DARROW PAINTED AS CORRUPTIONIST

TRIAL OF FAMOUS LABOR LAW-YER IS STARTED IN LOS ANGELES

DEFENSE SCORES PROSECUTION

Attorney Is Accused of Having Used
Money Lavishly At Trial
Of Self-Confessed
Dynamiters

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Accused in the opening statement of the Chief Prosecutor of wholesale corruption of jurors and witnesses, Clarence S. Darrow, labor lawyer, author and philosopher, on an indictment charging attempted bribery of a juror in the McNamara case, faced actual trial this afternoon. It required only a brief time after the beginning of the afternoon session to accept A. M. Blakesley as the 13th or alternate juror. More than two entire days were consumed in getting the extra juror.

Following the opening address to the jury George E. Monroe, clerk in Judge Bordwell's court, where the McNamara brothers pleaded guilty, was called as the first witness for the prosecution. Monroe still was on the stand when the court adjourned until tomorrow morning.

District Attorney Fredericks mentioned in his opening address other alleged offenses on the part of Darrow, which brought vigorous objections from the defense.

Without ruling on the admissibility of evidence purporting to prove allegations outside of those contained in the indictment, Judge Hutton allowed the District Attorney to continue.

The indictment alleges that Darrow bribed George N. Lockwood, who was drawn as a juror in the trial of J. B. McNamara for murder in connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building.

"Two weeks before the date of the indictment," said Mr. Fredericks, "Bert H. Franklin, then employed as a detective by Darrow, went to Lockwood and offered him a certain amount if he would vote not guilty, provided he were drawn as a juror."

"We will show that Franklin did this at the instance and request and under the direction of the defendant," Lockwood, according to the prosecutor's statement, then reported the incident to the District Attorney's office and was told to continue his negotiations with the agents of the McNamara defense. When Lockwood's name was drawn, he said, Franklin again appeared at his house and offered to pay him $500 down and $5000 additional after he had voted "not guilty."

The time to read the Morning Enterprise is at the breakfast table or a little before.

The advance man of a big circus, which will soon come to town, visited the Enterprise office Friday night. His name is John D. Carey, and an hour's conversation with him is worth while. Mr. Carey is an old time newspaper man, and an old time circus man. He was a reporter on the New York Sun when Charles A. Dana was writing his immitable editorials, when Chester Lord, for many years Managing Editor of the New York Sun, was receiving $15 a week as cub reporter. He knew and worked with all the old stars in the big town, such as Hamilton Marshall, "Jersey" Chamberlain, "Gym" Bagley, Joseph Eakin and Joffa Gilmer Speed. And then when he quit the newspaper business for "the road" Mr. Carey became associated with such star "advance men" as "Toady" Hamilton. And what man who has been in the newspaper business for twenty years or more does not remember the genial, jovial "Toady" Hamilton? He was the fellow who came around every year just before the appearance of the circus and handed the city editor 100 complimentary tickets to the "big show" and you can bet your boots the city editor saw that neatly "reading matter" about the "big show" got in the paper, and not one of those "free" tickets was given to anyone but a worker on that particular paper or a member of one of the worker's family.

Those were good old newspaper days, and good old circus days, and Mr. Carey's coming around again, though he is still young, hale and hearty, albeit retaining that old "way about him" that endeared the advance man of the circus to the newspaper men of a generation ago, takes one out of a rut and leads to joyous things in the retrospective.

His enthusiasm, his absolute certainty that the show he represents is the best in the world, his confidence that Oregon City and Clackamas County will turn out en masse to witness the "dazzling, bewildering, world famous show with its astounding feats of daring and unparalleled hipdroms" is enough to put new life into even the man with the shadows lengthening behind him.

The Contest Manager was impressed by this man, and it occurred to him if the candidates in the great automobile race could see and know John D. Carey, veteran newspaper and circus man, and could imbibe just a bit of his enthusiasm there would be such a contest as was never known in Oregon before. And Mr. Carey's success has been due entirely to an enthusiastic desire to work, which has resulted in work well done.

