A certain city in England sent a depatation to Charles II., who was very Ill, soliciting some favor. The orator, without any mercy for the sick man, made a long tedious discourse. "Have you anything more to say?" asked the BEEF-(Live Weight)-Steers, 51/2 merry monarch impatiently. "Nothing," replied the orator, "except that if you do not grant our request I am instructed to recite my speech over again." Charles ordered that all his demands should be freely and instantaneously complied with.
