This is their first visit in Oregon City, and all were much impressed with the scenery, and were shown the beauties of the town before their return home. Walter Wentworth, who was called to Plainview, Minn., about six weeks ago on account of the serious illness of his mother, has returned to his home in Oregon City. Mrs. S. C. Mohler, sister of Mr. Wentworth, who accompanied him East to the mother's bedside, will remain in Minnesota the remainder of the summer. The condition of Mrs. Wentworth is unchanged, although she has suffered from two attacks of paralysis.

Loose Flesh Beneath the Chin. When a person is naturally stout and the flesh is healthy and firm the wisest plan is not to meddle with nature. She intended you to be as you are, and so to leave well enough alone is best. However, if the flesh under the chin is soft and loose persistent treatment will make it firmer. To about four ounces of alcohol add a half teaspoonful of powdered alum. The chin should be bandaged with cotton or soft cloths, wet with this solution several times daily. As little warm water as possible should be used on a soft chin, and whenever it is used plenty of cold applications should follow. It should always be remembered that heat has the tendency to soften, while cold will harden and make firm. Carelessness is one great reason why many girls and women have loose, baggy flesh. In cleansing the skin no doubt they work well, but if the weather is the least bit raw or chilly they feel too cold to rinse the skin properly, which should be done several times with cold water. Failure to give the skin this all important tonic soon causes it to become relaxed, soft and loose. Little ice bags may be laid or bandaged on loose flesh to help in the process of hardening, and if made after the following directions the extreme cold will be prevented from coming in contact with the skin, and only the cooled air will be felt: Make a bag of two thicknesses of flannel the desired size, then a bag of oiled silk to fit over the flannel one; then fill the flannel bag with cracked ice and close it by tying or any other convenient way. Lay the little bag with the oiled silk next to the flesh and bandage on firmly to hold in place. The cold air will penetrate the flesh without the severe icy feeling. The flannel is responsible for this, while the oiled silk prevents the clothing from becoming wet. Although the ice will keep for some time in the little bags if made as directed, they may be changed and refilled frequently if desired.

Milady's Mirror

Health and Beauty. Avoid eccentric shaping of the nails. Accented points and a high polish are considered evidences of ill breeding. Conservative shapes and polish are best. Violet water is almost an indispensable article of the toilet on some daily dressing tables. A good recipe for the fragrant and cooling luxury is: Essence of violet, four ounces; essence of cassia, one and one-half ounces; essence of rose, one and one-half ounces; deodorized alcohol, two pints. This will be found fully as good as that on sale in the shops, and considerably less expensive. A girl who for some time had suffered extreme annoyance from cold feet tried the following with splendid effect: Every morning she rubbed the feet with handfuls of wet salt until the skin was in a glow, rinsing off the salt with cool water and rubbing with a coarse towel. A piece of paper cut to fit the bottom of the foot was slipped over the sole and the stocking carefully drawn on. Green liquid soap, which is recommended by skin specialists for the skins or for those which have the pores extended, can be made at home. Take equal parts of glycerin, water, alcohol and green castile soap. Shake the soap into the water and stir over the fire till the mixture is smooth. Add the glycerin and, lastly, after the kettle is removed from the fire, the alcohol. Add a teaspoonful of eau de cologne, if perfume is desired. Touch the fever blisters with camphor.

Why We Walk in Our Sleep. The reason many persons walk in their sleep is because one part of the mind is wide awake when the other is asleep. But the curious thing about sleepwalking is that just because the walker is asleep and not conscious he can walk over dangerous spots which would probably cause him to fall through nervousness if he were wide awake. But as he is not awake and not conscious he generally walks safely and remembers nothing about it. So it is easy to see why it is dangerous to wake a sleepwalker while he is walking along a precipice or in some other dangerous position.—Kansas City Times.

