FOR THE MORNING SUIT

A becoming tailored hat for morning wear is given as a millinery suggestion today. This is of natural colored Milan straw with high conical crown and becomingly rolled brim and sets well down on the head. Around the crown is a strip of two inch olive green velvet ribbon, while on the right is a novelty aigrette in green and white. These aigrettes which are short and square and lie flat to the hat, have attained a great popularity in the season's millinery. They are intended for wear on the tailored hats, having a crisp, neat smartness which is very fetching.

Merely a Conversation.

This is not a classic. On the other hand, it is not a joke. It is one of those things about half way between comic and pathetic that you don't know how to classify. Let us therefore call it an overheard conversation, which indeed is all it is, anyhow.

"She's a dandy little girl, all right, in spite of her faults."

"She is that. Ain't she nice to her parents?"

"Sure—why, she jest dotes on her mother."

"So they tell me. I hear that she even interdoosed her mother to some of her swell friends."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Island of Rhodes.

Rhodes was the center of the culture and commerce of the Aegean in the days when the Aegean meant the heart of civilization and the island was the battleground of mighty armadas and formidable legions from the days of Alexander the Great to Mohammed. The island is the most easterly of the Aegean group. It is about forty-five miles long by about twenty-two wide. The island has been famous for its beautiful climate from the earliest ages.

Good Anyhow.

Norman McLeod was once preaching in a district in Ayrshire, where the reading of a sermon is regarded as the greatest fault of which the minister can be guilty. When the congregation dispersed an old woman, overflowing with enthusiasm, addressed her neighbor: "Did ye ever hear anything sae graud? Wasna that a sermon?"

All her expressions of admiration being met by a stolid glance, she shouted: "Speak, woman! Wasna that a sermon?"

"He read it," said the other.

To which she replied with indignant emphasis, "I wadna care if he had whistled it!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

The water mains of London aggregate 6,000 miles, twice the width of the Atlantic ocean.

WEAKER FEELING SHOWN IN SPUDS

There is a weaker feeling all through the local potato market and prices are lower. Both old and new growth are showing the weakness, but in the old crop pressure is greatest.

Sales of good old potatoes are now being made in limited lots generally around $1 @ 1.10 per cental, but some poor to ordinary offerings are going down to 85c.

Continued offering of old potatoes is show in trade and there is a noticeable decrease in the demand daily. At the present time the call is so limited that buyers are not inclined to purchase at any price from country interests. At this time there is more than a sufficient amount of stock to fill all the wants of the trade.

Even the best California new stock is not being quoted above 2c a pound today. This is for southern California stuff being made down to 1 and one-half cents in many instances.

Local new potatoes are coming forward in larger supply and there is quite a noticeable increase in the quality. Sizes are better and in most instances are equal, if not better, than that received from the Sacramento section.

MILL HOME BUILDING PLAN IS GIVEN PRAISE

(Oregon Journal)

The announced plans of the Willamette Pulp & Paper company at Oregon City for their workpeople near the mills at Oregon City deserves study.

On the purchased tract of fifty-six acres when divided into quarter acre lots, about 200 homes can be established. As the company intends erecting houses on these lots and selling them to the work people for cost prices, payable by monthly payments graduated on a rental basis, a very desirable variation is seen from the more common plan of a corporation's renting to its employees houses it has built, retaining the ownership in its own hands.

On either plan the physical advantages of space to live and breathe for the worker and his family can be attained, at probably not a widely different cost to him. But the Oregon City quarter acre is to become the worker's own. It is his own house that he improves. When he cleans up and plants and cultivates his garden, that which he grows will have the special savor of ownership, which, once tasted, will not be forgotten. Then will come in, too, the spirit of healthy rivalry, to have the prettiest house, the neatest and best kept garden.

The company is said to have 750 employees, or thereabouts. Those who establish homes on the hillside west of the Willamette river will have surroundings of beauty hard to be excelled.

FOOT DANGER!

There are two dangerous kinds of stockings — one that is patched and darned until it becomes a torture to walk on; the other that is made of yarn so tough and coarse that one might as well be walking on wire.

The public is no longer content to buy sox and stockings that will merely wear well. Guaranteed hosiery must be comfortable and stylish also.
