ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS. (From noon today to noon tomorrow.) Sun sets 7:32. Evening stars: Mars, Jupiter, Mercury, Venus. Morning star: Saturn.

THE ELKS OF OUR TOWN. Visiting Elks will find that Oregon City is well represented in the fraternity. We have an Elk Mayor—Grant B. Dimick, an Elk Recorder—Livy Stipp; an Elk Treasurer—M. D. Latourette; an Elk Circuit Judge—J. U. Campbell; an Elk Sheriff—E. T. Maas; an Elk County Judge—R. B. Beatie; an Elk County Clerk—W. L. Mulvey. Elk business men in every line and when we leave this world we can be buried by an Elk undertaker. Most of our attorneys are Elks and the doctors are well represented. Eastern Elks therefore need not be afraid to move to Oregon City. Their interests will be well looked after. The local Elk lodge is now a little over two years old and has 310 members with at least 20 more in process. 400 is the mark for March 4, 1913 and present indications point favorably to that end. This was all made possible by Portland Lodge No. 142 relinquishing this part of their territory and then instituting the offspring. Oregon City can well be proud of its youngest live fraternal organization and through it much publicity will be gained from the present convention at Portland. If the membership of Oregon City Lodge is an average of citizens in this order, Oregon City would like to keep a few thousand and out of the throng now coming together at Portland—and a few thousand would make no mistake by setting here.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS

We are in an era of prosperity such as has never been before. Real estate is at what we all think top values still had we dared think of present day prices five years ago we would have been referred to the lunacy commissioners. Five years hence there is no way of telling the mark, but judging by the past and records in other large cities, we are to see real estate at twice its present selling prices. Oregon City is as close to Portland's business center as parts of some large cities are from their city halls. While we are now pretending to say that Oregon City will some day be a part of Portland we do say that the entire district between Portland and Oregon City on both sides of the river will be built up and that time is not far hence. Oregon City has an asset of such value that many cities many times the size of ours would offer inducements to secure, and not being able to move the plants the boundary lines are the next extensions necessary to gain the desired ends. The West Side will no doubt be connected with Portland by a fast limited electric train service. We all know that means, with this growth, capital and industry will come. We have power for all such as may want to come to Oregon City. We have natural advantages beyond comparison; transportation facilities of the highest type everything that industrial plants must have. But there is one drawback—the dangerous agitators that we have always with us who want the people to honor them by election to the legislature. The people at the coming November election have the power in them to continue prosperity, and to send "live wires" to the legislature—men who will vote for the people; men who are the friends of the people; men who are honest, upright and always working in the open.

DO GOOD TO OTHERS. Don't live for yourself, and do not be afraid of diminishing your own happiness by promoting that of others. He who labors wholly for the benefit of others and, as it were, forgets himself is far happier than the man who makes himself the sole object of all his affections and exertions. A selfish person makes the warm heart throbs that come with the icy of doing good to others. Tongs were said to have been invented in China B. C. 1122, but representations of them have been found on the Egyptian monuments B. C. 2200. In India they are claimed as in use since B. C. 900, and their principal employment in that country, where fires during the most of the year are superfluous, was to facilitate the handling of dead bodies in the funeral pyres. Seventy pairs of tongs, some bronze, some iron, have been taken from the ruins of Pompeii. He Will See Them. "A prominent oculist says he never saw a pair of perfect eyes," said the woman who reads the newspapers. "That," replied Miss Cayenne, "merely proves that the prominent oculist was never in love"—Washington Star.