BIG WILD WEST SHOW TO BE HERE TODAY

The big 101 Ranch Wild West Show will give two performances in this city today—at 2 P. M. and at 8 P. M. There will be a typical overland trail and big street parade in the morning. With the show will be a full company of the Mexican insurrectos who have been carrying on the war against the Madero government of Mexico. While the greater part of the difficulty between the Mexican government and the insurrectos has been adjusted and the opportunity of seeing the men who were among those who waged the war will be one that all will take advantage of. Aside from the fact that these men are insurrectos and the fierceness with which they fought almost made them objects of admiration they possess many natural accomplishments that appeal to lovers of amusement. As horsemen they are almost as equally proficient as the American cowboy but their style of riding is much different. They have no regard for their horse and their cruelty is so pronounced that it would make a cowboy's blood boil to witness. They are held in check when with the show for should they ever attempt to spur and whip the horses with the show as they do in their own country there would be an uprising which would result in the annihilation of the Mexicans. They are not only daring and accomplished riders but they carry with them a grace that no cowboy has ever been able to affect. With the lasso and lariat they are experts and for fancy roping and trick roping they excel the cowboys. However, when it comes to straight roping the cowboys have them beat to a frazzle. The Mexicans in all of their work court applause more than anything else while the cowboy looks only for substantial results. The cowboy will take long chances for practical results which will bring substantial reward while the Mexican will sacrifice everything for a smile from some lady or a bouquet of flowers from the same source. The latter has no charm for the cowboy. Applause is lost to him and he strives only for that which is practical and substantial.

Got the Money Back. A young Pemberton square lawyer tells an interesting story about a lawyer who has long since given up active practice owing to his advanced years. The old barrister was held up one day by a client who had given him $10 as a retainer in a suit he had brought against a street railway for compelling him to pay two fares. "Well, Mr. Blank, have you brought that corporation to terms yet?" asked the client. "Let me think, now, just what case is that. Yes, yes, I recall, I had a hot time with them, but finally brought them around. Here is that nickel. They won't do that again in a hurry. I gave them blazes."—Boston Herald.

Persian Way of Eating Watermelon.

The ordinary Persian bill of fare sounds something like the banquet described in fairy tales, said a man who has spent some time in the orient. "While traveling in that country I found that the best omelette to a wayside repast is a watermelon, not cut in slices, as is done in this country, but eaten like an egg, one end being cut off and the contents eaten with a wooden spoon, the rosate fluid trickling all the time to the bottom and affording a fragrant drink when the first course is over."

The Term "Lobster."

The term "lobster" was used in this country as early as 1775, as an indication of contempt. John Adams in his argument in defense of the British soldiers on trial for murder because of complicity in the "Boston massacre" refers to the name "lobster" as one of the epithets applied by the populace to the soldiers.

MOOSE LODGE HAS FINE ENTERTAINMENT

Another large class was balloted up by Lodge No. 961 of the Loyal Order of Moose Thursday and nearly a score were initiated into the herd. The feature of the evening was the entertainment. Campbell's boxing boys, whose stage names are Asher B. Shaw, age seven years, weight forty-eight pounds, and Luther Hull, sixteen years, weight forty-eight pounds, provided themselves to be very clever mixed pugilists. They are probably the most wonderfully developed youngsters that the rings has ever seen. They have already performed in twenty-nine states and will make a short stay in Oregon City, opening for the first three nights of next week at a local theatre. Following them came Miss Mable Brooks, who rendered her popular song "Cutie, Tell Me Who Tied Your Tie?" in a manner which took the boys by storm, calling for an encore, "The Pony Boy." Although a child she has a voice of great promise and the Moose sincerely hope to hear her again in the near future. Jack McCormack, accompanied by George Covell in his inimitable style rendered character songs, "Sadie, Stop That Bear-Cat Dance. All the Moose certainly appreciate "Pap" McCormack and Covell's services toward entertainment. Much praise is due to the entertainment committee not only for the program furnished but for the manner in which the evening was brought to close by the dainty little supper of sandwiches and lemon punch. As soon as possible these social evenings will be an established feature and will be thrown open not only to the active and visiting Moose but also to their friends and families. The Moose baseball team will play a practice game with the local firemen Sunday morning at Canemah Park. Other challenges from other clubs have been received and accepted. Organizer Bert Westcott states that he will hold the charter open until June 20.

GROWERS HOLD SPUDS FOR HIGHER PRICES

The week has developed a slight change for the better in the potato market, but this, it is said, applies solely to the local situation, growers report more inquiry from retailers than for some time back, and stocks in all hands are reported to be relatively light. As a result jobbers for the time are willing to pay a little above the prices current a week ago, generally $1 to $1.10 a hundred for good grade stock at country points and some trade is reported passing at these figures. A feature which at this time occasions a good deal of comment on the part of dealers is the apparent indifference of the farmers. Some of them still have considerable stocks on their hands, and they of course know that the end of the season now is not far away. Yet they do not seem to be at all anxious to unload at going prices. In many cases, it is said, they are holding stiffly for prices far above what dealers at this time regard as the limit.

