WEST SIDE HOUSES

Some objection is being voiced by certain city folk to the plan of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company building houses on the West Side but this objection can only be few considering the great benefit to be derived by so many who otherwise would not be able to secure a home of their own.

The claim is that two hundred families on the West Side will reduce the business of Oregon City by that amount, which is not a fact. If the business houses of Oregon City can not offer sufficiently attractive material and prices to draw trade three-fourths of a mile, how can they expect to secure the trade of Clackamas County?

Advertising is the best mode of publicity and it may be true that Oregon City's stores will find it necessary to use more printers' ink, but that would not in any way injure their business under present conditions. The American people like bargains and a store offering a flyer, and properly advertising it, will not only sell the flyer, but many other articles where greater profit results.

It matters not what anyone tries to do for the city or its people, someone will not be satisfied—you cannot satisfy everybody no matter how you try. About two years ago more men than usual were called for and the city was unable to supply the demand. The Willamette Company tried to secure family men to fill the demand. Many came and accepted positions subject to finding homes for their families, returning later and reporting no homes to rent. The matter was taken up by the Live Wires who tried to form a Home Building Association, without success, meantime foreign labor came and filled the positions. The company finally as a last resort decided to provide homes for its men. The first step has been taken; the land purchased; the second step is on—surveying and platting, but if the dissatisfied city folk will build homes for the men on the same plan within the city limits, the Enterprise feels sure the company will be willing to drop the task into equally willing hands. If more family men means greater prosperity to our already large and growing community, no matter whether inside or outside the city's boundary the homes for Willamette Pulp & Paper Company employees will not injure the City's business. Our commercial club is a Clackamas County Club. It is working for the upbuilding of the county as well as Oregon City and this should certainly be a step in the right direction for there never was a more prosperous community anywhere than one where everybody owned his own home. That will be the condition at Willamette Employees Addition on the West Side.

OREGON CITY ELKS.

Oregon City may well be proud of her Elks' lodge, not alone for the good work credited to it at home, but for its great value from a publicity point of view. Oregon City's resources are being exploited in the Elks' official program and many hundreds of visitors have been the result, but the showing made in the great Thursday parade was sufficient to forever show to Portland and her visitors how Oregon City does things. From many points of view Oregon City's lodge's showing was a great benefit to our city and county and our woolen mills now are known to thousands who never before knew Oregon City produced other than paper. Long may our local Elks' lodge lead and prosper.

SPIRITUALISTS HAVE FINE CAMPMEETING

The Fortieth Annual Campmeeting of the Spiritualists is being held at New Era. The attendance is large. Although the weather has been unfavorable for an outdoor gathering. Three services were held last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott Bledsoe of Kansas City, Mo., are the principal speakers. Mrs. Mary Alice Congdon of Portland, who is the President of Oregon State Association of Spiritualists and Mrs. Ladd-Finnigan are in attendance. Music is furnished by an orchestra for the Saturday evening dance and excellent vocal music is furnished Sundays by Mrs. Shackelford of Woodburn. Above the beautiful Willamette river in a grove of imposing fir trees lies the camp ground, an ideal spot for rest and recreation. A good place to spend a day or a week. There are good hotel accommodations at reasonable prices.

If it happened it is in the Enterprise.

VOCAL MUSIC IS CHAUTAUQUA HIT

The growing interest in agricultural work as taught in the public schools and which is at present interesting about 60,000 Oregon school children in competitive work was ably discussed by the well known Miss Leah Stusser again pleased as a soloist at the chautauqua orchestra concert Friday afternoon, preceding the appearance of the operatic company, and also at the evening program, and her beautiful soprano was a delightful "curtain-raiser" for the work of the operatic folk.

Of unusual interest in the morning was Dr. Spurgeon's lecture at the Bible study hour, "Egotism and Dogmatism in Religion." The Britisher's talk was a treat for an unusually large summer school class, several hundred enjoying his talk. Classes are growing fast particularly in the Shakespeare department, where Prof. Bassett of Stanford University is creating a big interest. Domestic science adds eight or ten each day and the building constructed especially for that department is crowded for the daily "cookin' bee." Mrs. Dye's classes in Oregon history, the music class, the art department and the gymnasium work, the kindergarten are all working along under a great system that makes the 1912 summer school the best one in history and fully in keeping with the high class entertainment in the main auditorium.