OROZCO WOUNDED, AT HEAD OF RETREAT

EL PASO, Texas, May 24.—Although suffering from a painful wound in the leg, received in his disastrous battle with General Huerta's federal troops, in which the revolutionary loss is placed at close to 10,000 men. General Pascual Orozco, commander in chief of the Mexican rebel army, today personally directed the retreat of his forces toward Jimenez. There the rebel chieftan plans to make a final effort to halt the advancing federals, and turn the tide of defeat which yesterday swept the rebels in confusion out of Rehan.

General Orozco narrowly escaped death in yesterday's battle. While giving orders on the firing line a shell burst and instantly killed one of his staff officers standing near a fragment of the shell struck the rebel general in the left leg, inflicting a painful wound.

A few minutes later the enemy's artillery started pouring a raking fire into the rebel ranks, and the revolutionists, unable to withstand the hail of shells, retired to Corralitos. At daybreak the army continued to Jimenez, where the rebels plan to make another stand.

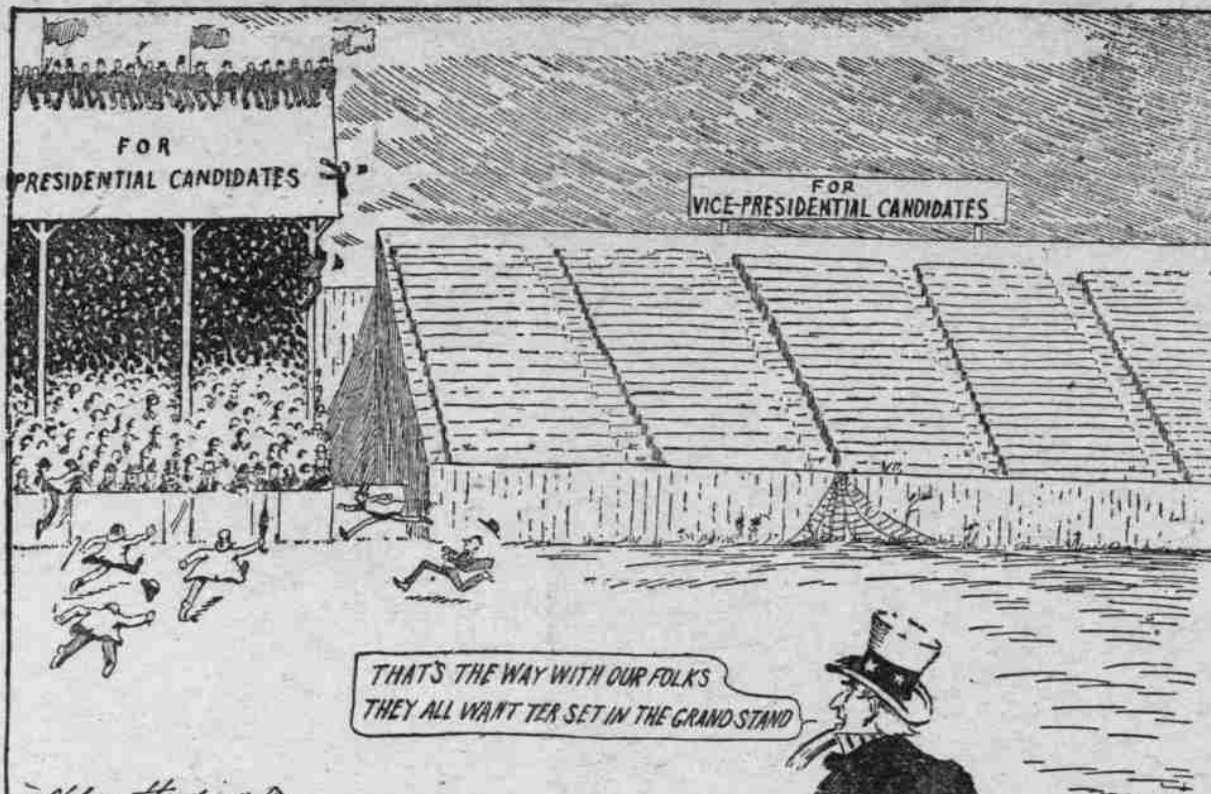

Rebel leaders at Juarez admitted today that General Orozco was disastrously defeated at Rehan. Orozco however, is strictly censoring messages, and few details of the rebel casualties are permitted to leak out.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE BLEACHERS?

