CLACKAMAS COUNTY ROADS

There are a number of introductory bumps in the road where you leave the old roads of Multnomah County and enter Clackamas on the East side road, and while the road in Clackamas county is fair, it is badly in need of repair at many points.

At Harmony some work was done some time ago but the road was left in very bad condition, being almost impassable after a hard rain. What has become of the movement to have our main trunk roads fixed? An offer of $50 was recently made by a Portland auto enthusiast. It would seem that many times that amount would willingly be subscribed if the County Court feels the county cannot afford this luxury, if we may term it such.

MR. U'REN AND THE SWEDE

The Grange by a vote of 90 to 5 adopted a resolution scoring single tax and slapping our U'Ren and this after a forty minutes speech by U'Ren himself. There is an old saying that no preacher ever saved a soul with longer than a twenty minute sermon. Can it be that Mr. U'Ren was like the Swedish bachelor, who after asking a young woman to marry him, sat a long time in silence, and in answer to the young ladies' question, "Why don't you talk?" said, "I have already said too much."

OREGONS' NEW CONSTITUTION

When referring to the proposed

The Gentleman in New Jersey Is Correct—Little Scoop Agrees With Him

U'Ren measures at a meeting of the Portland Ad Club Wednesday Mr. C. K. Henry said in part: "People are not going to come to a state where things are unsettled by the experimental laws proposed by a dreamer. We are trying to settle Oregon and to bring more people here."

Evidently the new plan is not being received with the expected favor claimed by its friends.

The Enterprise would like to see a calm in law making after correcting a few of our present existing evils and see what effect it has on our growth.

The plans for the new library have been passed upon and we will soon see the dirt fly, material unloaded on the grounds, workmen doing their duty and before Fall a handsome building in which to house our books and other reading matter.

The library association and Oregon City's people at large are to be congratulated upon the result of their great undertaking.

An article in this paper Friday morning signed by "A Boy" is the right word at the right time in the right place. Boys get busy. Stand your fathers and uncles up in the corner and make them promise to provide the place you all need—A Playground.

Live Wirelets

(By Edgar Bates.)

Those domestic science girls ought to have a walk-away in the Enterprise menu contest.

And now a baby show is planned as a part of the Bargain Day festivities and in spite of strong counter attractions the "little ones" will attract a big crowd.

A chap in California wants to start a cat ranch and needs 10,000 felines. We can spare quite a few from Oregon City.

The performance of the county students who recently took the state eighth grade examinations certainly puts one over Marion county's record.

Governor West apparently wants to "fix" the salaries of all the different county officials in the state. Let good enough alone.

In Eugene it is now necessary to secure a permit from the mayor to speak on the city's street. We are not bothered with "soap box orators" yet but it is always best to "lock the barn before the horse is stolen."

From the newspaper reports one would believe that the nation was facing a great crisis. But don't worry, there are plenty of college graduates who in a couple of years, will give plenty of ree advice on how to run the government etc.

Conditions in San Diego make us wonder if conditions in the near future in the California town are not adequately described in Jack London's "Iron Heel."

It is hoped that the news of Carnegie penitoning his maid with $500 a year will improve the local state of affairs along this line.

Plan to go in and welcome the new Publicity Secretary next week. Let him know and feel that you are back of him in his great work and will give him your hearty support. The position is not an easy one, but it will help some to know that you are interested in the future of Oregon City and Clackamas County.

'Tis about time for some more of those "canned" campaign speeches, both disc and cylinder.

Have you sent for your Burbank book?

What's wrong here? Oregon timber is cut into logs, shipped east and then made into sectional book cases, desks, furniture and then shipped out again and sold to Oregon consumers.

A few words to the "Boy"—Your letter touched upon a timely topic, and one that certainly merits serious consideration. But you don't need to "poke the councilmen." Every one of these men have the interests of the boys and young men at heart and they only too well realize that local conditions are far from ideal for the men of the next decade. It was a wise move on the part of the councilmen to place all three propositions, the elevator project, the public dock and the public playground movement all in the same clause on the ballot which comes up at the special election in July. It was feared that if these measures were to be voted on separately, the public playground measure would lose out, hence the bunching of the three bills.

We admit that every other town around us, and most of them smaller, than ours, have ball teams which are supporting in a financial way. That Oregon City should have a ball team adequate grounds and the backing of the citizens goes without saying. Now the good things of this world don't come to people, they must get out and hustle for them. To get the people to support a team, organize yourselves, do what you can with what you have, get the boys united in a movement to sweep the public playground bill (with the other measures in the same clause) to victory, and you will then have your grounds. Then you can get to work, turn out a winning team and public support will come fast enough. Edgar Bates is with you to a "fare-yew-ell."

Not to Be Done. "This boy is a bad egg, sir." "Then I suppose it is of no use to try to whip him." Baltimore American

Three Methods of Derision. There are very few allusions to storks in Latin authors, but one of these is interesting. The birds have a curious custom of snapping their bills, making quite a sharp noise. Young and old birds, both during and after the breeding season, constantly do this. In the writings of Persius there is a reference to this habit. "There are," he says, "three favorite ways of deriding a man—by putting the hands beside the head like asses' ears, by putting out the tongue like a dog and snapping the fingers against the palm of the hand like a stork's bill." The first two methods of mockery are plain, but what was the cause of the last?—Notes and Queries.

Temple of Diana. The famous temple of Diana was built at Ephesus in 562 B. C. by the common fund of all the Greek states of Asia. Piny says that 220 years were spent in erecting it. It was set on fire to 256 B. C. and again rebuilt and was finally destroyed by the Goths about 256 A. D. The ruins of the famous temple, after serving as a quarry for the surrounding region for a long time, were finally discovered by Mr. Wood in 1869. The temple of Diana was 425 feet long, 225 feet wide and was supported by 127 columns sixty feet high, each weighing 150 tons. The marble of the columns was of the pure Parian variety.

Village of Organ Grinders. In Italy one of the most astonishing sights offered to the tourist is a village of retired organ grinders, all speaking English with an Italian accent. They have all made their money in England or this country and have returned to spend the remainder of their lives with their families. The majority have kept their organs as mementos, and on fair evenings the stranger is entertained with familiar airs of all countries on the globe—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Ganong, one of the prominent Oregon pioneers, who crossed the plains in 1849, was taken by surprise at her home near Canemah Thursday afternoon, the occasion being her seventy-first birthday. Several of her most intimate friends of Portland, were among the guests. The party arrived at the Ganong home about 2 o'clock. Mrs. Ganong of course gave them permission to take possession of her home, which they merrily did. One of the features was the delicious repast served from the prettily decorated table, the decorations being of pink carnations and asparagus ferns. The hostess was assisted in entertaining by her two daughters, Mrs. H. S. Mount and Mrs. Anna Howard.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Ganong were Mrs. C. A. Coburn, Mr. and Mrs. John Shattuck, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sally, Miss Anna Sally, all of Portland; Mrs. Anna Howard, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ganong, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Mount, Hugh Mount, Jr.
