "all things come to him who waits." We have kept digging away and in November, 1911, I refused $5000 or practically $300 per acre for the land I purchased in 1907 for $69.59 per acre.

I have two acres of it set to strawberries, from which I will reap a fair sum this year. My cherry trees, planted four years last November, and they are now more than 4 inches in diameter, and will yield a nice amount of fruit this year for young trees. My apple trees grew 5 feet last season and I have kept them cut well back each year, making a wood growth and not pruning for fruit. Consequently I have built a fine foundation for a tree and the result that a few are blooming this year, but will not be allowed to bear to any extent. The next season they will be allowed to fruit, and from that time on I expect to be reaping the result from by hard labor.

Last year I had less than one-quarter acre in strawberries, which yielded $55 in fruit and about $40 or $50 in new plants. Most any of the land in Clackamas is well adapted to fruit growing, especially that section where the ground is a little rolling, so that there is a good drainage for the roots. Fruit does especially well around Oregon City and from there east to the foothills of the Cascade range there is no better fruit land in the State of Oregon. The Garfield Country and all that section around Colton is fine fruit land and it is only a question of time till all this county will be developed with Electric railroads and this whole country now lying dormant and covered with tall timber will be cleared.

Anyone in Clackamas County who has not visited either the Garfield or Colton districts for the past five years, go to that country and you will see some remarkable improvements. The country around Oregon City, while it has no advantages over the rest of the county in climatic or soil conditions in the growing of fruit, its conditions are equally as good, but the natural waterways for shipping facilities are here and cannot be changed. We have two steamboat lines, also the S. P. Ry. and one Electric Line, by which we can ship and another Electric Line is now building to Portland, which will afford another means of shipping. My advise to every young man is to get busy, get a piece of fruit land somewhere in Clackamas County and go to developing it. S. O. DILLMAN.

CUBAN NEGROES ARE URGED TO MASSACRE

HAVANA, Cuba, May 22.—The situation is rapidly growing more serious, reports from Santiago show. It is now estimated that over 5000 negroes have taken up arms in the province of Oriente alone. To assist in the movement to surround the negro insurgents, further reinforcements, two companies of infantry and two batteries of artillery, entrained here today for Oriente. The government troops already in that district number more than 1200 men. The negroes, under General Evaristo Estenose and General Iveton are operating at El Cobre, El Cobre and San Luis, in the vicinity of Santiago. While the situation, arising from the racial revolutionary movement, is unquestionably serious and apparently growing more dangerous, the reticence of the government renders impossible a precise determination of its gravity. The only thing absolutely certain is that a condition of insurgency exists among the negroes of Matanzas, Santa Clara and Oriente provinces, especially in Oriente, and that the government is straining every nerve to stamp out the rebellion. The new Cruiser Cuba had hardly anchored here before she received orders to take aboard 600 infantry and artillery and proceed to Guantanamo. The Secretary of the Interior, Senor Aruna, said the report alleging there were 2000 insurgents in Oriente was greatly exaggerated. The American minister, Arthur M. Beaupre, visited Secretary of State Sangulley to demand protection for the property of the Jurume Iron Company, on which a band of insurgents under Iveton is reported to be committing depredations. The Secretary gave assurance of protection. Mounted patrols guard all the roads approaching the capital, and all police reserves are kept at station-house. It is reported, but without confirmation, that Colonel Armentoux, who has been operating in Santa Clara and threatening to destroy all foreign property, has been killed. A serious feature of the situation in Oriente province is the presence of many Haytian negroes, who are reported to be inflaming the Cuban negroes by citing the example of the Haytians in exterminating the whites in their country and urging the establishment of a black republic in the eastern end of Cuba. It is reported that several schooners from Hayti have landed cargoes of arms. General Iveton recently received $10,000 in payment for his services as General during the revolution. It is believed he is using this to purchase arms for the present rising. Two American citizens, Floyd Schick and Joseph E. Ryan, have complained to Ross S. Holiday, American consul at Santiago, of being assaulted and robbed by armed negroes while on their way to Siboney.

ELMER ROWAN GIVEN BIRTHDAY PARTY. A party was tendered Elmer Rowan at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowan, of Bolton, Saturday afternoon, the occasion being the celebration of his thirteenth birthday, and a most delightful time was had by the young folk in attendance. Elmer was a delightful host. Games and music were enjoyed in the grove near the Rowan home. A graphophone was taken to the grove, and many of the latest musical selections were rendered. The guests were Miss Ruth Shaw, Zora McDonald, Sam Shaw, Agnes Gray, Zola McDonald, Jack Gray, Mabel Rowan, Elmer Rowan.

TWILIGHT ACTORS DELIGHT BIG CROWD. The play given at Twilight Hall Saturday evening by the Twilight Community Club was well attended by the home people as well as from Mt. Pleasant and New Era. The play entitled "Hans Von Smash," was rendered exceptionally well with probably Miss Marie Harvey starring for the women and George Lazelle, playing the part of the proprietor of the farm, carrying out his role the best among the men. In fact all of the parts were well rendered and especially fine were Charles Schmeidecke as Hans, the leading comedy part and Mrs. Charles Schmeidecke who was the Irish girl. Miss Vera Camp was quite at home in representing a pleasant young lady of ability and Messrs. Bert Harvey and James Lazelle having had actual experience on the road with a stock company, of course made all possible out of their parts. Miss Jesse McDonald who had the play in charge deserves much credit for the way it was handled. Another play is planned for the coming Fall as Twilight has a good theatre with a modern stage and equipment and also has experienced actors and an orchestra. Watch the automobile contest.
