ANOTHER PRETTY BLOUSE

A pretty design for a lingerie blouse is sketched above. It is cut in kimona style with two pleats over the shoulder. The blouse is of white batiste. From below a narrow yoke of Irish crochet springs a ruffle of the material edged with the same lace. This ruffle is narrow over the shoulders, deepening to a point in front and back. Bands of lace insertion are placed to one side of the shoulder pleats and one runs directly down the center of the front, a cluster of small tuks occupy the space between. The sleeve is elbow length and trimmed with tuks and insertion.

STRENGTH DEVELOPS IN CATTLE MARKET

The Portland Union Stock Yards Company reports as follows: Receipts for the past week have been: cattle 1025, calves 81, hogs, 1690, sheep 5021, horses 28, goats 108. The choice of the week showed a marked increase of strength in the cattle division, steers and cows being quoted at 25c advance over previous quotations. One feature of the week's sales worthy of mention was that of some baby beef, two steers in lot bringing 7c with an average weight of 1025 pounds, and four heifers averaging 790 selling for $6.65. Veal calves sold at 8c, being an advance of a quarter over former sales. Bulls and stags held their own.
The hog market shared in the general upward tendency with a twenty cent advance over the best sales of the previous week. Best light finished hogs are now finding ready sale at 8c with supplies inadequate to the demand.
Trade in mutton was mostly confined to lambs, which ranged from $5.75 to $5.85 for the best, with thin stuff selling as low as $4 to $4.25. Buyers seem disposed to clean up all offerings at good prices, the market being steady to strong in all classes.

JOHNSON READY TO FIGHT DEFAMER

LAS VEGAS, New Mexico, June 29. Jack Johnson was in a belligerent mood when he drove into town today in his big racing car. Yesterday he had a hot altercation with a visitor to his camp and was in an ugly mood all last evening. When Jack came into town with his wife he was informed an eastern man for whom he has a great dislike would be here today.
Turning to Tom Flanagan, his manager, Johnson roared:
"Don't let that man come to our camp. If he does I'll hit him and I don't care if I do hurt him. I don't mind being roasted as a boxer or trainer, but I want my private affairs left alone."

"Where Rolls the Oregon"

Stop not, O wanderer in thy search for nature's grandest sights Upon the banks of Rhone or Rhine, where gleam the Alpine heights And linger not along the Nile upon the desert sands,
Nor pitch thy tent on Mississippi's broad and flowery lands, But hither come upon this mighty river's rugged shore!
Behold its banks in evergreen and hear its water roar!
Then look above and feast thine eyes upon the trackless heights, Where o'er the realm of man yet fearlessly the eagle lights.
The woods that reach from snowy peaks to vales of fertile land, Have still the breath of purity as from their Maker's hand.
The pyramids raised on this river's side since time began,
In silent greatness shame the proud but pigmy works of man.
Go stand before each waterfall that thunders through its shower,
And feel the thrill of wonder there, the awe of nature's power;
Then dream no more of grander scenes, hither rest thy faltering skies!
The Maker wrought His master art in these before thine eyes.
ANDREW FRANZEN.