DR. FORD, IN ABLE SERMON, SAYS UNITED STATES IS HAVING POLITICAL CRISIS. Dr. T. B. Ford, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered an eloquent and forcible sermon Sunday evening on "The Passing of the Old Political System and the New Order." It follows in part: The age in which we live is one of the turning points in history. The slightest turn in the kaleidoscope of our national life shows the new adjustments. We are not only in the process of great changes—the passing of old conditions, and customs, and the coming of a new order, but are in a political crisis, far reaching in its relations to the past, the present and the future. The events of today are out of the line of ordinary antecedents and consequences. The forces at work have brought on a conflict between the conservatives and the radical, the reactionary and the progressive, with the trend forward, and not backward, for enlargement and not diminishment, for enhancement and not depletion. It should occasion no surprise that through years of management and mismanagement there has grown up in both great parties a powerful political system, and it is no wonder that party leaders find it difficult to break with it, and the rank and file of the people who have sustained lifelong affiliation with their parties turn from them slowly. But the old system is doomed. The new order is here, and here to stay for a final try-out. The old system was marked by certain well known features. Government by party; the party governed by conventions; committees governed by politicians; politicians governed by partisan politics, partisan politics governed by greed for office; the administration of office for spoils, and all governed by the political heresy, "the end justifies the means," and the slogan, "to the victor belongs the spoils." Under this system the people lost control; men were under the party lash; money, offices and power were used to secure positions that afforded opportunities for graft; voters were marched to the polls and voted in "blocks"; professional politicians got the offices; legislative halls became political playgrounds; legislation was tainted by bargain and intrigue; our judiciary has had suspicion cast upon it; our executive officers are looked upon with distrust; United States Senatorships have been bought outright; congress has become a political arena and the people have become suspicious and distrustful. I do not aver all these things as true. I am stating the ground of popular dissatisfaction, and the uprising of the people. The change is on. It is serious business. No man who thinks at all can think lightly of it. We are leaving one experiment for another. We are throwing off some abuses, and we are not certain that we shall escape others. But we can't not turn the wheels backward. We must not turn the hands of the clock back. We must go forward. Under the new order the caucus, the convention, and all the machinery used in manipulating these must go. The day of big conventions is gone. And instead of the old system we are to have the primary, the initiative, the referendum, the recall, direct election of United States Senators, the presidential preferential, if not a direct vote for the president, free presidential electors instead of automatons as now. We are under a new order. The people are to rule. We are to have a government of the people, by the people and for the people, instead of a government of the politicians, by the politicians and for the politicians. The masses having the ballot with such power must be educated, or disaster will ensue. Public office is to be regarded as a public trust. Officers are to be held to a strict account. Real issues are to come to front, and be the lines of political action. Our legislative and judiciary administrations are to be of a high order and our nation is to have new birth. New wine is to be put into new wine-skins. "The old order changeth, yielding place to the new, And God fulfills himself in many ways, Lest one good custom should corrupt the world." Your Days. Every day that is born into the world comes like a burst of music and rings itself all the day through, and thou shalt make it a dance, a dirge or a life march, as thou wilt—Carlyle. George Washington could have established a monarchy, but he preferred the republican, or democratic form

MISS CAUFIELD IS HOSTESS OF GYPSIES

Miss Marjory Caufield entertained the Gypsies at her home Saturday afternoon and evening. The afternoon was devoted to sewing a rag carpet, which was resumed after a five course dinner was served, and the prize which was a pretty tea apron was won by Miss Bessie Daulton. A most enjoyable afternoon and evening was spent, the hostess being assisted by her sister, Miss Ethel Caufield, of Portland. The table was prettily decorated with pink and white sweet peas. Present were Miss Helen Daulton, Miss Bess Daulton, Miss Aimee Bol-lack, Miss Bess Kelly, Miss Emily O'Malley, Miss Izda Goldsmith, Mrs. Walter Wells, Miss Ethel Caufield, Mrs. L. A. Morris.

Could Help Himself. It was the anniversary of his young son's birthday, and the proud father, who felt that he ought to give the lad something, stepped into a bookseller's shop. "What kind of a book would you like?" asked the assistant, to whom the other had confided his purpose. "Something that would be useful and educative," said the father, forgetting that he always detested such books in his own boyhood. "Well, here is a very excellent one on 'Self Help'."

Frail Human Nature. The judge was in a rage. "I hear," he thundered, "that bats have been made on the result of this case. I won't have such a state of things. All gambling must be stopped within the jurisdiction of this court." "But you a lawyer can't be done!" said the counsel for the defense. "Put up your money," said the judge, reaching for his purse.—Pearson's.

Lovers Presents in Spain. Spanish lovers present their fiancées with fans on which they have written the most impassioned poetry, embroidered garters with love mottoes woven in silk and innumerable boxes of sweets. Engagement rings are not given, the bride elect receiving instead a gold medal, which she wears suspended from a chain around her neck.

MEDICINE FREE. We Will Furnish The Medicine Free If It Fails to Relieve Kidney Disease. If neglected, kidney disease secures a firm hold and results in an ailment that frequently becomes chronic and is most difficult to treat successfully. The symptoms of kidney diseases are usually not soon enough recognized, and treatment is too long delayed. That is why these human derangements are so prevalent. Most diseases of the kidneys, bladder and urinary tract, when cared for in time, readily yield to treatment if the right medication is promptly and properly applied. We have a treatment we believe will eradicate this class of disease. We are so certain of this that we sell the medicine with our own personal guarantee to cheerfully return every cent paid us for it,—without question or quibble,—at the mere hint that it did not do exactly as we claimed, or if the user is not entirely satisfied. Our treatment consists of Rexall Kidney Pills, and we urge all sufferers of kidney derangements to try them at our entire risk. We know what they contain, how they are made and will cheerfully tell all about them upon request. We can make this frank offer because our experience has conclusively demonstrated that Rexall Kidney Pills are a safe, reliable and extremely efficacious medicine that rarely fails to do all we claim. Otherwise we could not afford to sell Rexall Kidney Pills to our neighbors and friends who regard us as a public trust. Officers are to be held to a strict account. Real issues are to come to front, and be the lines of political action. Our legislative and judiciary administrations are to be of a high order and our nation is to have new birth. New wine is to be put into new wine-skins. "The old order changeth, yielding place to the new, And God fulfills himself in many ways, Lest one good custom should corrupt the world." Your Days. B. N. HICKS, Attorney for Plaintiff.

Water Is Dangerous; It Must Not Be Taken to Excess. By Dr. CHARLES C. HILL, Physician, of Baltimore
