Lace and Satin Evening Gown
This is rather an elaborate evening frock which is pictured today. The bodice is of cream satin with draperies over the shoulders held by cabochons of pearl. Little flat bows of pale yellow velvet ribbon hold the fullness of the satin in front. The velvet is also used for the girdle and bands on the sleeves. The skirt is made of satin, cut severely plain and with a tunic of all-over lace draped on the left side and held by another pearl cabochon with tassels of pearl falling from it. Strands and tassels of pearl fall from the shoulder ornaments.

If you saw it in the Enterprise it's so.

You'll have your "inning"—if you take your outing in a Ford. It will give you the largest measure of satisfaction—at the least expense. And should accident befall, you'll find Ford repairs near-by. There's scarcely an American hamlet that hasn't a Ford service station.

Seventy-five thousand new Fords go into service this season—proof of their unequalled merit. The price is $685 for the roadster, $785 for the five-passenger car, f. o. b. Oregon City, fully equipped.

NEW CABBAGE CROP OF FINE QUALITY

New crop Oregon cabbage is coming forward in very good supply and is fast driving the California products from the field. No further ordering of the southern growth is reported or good size, but the quality is unusually good. The heads are hard and the leaves show the usual small veins that are characteristic of the Oregon product and creates for this growth a demand all through this territory.

The crop of cabbage in this territory this season has every indication of proving a banner one to date. The planting was unusually heavy and the growth has been good. There has been no loss to speak of since the plants were started and the growth has been better than usual owing to favorable climatic conditions.

The planting this year in eastern Oregon is greater than the entire state had last season and the Willamette valley has about as much cabbage if not more than usual.

INSURGENTS FAVOR RECALL OF JUDGES

CHICAGO, June 15.—The first draft of the platform on which Theodore Roosevelt, if nominated, will battle for the presidency, was completed here today and contains a plank providing for the recall of judges, although at Columbus, before the Ohio constitutional convention some months ago, the colonel announced that he was opposed to the recall of the judiciary favoring instead a recall of judges' decisions.

The document is subject to change by Colonel Roosevelt.

Among those who participated in the platform conference were Governor Hiram W. Johnson, of California; Gifford Pinchot, Congressman William Kent, of California; former secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield, of Ohio; Medill McCormick, of Chicago; Congressman Lenroot, of Wisconsin, and Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin.

The platform favors popular government through such instrumentalities as the preference primary, the initiative and referendum and recall, including the recall of judges, but leaves to every locality the selection of remedies, according to local needs and desires; control of the trusts by federal agency similar to the bureau of corporations, only with enlarged powers and empowered to demand publicity; for the downward revision of the tariff on data which a genuine tariff board would furnish to congress; for a commission to investigate whether the workingman is receiving a just proportion and benefit from the tariff and lowering the tariff so that it would fall first on those industries wherein the workingman is unfairly treated; for legislation to work out "social justice" in the industrial world; for conservation, including a revival of the country life commission for woman's suffrage; for an adequate navy and the two battleships yearly program; for proper amendments to the banking and currency laws but opposing the Aldrich plan. The platform favors national as opposed to "dollar" diplomacy.