REHEARING DENIED IN TAYLOR DIVORCE CASE

Circuit Judge Eakin Friday overruled the motion of Charles Davenport Taylor, the millionaire miner, for a rehearing of the motion to have the order annulling the marriage of the plaintiff and Minnie E. Taylor set aside. Arguments for a rehearing were made by George C. Brownell and John F. Logan. Feigel & Reynolds appeared for the defendant. Judge Eakin gave the plaintiff twenty days in which to file affidavits in answer to those of the defendant, who asks for $2,500 monthly alimony, $5,000 attorneys' fees and costs during the pendency of the suit. An order annulling the marriage was made about a year ago, but on motion of the defendant the order was set aside. She alleged that she had not been served with summons although they were published in a local paper a copy of which was mailed by the sheriff to Mrs. Taylor's address. Judge Eakin announced that the defendant would be allowed twenty days to file court affidavits to those of the plaintiff.

FIR GROVE SCHOOL HAS FINE PICNIC

The Fir Grove school closed Friday afternoon with a picnic held in the grove near the schoolhouse, which was a most delightful affair. All the patrons and friends of the school attended. Among the features was the raising of a flag, which was presented to the school by the residents of the neighborhood. As the flag was being raised an address was made by George C. Armstrong, one of the well known residents of Redland. Another interesting feature was the excellent musical and literary program given by the pupils, the numbers on the program being well carried out. It was in charge of Miss Rosella Jones, of Sodalville, who has been teacher of the district for two terms, each term being of eight months duration. One of the impressive ceremonies of the day was the presentation of a handsome gold watch charm to the teacher by the school children. The children formed a circle, each pupil having a bouquet of roses and Miss Jones was given a shower of roses, after which the charm was presented the presentation speech being made by Miss Annabelle Leach. There are about thirty-five pupils attending the Fir Grove school, and the school term just closed has been a most successful one. The Fall term will commence in September.

DOG, HIT BY TRAIN ON TRESTLE, LIVES

"Ted," the three-year-old dog of Henry Vonderabe had a narrow escape from death Friday morning on the Southern Pacific railroad tracks. The dog started from the Abernethy on the trestle when a north-bound train appeared running at a rapid rate. The dog was struck, but remained on the trestle, and was found a few minutes after by Fred Hoge, manager of the hardware department of Frank Busch's store, and was carried up the track. He was met by A. Buckles, who was notified by Mrs. Cadel, who resides near Thirteenth street, she thinking it Mr. Buckles' Spitz dog. The dog was turned over to Mr. Buckles, who took it to his home to bind its injured foot. Mr. Buckles had gone into his house for bandages, and upon his return the dog was gone. It had started home but upon reaching the head of Eleventh and Washington streets was unable proceed further when James Rozke carried it to his home on Eleventh and Jefferson streets. E. G. Canfield and Miss Nieta McCarger, officers of the Clackamas County Humane Society, were notified, and they found the owner. The dog will recover the use of its leg.

Policeman Serving Notice On Property Owners To Erect Wall When Lad Is Hurt—Mother
Out Of City

Wilbur Criswell, seven years of age, narrowly escaped being killed Friday at noon when a large rock, falling from an embankment struck him on the head at Eleventh and Washington streets. The boy's head was severely cut and bruised and for a time it was thought that the injury might prove fatal. He was carried into the Harcourt school where a trained nurse dressed the injury.

A deep cut was recently made at Eleventh and Washington streets, and large rocks protrude from the embankment above. The danger to pedestrians has been discussed at the meetings of the city council and Policeman French was recently instructed to inform the property owners that they must erect retaining walls. The policeman had hardly finished notifying them when the rock, which weighed at least eight pounds, rolled down the hill on the lad. Policeman French assisted in dressing the boy's injury.

Mrs. Criswell is in Prineville where she went to attend the school exercises, her oldest son being a participant in the exercises. She will return home today. Wilbur Criswell was left with Mrs. Albert Ford, a neighbor.
