Mr. Green is able to enjoy the surf bathing. He accompanied several persons who are guests at the Boylan home, to the clam beds, a few days ago.

This was the first time the young man had enjoyed clam digging, and he set to work with the rest of the party which opened the shell, and the young man "beat it" to some where else where clams were scarce. He did not like the looks of the clam and could not be persuaded to return. The others continued with their task of gathering clams for the evening meal, and when they were set before Robert he decided they looked better to him dead than alive, and decided they are not so bad after all.

EVENING GOWN.

A girlish evening frock is this with modified panner and high waistline. The little short waist is gathered very slightly into the square neck which is outlined by a band of lace insertion. A garland of dainty roses is draped over the front of the bodice and a similar garland catches up the drapery of the sleeves. The gown is made of blue marquisette over self-tone silk, the latter showing between the "pannier" drapery of marquisette. The fullness of the panner is gathered at the bottom of the skirt into a narrow band of lace, below which are two ruffles of lace edging.

PAINTING THE GOOD

to paint, chatting with her while he drew her out. I touched on the good as I understood it, and a responsive expression appeared on her face. I spoke of evil things, and there was no response whatever, showing that evil had no place in her nature; she only knew it by name. When I had partly finished the picture I thought I would try an experiment. I would tell her that she was sitting as a model for the good. The information drew forth a look of astonishment.

"Why, I am not good," she said. "That you are unconscious of being good proves to me that you are."

"Eureka!" I wrote my friend. "I am your debtor for life since you have found for me the model I needed. My fortune is made."

"Nonsense," was the reply. "You have fallen in love. I thought it time you were settled, so I proposed to send you medals for the good, knowing that if you loved, the woman you loved would represent the good in your eyes."

I wrote back denying the allegation, but time proved her right.

WEST MAKES WAR UPON SINGLE TAX

GOVERNOR AND TAX COMMISSION TO SUBMIT PLAN.

Oregon Equal Taxation League Joins Hands With Executive Against Tricky U'Ren and Fels Fund Propaganda.

At the request of the State Tax Commission, which intends in its own measures to prosecute vigorously the war against Single Tax, the Oregon Equal Taxation League withdrew its initiative petition against Single Tax. This petition was signed by almost 14,000 registered voters and represented the sentiment of at least 50,000 voters, whom it was impossible to reach in time. The signatures were obtained by voluntary circulators, most of them farmers. Over 12,000 of the signatures were obtained outside Multnomah County.

Fearing a chaotic condition in the minds of voters, Governor West wrote to the Equal Taxation League in Portland requesting that their measure be withdrawn.

Issue Clear Says West.

By so doing, he said, "the issue will be clearly drawn between two systems of taxation—one of which is Single Tax, the other in opposition to Single Tax, and at the same time presenting a rational plan of tax reform which will remove many of those causes which breed discontent, and give life and support to many radical schemes of taxation."

The letter was signed by Governor Oswald West, Secretary of State Ben W. Oelcott, State Treasurer Thomas B. Kay and Tax Commissioners J. B. Eaton and Charles W. Galloway.

"While not specifically declaring against Single Tax the bills of the State Tax Commission will have the effect of nullifying the U'Ren campaign, and make it impossible to secure Single Tax county legislation by trickery or otherwise," said Phil Matschan, president of the Equal Taxation League.

"The decided stand taken by the Governor and the Tax Commission against Single Tax renders it unnecessary for our league to bring our bill before the people at the next election."

Joint Work to Be Done.

"Our organization will now get behind the Commission's reforms and at the same time we shall continue our campaign against the Single Tax measures proposed by U'Ren and the paid beneficiaries and emissaries of the Fels Fund."

In writing to the Tax Commission and agreeing to withdraw its measure, the Equal Taxation League said:

"It appears to us, in view of the definite stand your Commission has taken against Single Tax, that by joining forces with you, the opposition to the Single Tax propaganda in Oregon will be concentrated and made more effective; and that confusion will be avoided. In other words, as you say, the issue will be clearly drawn between two systems of taxation—one of which is Single Tax and the other in opposition to Single Tax."

The numbers of the tax measures on the ballot, which will bar Single Tax are 304, 306 and 308.

TEACHERS IN OPPOSITION.

If any one class of persons might be expected to favor Single Tax, it would be teachers and those who have studied Henry George's "Progress and Poverty." Yet the instructors of Oregon revolt at the scheme. They realize that Single Tax spells state ownership, and while personally they might be a little the gainer—for a time—they know that ultimately the taxes will be just as high or higher, for precisely the same sum as before will have to be raised. Willard W. Austen, County School Superintendent of Grant County, who lives at Hamilton, Oregon, is but one of the many teachers who boldly expresses himself on the subject. "I am now and have always been strongly opposed to the Single Tax idea," comments County School Superintendent Austen.

ACTION PLEASES NEWSPAPER.

The Grants Pass Observer recently had this to say, following the action of the Josephine County Grange in condemning the proposed Single Tax measure: "The action of the State Grange in condemning the proposed Single Tax bill will go a long way to putting an end to that fake measure in Oregon. No landowner who understands the Single Tax scheme will be foolish enough to vote for a measure, the real purpose of which is to destroy all private ownership in land."

WOODEN SIDEWALKS TO BE REPLACED BY CEMENT

The wooden sidewalk fronting the property of the Seventh Street Hotel, owned by J. H. Mattley, and that in front of the Duane Ely store, is being removed, and a cement walk will be constructed. Harry Jones has the contract of the building of the Ely sidewalk. Mr. Mattley, besides having the walk in front of his home will have cement steps and walk leading to his house.

THE BRIGHT SPOTS.

No man knows his strength or his weakness till occasion proves it. If there be some thoughts and actions of his life from the memory of which a man shrinks with shame, surely there are some which he may be proud to own and remember—forgiven injuries, conquered temptations (now and then) and difficulties vanquished by endurance.

SPUD GROWERS WAIT FOR SHIPPING PRICES

The weakness at present in the potato trade is probably the greatest ever known in this section.

Sales of fancy stuff of the new crop are being made as low as 60c per cental in Portland and no producers are asking more than 75c for quality. At the latter price there is scarcely any movement and the lower figure fails to enthruse buyers to any extent.

Quality of arrivals is rather good and it will not be long before outside shipment can be safely made. Until this is possible the market cannot be otherwise than a nominal affair because of the peddling from store to store by nearby producers.

Quite a fair supply of old potatoes remains. Some of these have come forward from the Hood River section. Receivers are unable to move them for the simple reason that all buyers have more than their requirements and are not speculating. It is stated that one big lot from the apple section has been going begging at 25c a cental, but up to this time no sales of consequence have been made. It is stated that growers of this stock were freely offered $1.50 per cental last fall but wanted more money. Therefore they are compelled to stand the loss.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:

DRIED FRUITS—(Buying), Prunes on basis 6 to 8 cents.