ALBANY HAS PAVING ERA

More Than 60 Blocks To Be Paved With Bitulithic This Summer Under Present Law. ALBANY, Or., June 3.—Street paving now actually under way in Albany will almost double this city's paved street area, and if all of the work being planned for this summer is carried out the 1912 paving will exceed by two and one-half blocks the entire area heretofore paved. The first street paving here was completed in 1909 with bitulithic, and since then the paved area has extended every summer. Contracts have been let already for the paving of the following streets this summer: Fourth from Washington to Main, Fifth from Elm to Main, and Seventh from Calapooia to Railroad street. Work is already under way on the Seventh street paving. An ordinance has been passed for the paving of First street, with bitulithic, from Montgomery to Main street. Albany now has 58 blocks paved with bitulithic; the work assured for this summer will add 49 blocks. If the plans now under consideration are completed, it will make the city's total 60 1/2 blocks of bitulithic paving.

Hard to Forget Sometimes. "I always make it a practice to let tomorrow take care of itself." "That's easy enough, but it's forgetting yesterday that causes trouble for so many of us."—Chicago Record-Herald.

U'REN AND VEAZIE DEBATE SINGLE TAX

It they will reject the proposition by their ballots. "If, however, they do try it, we expect that the results will be so gratifying that they will eventually accept the Henry George system. However, they will be given opportunity again to vote on that. We can force nothing on the taxpayers, and we are not trying to do so." In giving his reasons for supporting the graduated tax idea, and the reasons why he believes the plan would work to the advantage of taxpayers who most need help, Mr. U'ren said: "The adoption of the graduated tax system would tend at once to reduce the taxes of the business man and the home owner, because a greater tax would be required from the speculators the big estates and the land owners. Multnomah county would realize from 65 to 100 per cent more money in taxes under the workings of the graduated tax plan. The system does not exempt the land tax values, but from valuations upward of $10,000 in additional graduated tax is required." In voicing his opposition to the single tax plan, Mr. Veazie said: "Confiscation of land by the government and the overthrow of the theory of private ownership is really the final conclusion of the single tax idea. I believe that any doctrine that would permit the government to abrogate the patents to land it has allowed individuals is altogether wrong. "The single tax idea applied to timber lands would force owners of timber to cut their timber as rapidly as possible and convert their holdings into stump land. Single tax would induce men to improve and build up their land, because the system would relieve from taxation those who have already built and assured their incomes, and would put a heavier tax on those who are still trying to save enough to enable them to improve their land."

Mr. U'ren is scheduled to address a grange picnic at Jefferson Saturday, and on Sunday night he will talk at the meeting of the Modern School at Christensen hall.

SICKENED OF THE SCALPEL

An extraordinary event led Lassone, physician to Louis XVI. of France, to abandon his anatomical studies. While selecting from among some dead bodies a suitable subject for dissection he imagined that one of them showed doubtful signs of death and sought to revive a life which was perhaps not extinguished. His efforts were crowned with success. He cured the man and as he was poor nourished and supported him, but the idea of having been on the point of committing a crime so affected Lassone that he felt himself unable to pursue his accustomed labors, and from that time forward he studied natural history and chemistry in place of anatomy.

Remember the times when we had to smoke the mosquitoes away of an evening? And to brush the flies or simply endure them. How times have changed! Now we know that these insects were the means of spreading dangerous diseases, and protect our homes and families by screening them out.

It pays, both from the standpoint of comfort and convenience or health. Our stock of screens and screening permits you to fit any door or window; we handle the best quality which will last for years. This means that you can put them up in a few minutes next season, thus saving you the time and trouble of fitting new ones as well as the cost of buying them. How about screening off that porch? It will be the most popular place in the neighborhood. Come in and see how little it will cost.

POLICE DECISION EXPECTED SOON

(Continued from page 1) man, having been appointed by the mayor, but not having the indorsement of the council. There is no question that the citizens desire a settlement of the police wrangle as soon as possible, and until it is settled, there will be some question as to the legality of certain arrests.
