T. R., IN CHICAGO, READY TO FIGHT

COLONEL ACCLAIMED AS HE IS DRIVEN THROUGH BUSY STREETS

CALIFORNIA DELEGATES ARE ESCORT

Roosevelt Says He Has Mapped Out Campaign And It Is Evident He Will Lead Battle

CHICAGO, June 15.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, wearing his new fighting hat, a compromise between a sombrero and rough rider's headgear, came into Chicago late today and was acclaimed by thousands of his supporters and admirers. The hat was in the air throughout the automobile ride from LaSalle Street station to the Congress Hotel, waving salutes of acknowledgment of the cheers that marked the former President's progress.

Mr. Roosevelt said tonight he had mapped out a campaign. He was in consultation for several hours with his managers and then assumed charge in person of what he termed "this naked fight between corrupt politicians and thieves and the plain people." He would not discuss his probable appearance on the convention floor, but there was no doubt among delegates that he would be there. Colonel Harry New, in charge of convention arrangements, said Mr. Roosevelt "had not applied for a seat."

"If he does apply we will do the best we can for him," said Colonel New, "but unfortunately, all of the good seats are gone."

Early in the day it was announced at the Roosevelt headquarters that the Colonel's arrival would be devoid of the spectacular.

Many delegates, however, would not have it thus, and when the train bearing the candidate rolled into the station there were three bands and a cheering multitude to greet him.

The California delegation, the most aggressive and outspoken of the Roosevelt adherents—a delegation which today issued a thinly veiled threat of independent action if things do not go well for the Colonel in the convention—marched to the station in a body and escorted Colonel Roosevelt to his hotel.

They bore aloft a banner which read:

"California refuses to try title to property before the thief who stole it." On the reverse side was: "California's solid twenty-six for Theodore Roosevelt."

NEW AUTOMOBILE, OWNED BY BRIDE, TAKES PAIR TO VANCOUVER, WASH.

CUPID CHAUFFEUR OF TOURING CAR

Miss Nancy Noon, Of Portland, And Westbrook Dickson, of University Of Oregon, Furnish College Sensation

EUGENE, Or., June 15.—When Miss Nancy Noon, of Portland a prominent junior in the University of Oregon, and Westbrook Dickson, a freshman, from Pendleton, eloped in Miss Noon's automobile and were married today in Vancouver, Wash., they furnished the college a sensation such as it rarely experienced.

The romance started a few months ago, when the future bride purchased an automobile from a local dealer and in a friendly way engaged the services of young Dickson as chauffeur. The impetuosity of Miss Noon who walked into the garage, picked out a likely-looking machine and concluded the transaction in record time, was the capital for several newspaper stories.

During the many trips which ensued, Cupid was in reality at the steering wheel, for while the freshman chauffeur had fully endeavored to teach his patron the workings of the automobile, he won her heart and the privilege of guiding their matrimonial car through life.

No one guessed that the affair had reached this stage, however, until the announcement was communicated over the telephone today by the newly-mated pair to the Gamma Delta Gamma Sorority, of which Miss Noon is a member. It was a complete surprise to everyone except two or three most intimate friends of the bride and a like number of the bridegroom's acquaintances, to whom they had disclosed the secret of the wedding in advance.

The rest of Miss Noon's sorority sisters, however, and the other members of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, to which Dickson belongs, were as much surprised as the student body at large.

Buying at Home

Patriotism is local as well as national. A man should love his town as well as his country—or he should move to another town. If there is a height near your town, climb to it the first opportunity you have and look down. From all the world, and from all the races, these townpeople of yours whose houses you see nestled below, have gathered together on this bit of earth to make their homes side by side; to build their churches and schools and industries; to have and to hold here all that life yields, and all it cherishes; to give all it demands, and at the end to lie down here on this chosen homeland forevermore.

These are your people. And as every man and woman among them who labors in any form helps to make your living better and more comfortable for you by increasing the general fund, so they are entitled to your full and hearty co-operation; anything less is failure to live up to your obligations.

James F. Smith, Associate Judge United States Court of Customs Appeals.

ALDERMAN UPHOLDS GARY'S DECISION

State Superintendent of Schools Alderman has upheld the decision of County Superintendent Gary in the case of the dismissal by the directors of Thomas B. Lovelace, teacher of the Viola District. Mr. Gary held that the evidence was not sufficient to justify the dismissal of the teacher. It is thought that Lovelace will make an effort to collect his salary for the full term. The controversy started over a complaint that the janitor of the school did not keep the building clean. As a result the directors waited upon Lovelace, and a riotous occurred between him and Thomas Cockerline, in which the teacher was severely beaten.
