DESIGNED FOR SUMMER USE A distracting beautiful coat is this which will serve for many occasions during the summer months for evening strolls on the board-walk or for wear over dainty dancing frocks it will be equally pretty. This may be made up in either silk or wool material. It has a shawl collar of black satin, the coat and sleeves are cut in one, the latter finished with a broad tasse-trimmed cuff of lace. The front of the garment is cut-a-way, closing with two jeweled buttons. A broad band of lace down the center of the back catches up the coat material, draping it in most graceful folds.

IN SILK ATTIRE.

Charming Costume of Lace and Taffeta.

LINGERIE FROCK WITH SILK COAT.

The lingerie frocks of high degree have adorable little taffeta coats, which make them very dressy for afternoon occasions.

The model illustrated of venise lace and cream net has a coat of green shot taffeta trimmed with white ball buttons, and the upper bodice of net has long sleeves of green taffeta.

THE NO GLOVE MOVEMENT.

Rings With Large Settings Responsible For Change.

There is an old saying that a French woman dons her gloves in the privacy of her boudoir, an Englishwoman while coming down the stairs, and the American tugs on her gloves when halfway down the street. And if this is so it would appear as though for once the Parisians are imitating their American contemporaries.

The no glove fashion is particularly noticeable in Paris, where many smart women are carrying their gloves in their hands instead of putting them on. The gloves they carry are exceedingly fine suede ones in beautiful tints of biscuit, ecru and tan.

For some little time past women have been flouting the old inexorable law that the hands should be covered in the evening, and at the theaters and the less ceremonious parties the wearing of gloves has been on the decrease.

There is also a new liking for duck's foot yellow gloves, which several years ago were exceedingly modish. These are worn for morning walks.

The reason assigned for the no glove movement is the fact that rings with very large gem settings are fashionable, and nuffs are exceedingly popular. It is customary to take to the theater a large muff, in which the hands are buried. But the gloves must be there, too, loosely carried in the hands after the manner affected by men.

Crepe de Chine Underwear.

Each year the return of summer brings us something new in the way of undergarments. This year's innovation is to be crepe de chine, and there is no doubt that it will be exceedingly cool and comfortable. We will find all our old favorites developed in this material, combinations, princess slips and nightgowns, and they will all be glorified. Pink is the favorite color, though garments are found in all the delicate shades, while the more elaborate affairs, and likewise the more expensive, are decorated with flowers, rosettes and wreaths made of chiffon and ribbon.

The more simple and practical garments are lace trimmed, cluny being the favorite, as it is on the fine under-mustins, though Irish edging and ribbon are used.

FAIRFAX CLUB HAS DELIGHTFUL MEETING

Mrs. A. B. Wilmot entertained the members of the Fairfax Club at her home on Third and High streets, Monday evening at bridge. The prize, a Fairfax spoon, was won by Mrs. E. T. Avison. The decorations of Mrs. Wilmot's home were very pretty, roses being used in profusion in the living and dining rooms. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. E. T. Avison.

Mrs. Wilmot's guests were Mrs. J. J. Tobin, Mrs. C. W. Evans, Mrs. Elizabeth Fox, Mrs. Rosina Fouts, Mrs. C. D. Latourette, Mrs. W. R. Ellis, Mrs. Lena Charman, Mrs. E. T. Avison, Mrs. H. P. Brightbill, Mrs. E. T. Fields, Miss Thompson.

Changed His Tune.

Consensus for a man charged with pocket picking pointed with such earnest and pathetic eloquence as to move the court almost to tears. Even the prisoner was rubbing his eyes, using a silk handkerchief for the purpose. Counsel, happening to glance in the prisoner's direction, stopped abruptly and then exclaimed, "Why, the rascal is using my handkerchief!"

Personal.

"Do you really maintain that there exist dogs who are more intelligent than their masters?"

"Certainly. Such clever animals are rare, but I've got a pointer—what are all you chaps laughing about?"

CORRESPONDENCE

MARQUAM.

A number of bars are to be built near here this summer. Mr. Chas. McRobert, Honz Olson and S. G. Nicholson are preparing to build. The new barber shop begins to loom up. The Borth Brothers are doing the work.

The prune and pear crops are almost a complete failure in this country, but there will be an abundant supply of apples and cherries. News has just reached here that Harvey Dart, of Scots Mills was found lying in the road unconscious with his skull fractured. He was hurried to a Salem hospital. The doctors say there is doubt of his recovery. It is thought he was thrown from his wagon and injured.

