

MAKES GOOD AT LAST.

Mattick Was Tried Out by Chicago For Several Years.
Looks as if Mattick, the western league outfielder, had at last gained a big league berth—the Chicago Americans are going to try him thoroughly. How many years has this Mattick been on the White Sox list and how many spring training trips has he taken with the team? Comiskey surely keeps some of them on the card a long, long time. Some of them come in each spring for the training trip, fall out again and reappear next spring, perhaps never to make the team. Others are farmed out each season, come back again and again and finally get their chance to star. How many years did Louis Flene and Frank Lange do the bobbing up and down act, anyhow?
Perhaps the cruelest joke in this connection was on the Old Roman when he carried Hub Hart so many years. Hub was a fine young catcher when he first joined the team. He was kept on the bench for years, waiting for the time when he should replace Billy Sullivan, and Billy stuck in the harness so steadily that when he was finally disabled and the time of need had come to both the club and Hart, poor Hart had grown so rusty he could hardly catch at all.

INVENTS A "CURVER."

Contrivance to Curve a Baseball Made by a Westerner.
Inventive genius has contributed a great many things to baseball, but the latest and most interesting if not the most important is a device for automatically curving a ball. The success of the invention is yet to be proved as far as practical use is concerned, but if it does all that is claimed for it the small boy will no longer have to spend tedious hours learning to grip the ball for the various shoots and benders.
This device is a small suction cup that is strapped into the fingers by means of a rubber band and is the invention of R. W. Jones of Lincoln, Neb. The suction cup holds the ball and may be shifted to any position with respect to the fingers, thus regulating the size and kind of curve. The cup performs the office of the fingers in ordinary curve throwing, the style of curve depending on the manner in which the ball is released. The inventor claims this contrivance completely solves the mystery of curves and that any one with a good throwing arm can with it slant them over like a Mathewson or an Ames.

BAUMGARDNER LOOKS GOOD.

St. Louis Pitcher May Prove to Be Another Walter Johnson.
The St. Louis Browns appear to have discovered something that may be to them what Walter Johnson is to Washington. He is a young pitcher named George Baumgardner. He first attracted attention in the spring series between the Browns and Cardinals, but his real fame came on his first time out in an American league game, when he was pitted against Ed Walsh of the White Sox and outpointed him. Then when he went out his second time and held the same White Sox for fifteen innings without a run his name was on the lips of every fan.

Baumgardner is good, and, like so many good men who have come into the majors, he is as "green" as they make them. A story is told concerning his first game—that in which he beat Ed Walsh. An admirer remarked that it was a noteworthy feat. Baumgardner wasn't impressed that way. "Who is this fellow Walsh?" he asked. He was told that "Big Ed" is considered by many the greatest pitcher in the game. "It's so good why don't some of the National league clubs draft him?" inquired Baumgardner innocently. He has since been told that the American league, in which he promises to win fame, is a major organization just like the National.

Weaver Looks Like a Find.
Buck Weaver, the Chicago American's short fielder, looks like a find for Callahan. He is a stone wall on defense and has an arm that is the envy of many a big league veteran.

LIFE'S PATTERN.
"Take your needle, my child, and work at your pattern. It will come out a rose by and by." Life is like that—one stitch at a time taken patiently and the pattern will come out all right, like the embroidery.—

It was in the manufacture of textiles that woman first appeared in industry outside of the home.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

SUCCESSFUL SUCCESS.

April 26 there died in the city of Chicago one of the very few successful men who have ever lived.
Reference is here made to the late Dr. D. K. Pearsons, the fine souled philanthropist, who lived ninety-two years.
Having accumulated a fortune of $7,000,000 by real estate investments, he started when eighty years of age to give it away. He helped endow more than fifty small, struggling colleges, because he believed the small college afforded poor young people the best chance. He also gave largely to charity and for fifty years aided young men to get an education.
Dr. Pearsons gave away every dollar of his big fortune, reserving only a small life annuity to keep his soul and body together till death.
He was doubly successful.
Many men have known the satisfaction of making much money. Few have known both the joy and pride of the victor in making a fortune and the pride and joy of the philanthropist in giving every bit of it away. He was twice successful.
He lived a completed life.
Which is a rare accomplishment. Death when it comes to most men finds them with unfinished plans, or, if their plans are successfully worked out, there yet remains the problem of the successful administration of their affairs when they shall be dead. They "heap up riches knowing not who will gather it." They know the lawyers will gather some. And they fear lest the heirs may dissipate the remainder. Dr. Pearsons was his own executor. He successfully administered his estate while living. And he had the pleasure in the disbursement of his wealth of seeing the good it would do. His money went where he wanted it to go and for the good of mankind.
Successful old man!
He went to the limit of benevolence. Other millionaires give away money, but not all of it. Some of them cannot keep up with the natural increase and are in grave danger of "the disgrace of dying rich." Giving all, Dr. Pearsons, of all the rich men of his day, was the one successful giver.
Success is like a pyramid. Broad at the base, broad as the thronging millions who live their little day and die in or fall. Tapering upward, its form narrows and scattered along its sides are the few who have been fairly successful. At its top—their bright figures lit up with the pure sunshine of merited fame—are the very few who have lived a completed and successful life.
Of these the gentle hearted nonagenarian who died in Chicago was one.

