STRONG RALLY MARKS CLOSE OF MARKET

The Portland Union Stock Yards Company reports as follows: Receipts for the week have been, Cattle 548; Calves 63; Hogs 1658; Sheep 7368; and Horses 73.

At the close of the week prices were a good 25c higher than at the opening. There was a strong rally and the demand was not met by the light receipts. There is a great amount of wonder among campaigners as to what is to become of the cattle market. Over at Chicago the market papers are frequently predicting that $10 steers are in sight. Local operators who balked at paying $5 and $5.25 for feeders are now considering paying one-fourth to one-half cent higher. The pronounced shortage as compared with a year ago, the abundance of feed crops and the strong prices prevailing have created a bullish tendency that is backed up by natural conditions. Just where it will end and how high cattle will go, are problems that only time will solve. Next week this market expects to see part of a train load of feeders from Texas. No more eloquent lesson of the shortage that prevails in this country can be given than the willingness of buyers to pay high prices and the carrying charge on cattle from Texas. The establishment of a company, known as the Portland Feeder Company, created for the purpose of taking care of the farmers' needs is an evidence of the acuteness of condition. Not only is the alfalfa country clamoring for feeders but the Willamette Valley is making its demands known.

The hog market is strong to higher with tops at $8. The receipts are fairly liberal, considering that the supply came from local territory.

The sheep market in the face of heavy receipts showed considerable strength.

Westminster Abbey.

All visitors to London make it a point to visit the famous Westminster abbey. But in reality there is no such place as Westminster abbey, because the abbey disappeared many, many years ago. What they see now is the church that used to belong to the abbey, and the proper name for this building is the Collegiate Church of St. Peter. They keep up the old name Westminster abbey because people like it, just as they keep the blood stains in the Tower freshened up with paint now and then.—New York Sun.

Taxless Town.

There is a community in France where not only are there no taxes, but the timbers on the communal lands are sufficient to grant each person a small annuity. This happy land is Montmarion, in the Midi. There are seven electors in the hamlet, so to avoid anything like rivalry the seven return themselves to the local council. Cutting down the trees and selling them is sufficient to provide a livelihood for these simple people, whose tastes are so modest that they may be termed by some uncivilized.

Bright Pupils.

These are some of the pupils' answers to examination problems:

The countries benefited by the overflow of the Nile are Europe, Asia, Australia and America, because they are not there to be drowned.

The source of the Nile river is its main strength.

Example—A boy paid $8.25 for a wagon and sold it for $7.75. Did he gain or lose, and how much?

Answer—He gained on the cents and lost on the dollars.—Kansas City Star.

Fogarty's Retort.

Fogarty got into a jam with the manager of a company in which he was a member. The criticism was that he was not doing his best, and the argument led up to this climax:

"Well, I'm the manager of the troupe."

Fogarty—Anybody could tell that by taking a sliant at the shape of your skull.—Chicago Post.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD.

Oscar Hammerstein, London: I have quarreled with Alphonse, the cat is dead, and the stove has gone out.

SUZANNA DUMESNIL.

Behind the cablegram printed above is the story told by a theatrical writer—a typical story of human life.

Every year Oscar Hammerstein used to go to Europe, looking for song birds for his opera.

In Paris he heard Suzanna Dumesnil, a famous French soprano, and said to her, "I want you." In addition to buying her release from her manager he offered a big salary.

Shrugging her shoulders, Dumesnil said:

"Leave me so dear Paris? Nevaire! Why should I leave my Alphonse, who loves me; my cat, that I adore, and my good, warm little stove?"

Why indeed?

There are other things in life aside from dollars. And Dumesnil knew that very well.

And yet—

Six months later the soprano was swaying audiences in grand opera, London. And the discriminating said they could detect in the wonderful voice a new undertone of sadness.

Ah, me!

Alphonse had proved false, and the cat was dead, and the little stove was cold.

What was it somebody said when he first heard Jenny Lind? "Break her heart and she will sing divinely!" Well, and somebody did break her heart.

It is the way of the world—The way of disillusion.

When Alphonse is true and the cat purrs on the hearth and the fire in the little stove burns brightly, then does life ahead look like a radiant morning. But—

Comes a day when the fire is but ashes, and there is no sweetheart true, and the poor cat is dead. The mirage has risen. The rivers of joy have lost their runnels in life's desert places.

Well, well!

It may be that some sweet day Jules will fill the heart that Alphonse left empty, and another kitty will sing, and the fire in the little stove will flame up again!

Do it Now!

"Have you forgotten that $10 you borrowed of me some time ago?"

"Oh, no; I still have it in mind."

"Well, don't you think this would be a good time to relieve your mind?"—Exchange.

You can buy a ton of steel for twenty-eight dollars. But a ton of steel made into watch springs is worth twenty-eight thousand. The difference? A matter of refinement. Ford Vanadium is the most highly refined steel used in automobile construction—lightest—strongest—safest.

More than 75,000 new Fords into service this season—proof that they must be right. Three passenger Roadster $685—five-passenger touring car $785.
