HAVING A GOOD TIME

We have them with us—we meet them on every corner—in every store—everywhere. The Elks are what their name implies—Brothers—the nearest fraternal earthly brotherhood of any organization now alive—all nationalities, native or naturalized—except negroes are eligible to become Elks—small or large, fat or thin—an Elk is a brother, not alone to his brothers in the order but to anyone in need of a friend—the order is a live one and Portland is certainly having the liveliest time in its career at this time.

We have lost our best proposition—the elevator—pass up the other good items on the ballot if you will but where could a better proposition for civic upbuilding be found than an elevator for the hill folk. Why not have a special bond election for the elevator and that alone, but before voting let the people know why, how and when. Not go at it blind.

LOVE FEAST HELD AT CHAUTAUQUA

Science drew about forty for the daily class work and began in the morning. The Oregon History classes, led by the well known Oregon writer, Eva Emery Dye opened with the camp stools all filled and her talk on the work of Lewis and Clark was a treat for all interested in her work. Dr. Spurgeon's daily Bible Class was attended by almost three hundred enthusiasts, and his opening subject, "Is the Bible the Word of God?" teemed with the earnestness of the well-known Englishman. The Art Department under the leadership of Miss Alice Weister of Portland will open today. The Kindergarten conducted by the Oregon Congress of Mothers is creating wide interest. The work is taught under the Froebel method, and the mothers have secured the services of Miss Clara Ahlgren and two graduate assistants.

Dr. William T. Foster, of Reed College, will have the forum hour Saturday and will address the patrons on the subject, "Education and the Coming Generation." Mrs. L. Olson is the soloist for President Reed's appearance. Attendance is growing larger daily and campers continue to pour in while rooms in the vicinity of the park are at a premium. Weather conditions have been most ideal so far.

A rattling good ball game between Gladstone and Clackamas resulted in a 4 to 2 score for the locals. The pitching of Rankin was a feature, striking out 17 of the Clackamas batters. Burnside's umpiring has given excellent satisfaction. The fielding of both sides was fast and errors were few. Batteries: Gladstone, Rankin and Coshaw; Clackamas, Johnston and Thompson.

Today's program is as follows: 8:11—Summer School. 11:00—Chautauqua Forum; "A Heart to Heart Talk With Young People," Frank P. Sadler, Soloist, Miss Blanche Harbison.

PAGEANTRY is in the air this summer. Representations of incidents of local historical interest through the mediums of tableaux, dances and the like, which have for a number of years been popular in England and this country, are more in vogue than ever before. One of the earliest of this season's pageants was that presented at Croton-on-Hudson for the benefit of the local health league. Many of the descendants of the early Dutch settlers took part in costumes and with settings historically accurate. The illustration shows the miller's ten children as they troop out of the mill to eat their breakfast in the open air. Not only were the costumes of the colonial period, but the songs sung during the two days of the representation were those in words and music familiar to the Dutch ancestors of many of the present day dwellers in the Hudson valley.

HOT WEATHER IN EAST CONTINUES

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Warm is the weather bureau's official designation of the terrible blazing heat which is bathing the eastern half of the continent today and promises to continue tomorrow.

"Fair and warm," was the bureau's soft pedal forecast of continued suffering for all persons from the Mississippi valley eastward. No promise of relief from the present hot wave is held out except in Indiana, Michigan and western New York. There thunder storms and showers are scheduled to break the hot spell.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Slight hope of a break in the torrid wave which is holding this city in its grasp is held out by the weather bureau today.

LAFFERTY TO SUPPORT COLONEL ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Declaring that he does not see "how a genuine progressive can support either Taft or Wilson," Representative Lafferty regular Republican nominee for congress from Oregon, announced today he would support Colonel Roosevelt for president.

"If nothing short of a complete political revolution," said Lafferty, "will put the public in charge of the machinery of government, Roosevelt is the only man willing to lead that revolution, and I firmly believe he will be elected."

"Roosevelt is the greatest man since Gladstone, and I will miss my guess if he is not elected to the presidency for a second time in November. The hackneyed remedies of Taft and Wilson, which propose to deal with the burning industrial questions of this great country by filing a few tedious lawsuits under the Sherman anti-trust law, will be thrown into the discard by the voters when the Roosevelt platform is announced at Chicago and his campaign gets fully underway."

FIGHT IS LOST BY SMALLER LODGES

mittie was satisfied that the subordinate lodges were about evenly divided on the matter. Following the excitement of yesterday's elections and the selection of Rochester as the 1913 reunion site, the forenoon session of the Elks grand lodge today was characterized by calmness and quietude. No fiery orators shook the rafters with full rounded adjectives. Nothing to inspire verbal display occurred. The order of business called for the report on elections. This brought forth a few cheers left over from yesterday. Following this there was a report on the distribution of supplies by the grand lodge to the subordinate lodges.

Getting Even. Mrs. Blumer—We must have the Dulls to dinner. We owe them one. Blumer—Of course. We passed an awful dull evening there, and it is nothing more than right that they should pass one here.—Brooklyn Life

WEATHER FAVORABLE FOR HOP GROWING

In the hopyards of the Valley generally the work of spraying now is actively under way, and with the weather favorable the eradication of vermin is progressing in a satisfactory way. On the whole it is believed that there is no ground for apprehension on account of insect pests in this state this year, and elsewhere on the Coast the situation is said to be similarly encouraging. Hopmen now say there is small danger of weather or other developments that would prevent the state harvesting one of the biggest and best crops in the history of the industry.