STAFFORD.

The wished-for rain came gently refreshing the thirsty fields. Most of the people have late gardens this year.

A young fellow who came on the last transport from the Philippine Islands, where he has been for the past seven years teaching school a portion of the time to the young and rising generation, has been at work for Mr. Gage.

Mr. Hebbardt, with Amos Mays as helper, has begun the building of a fine barn for Henry Baker. Henry had the misfortune to shave a piece off the fleshy part of his thumb a few days ago, which almost lays him up.

Mrs. Gertrude Ellingsen seems to be giving general satisfaction at the new switchboard.

Mrs. Gage has her widowed granddaughter, Mrs. Ray, staying with her until she entirely recovers from the siege of grip she has been having. Her voice has not entirely come back to her; otherwise she is gaining in strength every day and will soon be enjoying her usual good health.

Mrs. Mays has rented her home in Willamette and moved to Frog Pond in Smith Turner's house. Old neighbors are glad to welcome the family back. Mrs. Mays is one of Mrs. Sharp's daughters.

Mrs. Brink has not been very well for the last two months.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schatz are taking their journey back to the old Dakota home by easy stages, stopping off to visit friends at various places in Washington as they go. Miss Susie is home to keep house while they are gone.

Mrs. Fred Oldenstadt continues to be quite poorly. She has been under the doctor's care for a long time.

Arden Gage spent Wednesday night and Thursday with his parents at this place. The Stafford school closes Friday of this week. Mrs. Marion Young was calling through the neighborhood last week in the interest of the Juvenile Fair, to be held in Wilsonville the last of August.

LOGAN.

Rev. E. A. Smith will preach at the church hereafter on the fourth Sunday instead of the third, as formerly.

D. F. Whiteman has been carrying mail by auto this week, but Monday got as far as Logan and something broke, then it was a case of "shank's horse" in the mud and rain, as far as Arthur's Prairie, when Mr. Howard took him the rest of the way in his buggy.

There was some excitement Sunday caused by an auto going over the bank near the Baker Bridge on the Clackamas, one member of the party was so seriously injured that an ambulance was called to take the injured one to the hospital. The river road is too narrow for autos and teams to pass in most places. The high bank on one side and river on the other make it unsafe for teams meeting autos.

Quite a number of Loganites attended the picnic at Eagle Creek Saturday and had a most enjoyable time. The Eagle Creek people have an ideal spot for a picnic. The hall being in a beautiful cedar grove. A good dinner was served, good time had and a good program rendered.

What's the matter with the Logan nine? The Weonas wore the laurels Sunday, 18 to 3.

Damascus boys defeated the second nine 12 to 6 in the forenoon.

H. N. Hageman has a force of men improving his dam site on the Clackamas.

FIRWOOD.

About eighty-five persons attended the social at Firwood Hall Saturday evening. The taffy pull was the sources of much merriment, as every one was on the alert either trying to snatch their neighbor's taffy or watching their own to prevent it from being taken. Some had large pieces while others lost all they had. It takes a taffy pull to wear off reserve. Much credit is due Victor Bodley for the making of the taffy, which was first class in every respect.

The drama acted by Lea Morrison, A. J. Morrison, Harry Morrison, Victor Bodley and George Roberts was very well acted and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. M. M. Reed recited a very touching piece in a most effective manner. The Misses Iva Reed and Alice Burkhouse also had interesting recitations. Miss Myrtle Muir, of Sandy, gave a musical selection. Birch Roberts, Donald Bodley and Lloyd Corey furnished music on banjo and violins during the entire evening, keeping things lively.

Miss Mena Frey came out from Portland Saturday to attend the social and visited over Sunday with Marie Kienleka.

The Misses Anna Bachman and Myrtle Muir of Sandy, attended the social and spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. W. F. Fisher.

SHUEBEL.

The crops are looking good, but a shower of rain is greatly needed.

Born, to the wife of Herman Moehneke, a girl; mother and child are doing well.

Mrs. Ray Douglas, of Barton, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Moehneke.

Mr. Swope, one of Shuebel's farmers is in the hospital. We hope to see him home soon.

Hugo Hansen, one of Shuebel's young men, made a business trip to Portland last week.