The Clackamas base ball team was defeated by the Mount Angel aggregation by a score of 10 to 4. Clackamas simply couldn't hit timely and Mount Angel slugged three Clackamas pitchers to all corners of the lot. "Child's Welfare Day" in charge of the Oregon Congress of Mothers is the feature for the forum hour this morning. With Mrs. Robert H. Tate, state president, as chairman for the day, and with Dr. Foster of Reed College as the selected speaker for the meeting of the mothers, the Forum hour is expected to be attended by five or six hundred. The operatic company will fill the auditorium for the afternoon and evening. The program complete follows:

- 8:11—Chautauqua Summer School.
- 11:00—Chautauqua Forum, "Child's Welfare Day," in charge of Oregon Congress of Mothers, Mrs. Robert H. Tate, President.
- Soloist at Bible and Forum Hour, Charles Duncan McNeil, tenor.
- Afternoon.
- 1:15—Concert, Chapman's Orchestra—Soloist Miss Goldie Peterson, dramatic soprano.
- 2:00—The Chicago Operatic Company.
- 3:30—Baseball.
- 7:15—Concert, Chapman's orchestra—Soloist, Miss Goldie Peterson.
- 8:00—The Chicago Operatic Company. An evening of music and drama.

NEBRASKA PORKERS ARRIVE IN MARKET

UNION STOCKYARDS, Portland, July 12.—The livestock run at the yards today was one of liberal proportions all around, the total of arrivals for the two days being 374 cattle, 13 calves, 3486 sheep and 1249 hogs. The hog supply was the biggest seen at the yards in months, and included a consignment of eight carloads of Nebraska porkers, the first shipment from that part of the country for the year to date.

For more than six months the Portland market has been independent of the East for its pork supplies. Now, as today's shipment from Nebraska indicates, available supplies in the Northwest are a little short of prospective requirements, and the chances are that further consignments of Middle Western pork material will be brought in at intervals during the remainder of the year.

The market today opened with evidence of a good general interest on the part of buyers, and a considerable volume of trade in all lines was put through during the first half of the day. In many cases, however, details were not available at noon.

Three carloads of medium-grade steers changed hands early in the day at $6.25 and a few lots of cows of various grades were disposed of at $4 to $6. Helfers sold at $5.30 to $6.15. On the whole the cattle market appeared to have undergone no material change.

LORIMER MAKES DRAMATIC PLEA

Lorimer privately expressed the belief just before he resumed his speech that he would conclude his defense today. The heat in the senate chamber was intense, but this did not deter the crowds. Scores of spectators brought their lunch in preparation for an indefinite stay. Lorimer, who is speaking against the advice of his physicians, appeared worn and tired, but his voice was fresh and strong.

LA FOLLETTE SCORES ROOSEVELT PARTY

MADISON, Wis., July 12.—Senator Robert M. La Follette today went on record as opposed to the third party movement fathered by Colonel Roosevelt. In an editorial in La Follette's Weekly, he not only declares against the Roosevelt move, but scathingly attacked the Colonel's motives in organizing the new party. La Follette's editorial is headed "The Case of Mr. Roosevelt," and he sums up his conclusions as follows:

"Mr. Roosevelt appeals to progressives to join his party. Roosevelt's whole record demonstrates that he has no constructive power, that he is progressive only in words; that he is ever ready to compromise in order to win, regardless of platform promises or progressive principles.

"Bryan at Baltimore, foregoing all chances of his own nomination, marshaling all his forces, braving Tammany and the trusts to rescue his party from their domination, carrying the convention for the adoption of a progressive platform, the most progressive yet offered, was a towering figure of moral power, and patriotic devotion to civic righteousness.

"Roosevelt at Chicago, backed by money derived from the stock watering operations of the steel trust and the harvester trust, organizing what are now confessed to have been 'fake' contests as to nearly 200 delegates in order to control the convention and secure his own nomination, refusing to aid in the making of a progressive platform, bound to have the nomination or destroy the Republican party, was a most striking example of misdirected power and unworthy ambition.

Educated Farmers More Needed Than Lawyers

By JAMES WILSON, Secretary of Agriculture

THE DEMAND OF THE UNITED STATES FOR LAWYERS AND PHYSICIANS IS MORE THAN MET BY THE PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS, WHILE THE DEMAND FOR EDUCATED FARMERS IS STRIKINGLY NEGLECTED.

THE FIELDS ARE CRYING ALOUD FOR TRAINED MEN, while thousands of young men are graduating from our law schools and there are jobs waiting for only a small percentage of them.

Housekeepers are complaining of the cost of living. It would seem to be wise for our educators in their national meetings to consider these problems. It might be wise to consider how many young lawyers will be needed in the next year to take the place of the older men who are dropping out. That could be determined very easily. Then if attention was called to the DEMAND OF THE INDUSTRIES FOR EDUCATED MEN a different direction might be given to many young men who seem to be "drawing their bows at a venture."
