Fruit dealers look for heavy strawberry receipts for the next few days, but say that in all probability this week will finish the season of active trade in that fruit. There will of course be berries in the market for some weeks to come, but the big end of the crop in local territory is already in, and from this time on, the fruit men say ,the supply will grow steadily smaller.

This, then, is the week for home canning, and the supply promises to be sufficient for that purpose. Unfortunately in quality the berries now coming do not quit average up to those of last week for which the rains of a few days ago are held mainly responsible, but good trade fruit is still available and at satisfactory prices. But for the Festival last week immense quantities of the fruit would have been put up then, but that work had to be deferred.

Light Lures the Fish.

Fishermen of Cezimbo, l'ortugal, have a novel method of catching fish by the use of a natural phosphorescent substance. This is obtained from a fish is a thick yellowish fluid which possesses a bluish phorphorescence in the dark, believed to be due to the presence of a luminous microbe. The fishermen rub this substance upon a muscular tissue, such as a piece of cuttleing the fish in the crystal water, ob- fish, and this is used as bait. The light appears to last for a long time, at least for several boors, and bas a brighter glow when dipped in the sea. Fish are attracted to the bait by the light and are thus caught.
