J.N. Green Stamps are rewards which the merchants below give you for trading with them. In that practical way these merchants share their profits with you. By that means they increase their business; get spot cash with which to discount their bills, and take advantage of the markets—by buying for less they are enabled to sell for less. The truth then, is, that when you buy from one of the merchants who give J.N. Green Stamps you usually pay less than when you buy of the merchants who do not give J.N. Stamps. You pay nothing for the Stamps. They are free to you.

The J.N. Premiums are within easy reach of everyone who buys food and clothing, dry goods or what-not. They are offered as a special inducement for your cash trade.

The merchants below are the live and progressive merchants of Oregon City who give the justly Famous and Original J.N. Green Trading Stamps:

English Place Names.
England can boast that no other country possesses so many Scriptural place names as it does. The name Jericho occurs six times on the ordnance maps, Paradise five times and Nineveh, Mount Zion, Mount Ararat and Mount Ephraim three times each. In Bedfordshire there is a Calvary wood and in Dorsetshire a Jordan hill.

Chinese Sausages.
In China sausages are made of meat from the hind thighs of hogs, which are chopped fine, mixed with four drams of sugar, rice wine and table salt, eight drams of soy and a pinch of pepper to every one and one-third pounds and dried in the sun until ready for tinning. Dried oysters and ducks' livers are added to some varieties.

The Traitors' Gate.
One of the most famous entrances in the world is doubtless the ancient Traitors' gate, in the Tower of London. It was through this portal for several centuries that traitors were conducted from the shores of the river Thames into the tower. To Americans probably the most familiar of these unfortunates was Sir Walter Raleigh.

The Two Sexes.
Miss Lillian Russell on one occasion was congratulated on her unfading beauty and on her high spirits. Miss Russell, laughing gayly, replied: "A woman is as happy, you know, as she looks pretty."
"And a man?" said her interlocutor.
"Oh, a man," she answered, "is as happy as he feels important."

Probably.
The witness testified that he had been knocked down by a motorcar and that the chauffeur, who was joy riding, had given no warning of his approach. "Do you mean," asked the judge, "that he didn't have a horn?"
"No, your honor," replied the witness; "I think he'd had too many."—Judge.

Herod's Love For Marianna.
Herod the Great loved Marianna, his wife, so devotedly that when he was summoned to Rome by Augustus to answer certain charges made against him and was afraid he might never return he left her in care of three trusted servants, with orders that if he himself were put to death by Augustus she was to be immediately killed.

The Word "Nugget."
"Nugget" was formerly used to signify a bit or lump of anything, as a nugget of tobacco. Nowadays, however, it is used principally of gold as it comes from the mine. This use is Australian. Governor Sir William Denison of Australia wrote in 1852: "In many instances the gold is brought to market in lumps or nuggets, as they are called."