What the output of the state will amount to cannot yet be determined with anything like accuracy, but figuring on the present showing in the Valley says dealers that the yield in Oregon this year will in all probability run close to 110,000 bales in Washington it is estimated that the crop will amount to about 33,000 bales, and present estimates on the California product run from 85,000 to 90,000 bales.

Trade for the time is all but at a standstill, very little in the way of business being reported either in the old or new hops. In a more or less nominal way spot goods are quoted at 25 to 27 cents, but there is said to be little demand for old hops, and the scantiness of holdings in the state at this time contributes further to the quiet of the market.

For contracts on the coming crop the demand is similar slack. Occasional deals at 18 to 20 cents are reported, and one contract at the low figure of 17 cents is said to have been put through within the past week. At going quotations of the new crop it is believed that if the demand were sufficient considerable contract business would be possible for the growers in many cases are said to be disposed to sell. The buyers, however, are quite generally inclined to hold back.

CLEAN MILK ESSENTIAL

Are You Doing Your Part for the Sake of the Nation?

Every man, woman and child in the United States uses milk or milk products in some form. Are you doing your part to keep your milk clean and theirs? One of the worst sources of trouble is lack of cleanliness in the care of the milk utensils.

One of the chief things to remember is that milk utensils should never be rinsed in hot water without being first rinsed in cold water. If hot water is used, milk that may remain in the vessel is very likely to be so hardened that it can with difficulty be washed off.

Rinse first in cold water, wash in hot water, using a washing powder if desired, then rinse in boiling water. In the summer, set utensils in sunlight to dry. The final rinsing in hot water not only kills germs but so heats the pails that they will cool off quickly, thus lessening the chance of susting. It is economy to buy only the best grade of pails, cans and strainers. A rusty pail should never be used or one in which the seams have become slightly opened.

A milk house adds very much in the proper care of milk and milk utensils. The size of the house, says Farm and Home, should be proportioned to the number of cows milked. Some will find that a house as small as 8 by 10 feet will be sufficiently large. Such a house should have a concrete floor, cement plaster walls, or at least walls that can be readily washed, and enough windows to let in plenty of light. In summer, floor and windows should be screened.

GOVERNOR TO CLOSE PRISON BRICKYARD

SALEM, Or., July 10.—Confronted with opposition by the local Bricklayers' Union to the manufacture of brick at the penitentiary brick yard, Governor West today directed a letter to the officers and members of the union advising them that the state had no intention of engaging in the brick business and that as soon as the requisite number of brick needed for the state buildings has been manufactured the brickyard will be closed down.

He declares that the brickyard, to begin with, placed brick on the open market only after he was requested to permit it to do so by the unions, and that neither requests from any organization or a famine in the brick business will induce him to manufacture any more brick during the present season. The letter follows:

"It has been brought to my attention through the columns of the press that a resolution was passed by your union declaring against the laying of brick manufactured at the Oregon State Penitentiary and giving out the impression that this office was marketing prison made brick in competition with that made by free labor.

"I wish to call your attention to the fact that no brick was sold by the Oregon State Prison during my administration until I received a request from the president of your honorable body and a letter, signed by the officers and carrying the seal of your union, stating your willingness to lay these bricks. As the request appeared to be promoted by a shortage of brick, this office, being glad of an opportunity to assist in any way in relieving a situation which was keeping many men out of employment, consented to put the brick upon the market. We took it for granted that when conditions had changed so as to make the sale of prison-made brick unnecessary or undesirable we would be officially notified by your honorable body and would be governed accordingly. Up to date no such communication has been received but, on the other hand, this office has been besieged not only by those who were desirous of purchasing brick but by certain manufacturers, asking that we release more of the brick in the prison yard in order that a brick famine might be averted. In spite of these requests, however, we have permitted but 4000 brick to be taken from the yard and these by persons who needed them for special purposes or hurry-up jobs and were without time to send away for them.

"The prison has no intention of launching into the brick business. What sales have been made have been based upon the letter sent this office by your union. All the brick we have on hand have been made for the use of the state and will be held for that purpose. We were willing to continue further, however, and make sufficient to cover any shortage there might be in the brick market, in order that work on buildings now being erected might not be delayed and labor thrown out of employment."

College Men Becoming Scoffers and Pessimists

By the Rev. Dr. CHARLES E. JEFFERSON of the Broadway Tabernacle, New York

OUR universities have more than one hundred thousand students enrolled. We have a right to expect much from college men. Yet college graduates are DISAPPOINTMENTS in some respects.

THE MOST DISAPPOINTING THING OF ALL IS THAT COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN ARE BECOMING SCOFFERS. IT IS A SAD SITUATION WHEN PESSIMISTIC LITERATURE LIKE THAT OF SCHOPENHAUER FINDS MANY READERS AMONG COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN. AMERICA IS DISAPPOINTED FOR THIS REASON IN THOUSANDS OF HER COLLEGE GRADUATES.

How does it happen that so many of you graduates have no faith? Have they had a Mephistopheles for a professor? The Titanic had everything that ingenuity could devise or money could buy. She had an abundance of all luxuries, but not enough lifeboats. Men and women college graduates have many luxuries. I wonder how many are equipped with lifeboats? FAITH IS A TRUE LIFEBOAT.

Our social world is in a mad strait. Our problems are all of a moral nature. The world is calling not for men of book learning, but for MEN OF FAITH.

Goethe used to say that "the unique theme of the history of the world is the conflict of belief and unbelief. The epochs of faith are the marked epochs of human history, full of memories which make the heart beat, while the epochs of unbelief, no matter what their form, vanish in the end into insignificance." The deepest difference in men is NOT ONE OF ENDOWMENT OR INTELLECTUAL ATTAINMENT, but of attitude to the unseen and eternal.
