"Listen, delegates: New York has 26 Democratic congressmen and on the 15 great progressive measures pending in the last congress introduced under the leadership of Clark and Underwood, every one of the 26 votes from New York has been cast for these measures.

Bryan says that no man can go before the country and hope to win with the brand of New York on him.

"I say that no candidate can go from this convention stigmatized with Bryanism and come within 500,000 votes of election.

"Mr. Bryan has said that the 90 delegates from New York are under the influence of Morgan, Ryan and Belmont. He has stated that no man could be elected by reason of their influence. I desire to say to him there is no man in the number who is under the influence of the men he has

When he makes the statement that these men, Morgan, Ryan and Belmont, are dominating he omits one man. And of all the delegates on the floor, omitting Mr. Ryan and Mr. Belmont, the most rich and powerful is the gentlman from Nebraska.

"And if we are trying to clear our skirts here the convention should expel from the floor of this convention the man who for pay, has been writing from the Republican convention at Chicago in favor of his (Brayn's) ally, Colonel Roosevelt.

A very pretty wedding was solem- Jr., Gleen Mills. to rent or room and board at the ho- nized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. B. Dodson, of 1203 Ellsworth street Portland Saturday evening at 9; o'clock, when Miss Ethel May Cheney and Mr. William Hinz, both formerly of Oregon City, were married in the presence of about sixty relatives and friends. Rev. E. S. Bollinger, pastor of the Highland Congregational church, Portland officiated. The bride and bridegroom were unattended, except by the flower girl little Miss Schenk, niece of the bridegroom. The bride was very prettily gowned in white chiffon over white taffeta, and

Preceding the ring ceremony Edward Gray, of Portland, sang very impressively "Oh Promise Me," and after the ceremony sang "Garden of gation the governor of the great state Thomas Keith, of Portland ,sister of Roses."