Knights and Ladies TO START CAMPAIGN

At the regular meeting of the Winnetka Council, Knights and Ladies of Security tomorrow evening, the Councils of Portland will put on a campaign with this council for a membership of 1000 new members to be initiated in a class at Portland in September, when the National officers of Topeka, Kansas, will be there.
At tomorrow night's meeting it is expected that the delegates to the National Convention held at Los Angeles, Cal., last month will make their report. Refreshments will be served during the evening by a committee composed of W. C. Green, R. E. Woodward, Mrs. Clemie Wood, Mrs. M. P. Chapman, Mrs. J. G. Howell. All the members will no doubt be in attendance.

BERNICE BARLOW IS DELIGHTFUL HOSTESS

Bernice Barlow, was a most delightful little hostess Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Harding, when she entertained about fourteen of her young friends the occasion being the celebration of her sixth birthday. The afternoon was devoted to out-of-door games and Miss Nieta Harding and Miss Evelyn Harding assisted in entertaining the young people. One of the features of the afternoon was the luncheon served in the prettily decorated dining room the color scheme being of pink and white. The table was among the attractions with its decorations of pink ramblers, favors of the same color, and the table centered with a large birthday cake upon which were six pink candles. The little hostess received many pretty gifts.
Those attending were Claribel LaMont, of Portland, Maxine Meldrum, Dorris Meldrum, Thelma Randall, Bernice Barlow, George Brodie, Dorothy Maslin, Jay Maslin, Alice Dawson, Mabel Dawson, Herbert Barlow, Charlotte Martin, Edward Humphrys, Nan Lovett.

Welsh Wedding Custom.

In the following quaintly formal letter the parents of Welsh brides sometimes bid their friends attend the wedding and bid them also not to come empty handed: "Whatever donation you may be pleased to bestow will be thankfully received and cheerfully repaid whenever called for on a similar occasion. The parents of the bride and bridegroom elect desire that all gifts due to them will be returned to them on the above date and will be thankful for all favors granted."

Can These Be Answered?

Stories from Out of Town

SUNNYSIDE AND ROCK CREEK.

Another baby boy came to Ed. Ott's to live recently, making four children. Mother and baby doing nicely.

Will Sumner, who was having a well drilled on his place, has about 100 feet of water in it. He surely had good luck.

People around here are rushing their naying this fine weather. Grain is ripening fast.

Mr. Whitney had the misfortune to lose a nice cow last Saturday. They called in several men to learn the cause of her death, and dissected her, but could find no clue. She appeared as if poisoned.

Mrs. Ellis arrived in Portland from Minnesota last Friday morning. A washout on the line delayed their arrival a day. They are living at their home now at Rock Creek.

Mrs. A. Hunter was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital last Monday and underwent an operation for cancer. Report says it was quite successful, and we are glad to say she is doing as well as possible. The neighbors are all interested in hearing of her improvement and hope for a complete recovery. She is well known and greatly respected by the entire community.

STAFFORD.

Farmers are busy this week securing their hay, which is not injured as much as was expected and they think these sunny days will cure it. It is said that all things come to those who "labor and wait" and the farmers about here mended their fences (not political fences) and did other work while they waited for sunshine which they knew would surely shine on Oregon.

Fred Ellingsen has invitations out for a barn raising on Thursday.

The picnic in Gages' grove was quite a success. A bountiful dinner and supper was partaken of with a relish, and a delicious punch was made by the girls. The hours sped quickly away with recitations, singing, croquet and other games and all went home happy, feeling satisfied that they had enjoyed the Fourth.

One wedding is reported for the week that of Miss Mary Scheiwe and Fred Schaubert. We wish Fred has got a good wife.

Adolph Delkar is still confined to the house from the effects of the kick from his horse. He is bearing the confinement as a man can when there is so much to do on a farm just at this time of the year, and help scarce, but it might have been a broken leg.

We heard a few days ago that Mrs. Mella Millem had been taken from her home near Mt. Tabor, to the Sellwood hospital for an operation, and the attending physicians found that she was suffering from a cancer in an advanced stage, and gave her but a few days to live, but we still hope to hear that she has rallied and will be with us a while longer.

Quite a large crowd attended the dance given by Mr. Slickhouser on the 4th of July.

Mr. Galbreath is working at the oil well.

The Rebekah Lodge members were invited to Newberg on Tuesday evening and about fifteen accepted the invitation and went in Mr. Stangel's launch. The company was met in Newberg by members of the lodge there, who accompanied them in automobiles to the beautiful new lodge room, where they spent a delightful evening.

BLACK CHIP AND WHITE PLUMES
The much over worked willow plume is a thing of yesterday, having gone to well deserved rest in the grave of styles passe. In its place have come the aigrette, long popular, but this year on the very crest of the wave; and the always beautiful always serviceable ostrich plume, both curled and uncurled. A graceful arrangement of the curled plumes is achieved in the hat sketched above. This model was of fine, black chip, having a high crown and wide indented brim with most becoming curves. This hat is entirely untrimmed except for the black and white feathers massed at the left of the brim and drooping gracefully over the crown.

IN TOUCH WITH FRIENDS and RELATIVES

A GRANDMOTHER may not be as spry as she used to be but she is in close touch with her world for all of that.

The telephone enables her to make as many calls as she pleases, and in all sorts of weather.
Formal gatherings have their place, but it is the many little intimate visits over the telephone that keep people young and interested—Grandmother's telephone visits do not stop with her own town. The Long Distance Service of the Bell Telephone takes her to other towns, and allows relatives and friends to chat with her although hundreds of miles away.
