NEW POTATOES LOWER PRICE OF OLD ONES

Notwithstanding that the season is being rapidly brought to a close, there is again a quite fair demand for old potatoes with receivers selling the best at $1 and $1.10 per cental in Portland.

Country holders are still making persistent efforts to sell their product, but buyers are wary and practically none of the wholesale interests are in the market at all. All are trying to clean up their own surplus.

New potatoes are now coming forward so freely that the price is again being generally snapped. Most of the stock now offering is of improved quality, although some very poor potatoes are being received and are a detriment to the general trade.

12 BALLOTS TAKEN WITH CLARK LEADING

height and went to the Nebraska delegation.

The cheering became deafening. Bryan started a poll of the Nebraska delegation. Two gray-haired delegates from Nebraska grasped his hands and cheered.

At 1:25, when the chairman tried to restore order, the Wilson-Bryan demonstration had lasted 50 minutes. Bryan, after conferring with the Oregon delegation, returned to his seat by the Nebraska standard.

With all traces of last night's storm removed, save in the tired faces of the delegates, Convention Hall was once again packed this afternoon for the nominating session of Democracy's hosts. The galleries were filled to overflowing an hour before the time set for the meeting. But there were very few delegates in their places. The vast hall had been made spick and span once again; the standards showing the delegates' seats had been again fastened to the floor and new seats substituted for those broken in the excitement of the previous session.

The only things reminiscent of the frenzy of 12 hours ago were a monster circus portrait of Governor Marshall of Indiana and an oil cloth sign. "We want Wilson," both of which glared from the gallery rail.

It was noticeable that the feeling among the policemen and delegates alike was none too equable. Brief excitements was created on the floor when a Missouri delegate attempted to seat a boy in the front row near him. A policeman promptly ejected the youth.

The New York delegates in a caucus just before the convention assembled agreed "for the present to vote for Governor Harmon." This decision will hold good, Judge Parker said until it is seen that a nomination can not be made, and the delegation will be ready to vote for any good Democrat.

The Clark managers were making a supreme effort to get the speaker named on one of the first three ballots when the hour for the convention to assemble arrives.

Every one of the chiefs was protesting. Former Governor Francis and Senator Stone personally appealed Murphy of Tammany and to the leaders of the Harmon force.

"If we can't land Clark early there will be danger of someone you don't want, possibly Bryan himself—landing it," was he appeal made.

Murphy was noncommittal, merely saying if before New York was reached in the balloting there seemed a chance for a choice, the Empire state might swing into line.

The Harmon managers positively refused to withdraw their man.

"We can muster 570 votes after the favorite sons are withdrawn," said Hugh L. Nichols, "and we think we can get the balance when the show-down comes."

The Wilson men insisted that they were uncovering progressive sentiment.

"The west is nearly ready to line up for our governor," said Congressman Hughes, "and we have every reason to be satisfied with the outlook."

Ten minutes before meeting time members of the resolutions committee who had been working steadily on the platform since 10 o'clock, left the committee room, their task complete.

Colonel Bryan declared himself pleased with the party's declarations, assuring that the platform was splendidly progressive.

Chairman James' gavel convening the session fell at 4:11.

Rev. Henry Wharton of Baltimore offered prayer. The invocation over, Chairman James immediately ordered the calling of the roll for the second ballot on the presidential nominee.

As the roll of the states proceeded the galleries cheered loudly the announcement in every instance. Chairman James and the secretary demanded time and again that the result be received in silence, so that there could be no mistake by the tellers, but the crowd wanted to cheer and insisted.

When it was seen that there was likely of little change in the result a number of Clark managers went to Murphy and begged him to swing the New York delegation into line for the speaker.

"If you do, it will start a stampede and it will be over soon and we all can start for home," begged Senator Stone but Murphy listened and made no reply.

Wild cheering followed the announcement of Massachusetts when it was announced that Wilson had gained one and Clark lost one. In New Hampshire there was another desertion from Clark, who received only seven of the eight state votes, the other going to Wilson.

New Jersey shifted the two votes cast last night for Underwood to Congressman Sulzer of New York, amid good natured banter from the galleries.

In Ohio Clark and Wilson each gained a vote. Harmon lost one, the other being a delegate who last night refused to vote. Mr. Bryan received a solitary vote here, as on the first ballot.

CONSERVATIVES BEATEN, DECLARES COMMONER

BALTIMORE, June 28.—William Jennings Bryan had no word to say today about the first Presidential ballot at the Democratic National convention. After the adjournment of the all-night session the Nebraskan hurried to his hotel, where he retired for a needed rest. He indicated that the delegates already had spoken their minds against Underwood and Harmon, but was non-committal as to whether his choice was Clark or Wilson, although he added that he had voted for Clark.

Bryan believes he has achieved a great moral victory in obtaining the passage of his Morgan-Ryan-Belmont resolution, which was hurled into the convention like a bombshell last night.

Over the breakfast table Bryan talked freely of the resolution. Asked what the effect would be, he replied:

"You wait for a week. There never has been such an alignment of a political party against interest. Just see the vote that was cast for the resolution."

"Is not the resolution nullified by the elimination of the last clause demanding the withdrawal of all delegates representing the Morgan-Ryan-Belmont interest?"

"No," replied Bryan with emphasis. "The last clause was merely putting into effect the first clause. When before in any convention have we had such men named?"

"What do you think of Virginia's vote in favor of this resolution? There were 233 votes for it and a vote against it. And Thomas F. Ryan was sitting in the delegation."

"This resolution has made the delegates get in line. Those who nominated a reactionary after passing this resolution would never dare go home if they lived west of the Allegheny Mountains. The convention has gone on record."

An inquiry whether he would support a reactionary candidate seemed to nettie Bryan, and he gave no definite answer.

"Mr. Bryan, it has been suggested among delegates that conditions might arise that would cause you to bolt?"

"I don't reply to every report that is started about me," answered the Nebraskan. "I don't think any man has the right to ask men that question. When this convention started could you tell what was going to happen? A man's course of action must be determined as circumstances arise."

Bryan's friends say the passage of the "bombshell" resolution has shown the country that "this is a progressive" convention, and that a "progressive" must be named.
