Deneen Supports Taft

"As Taft is the nominee of the Republican party," says Gov. Deneen, "I will support him." This disposes of the hope that the third party would have the great body of the Republican leaders in Illinois on its side. "A full state ticket favorable to Roosevelt must be nominated in Illinois," says Senator Dixon, after getting Deneen's decision. This is the ultimatum of the colonel's national campaign manager. Most of the Republican state officers take Deneen's side, and will cling to the party. This news will help to brace up Republicans all over the country.

Hurry, Fret and Worry Curse of Every American

By the Rev. A. EUGENE BARTLETT of Chicago. AMERICANS ARE GOOD WORKERS, BUT VERY POOR WAITERS. They cleared the forests in a quick, wasteful way for their first planting. They did not stop for a careful survey before they laid out the streets in many an eastern city. They simply LET THE COWS LAY OUT THE PATHS and hastily made them afterward into streets. Because Americans are unwilling to wait for a properly finished product we have many things manufactured with little reference to quality. So many are asking HOW CHEAP RATHER THAN HOW GOOD, that there is always a market for the inferior goods sold at bargain prices. EVERYWHERE THROUGHOUT AMERICA WE SEE THE EVIDENCES OF HURRY, FRET, MEN ARE IGNORING NATURAL PROCESSES. THEY ARE TEARING OPEN BUDS TO SEE WHY THE BLOSSOMS ARE SO SLOW IN COMING OUT.

Governor Marshall and His Wife Are Constant Companions

GOVERNOR MARSHALL of Indiana and his wife are inseparable, and they don't care who knows it. When President Taft invited the governor, with other state executives, to join him on a trip down the Mississippi the Hoosier statesman declined to be of the party because, as he frankly said, in the fourteen years of their married life he and Mrs. Marshall had never been separated and he did not wish to break the rule of his household. Mrs. Marshall, who was Miss Lois I. Kinsey, travels with the governor on campaigning trips, talking with the voters she meets, but not on political subjects. She is a college bred woman and may be classed as "strong minded," but she is at the same time of domestic tastes, and she and her husband live quietly, not caring much for "society" and entertaining seldom and simply. Mrs. Marshall is said to believe that the place in which a woman can exert the greatest influence is the home circle, which includes her church relations (she and the governor are Presbyterians), and that public life should be reserved for the man. She has never taken part in public functions unless they were of a religious or semireligious character.

BIBLE CLASS QUESTION CLUB OFFERS RARE CHANCE

The object of the International Press Bible Question Club is to promote, through the press, thought and investigation on the teaching of Scripture in connection with the International Sunday School Lessons. To this end some very valuable prizes are offered on very simple terms. These are to be given to the Morning Enterprise readers in connection with the other papers that join the I. P. B. J. C. during the current three months fifty prizes, viz: Five solid gold medals, five sterling silver medals, five teacher's Bibles, worth $5.50 each, thirty-five copies of "The Heart of Christianity," price $1.50 each. This book is said to be the best thing written in this century, on its vital subject. The gold and silver medals are beautifully engraved with an emblematic design, and the name of the winner will be engraved on the reverse side. It will be no small honor to be a gold or silver medalist in this great International organization. Any person who takes up this simple course of study stands a good chance of receiving that honor. The simple conditions are: (1) That commencing July 18, the International Sunday School Lessons must be read and "The Suggestive Questions" for 52 consecutive weeks, and a coupon should be cut out of this paper each week and signed, certifying in writing any five of the questions that are indicated to be so answered, getting help from any source, if that is necessary; (2) Within one week of the close of the contest must deliver to this office all the coupons which have been cut out, together with the five written answers. The prizes will then be awarded to those who hand in the greatest number of coupons. If two or more send in an equal number of coupons, the tie, or ties, will be broken by an examination of the written answers, and the prizes will be awarded to those who get the highest number of marks from an impartial examination of the answers. Subscribe for the Morning Enterprise.

Your Questions Answered

If you would like to have answered any particular question each or any week from "The Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson" by Rev. Dr. Linscott, send in your request to this office giving the date of the lesson and the number of the question you wish answered. You may select any question except the one indicated that it may be answered in writing by members of the club. Dr. Linscott will answer the questions either in these columns or by mail through this office. Don't forget to state what benefit these "Suggestive Questions" are to you. Give your full name and address. Send your letters to the Question Editor of the Morning Enterprise.

$75,000,000 LAND SUIT GOES TO TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—The Government's suit to recover 2,300,000 acres of valuable agricultural and timber lands in Oregon, valued at $75,000,000, from the Oregon & California Railroad Company, a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific Company, was resumed here before Miss M. A. Fleming, United States Special Examiner. William Singer Jr., representing the company, asked B. D. Townsend, special assistant to Attorney-General Wickersham, if it was desirable to admit newspapermen, who, he said, if they were admitted, "would write whatever they wanted." "I think by all means," answered Mr. Townsend, "that this should be a public hearing." B. A. McAllister, land commissioner of the Oregon & California, the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific and formerly for the Union Pacific, testified that he kept full records of land grants and that there had been no sales of importance since the present suit was brought. Attorney W. D. Fenton, for the company testified that it was the policy of the company to induce settlement by every means possible and that such would be the policy now if the Government had not brought the present suit. The Government's suit, which is the largest land suit ever filed in the United States courts, was filed in September, 1908. The complaint charges that prior to the filing, the railroad had sold 820,000 acres of land of which 526,000 acres were sold in violation of the terms of the original grant. Under the grant, the railroad was allowed to sell land only to actual settlers, in lots not exceeding 160 acres, each. The Government seeks to show that 400,000 acres were sold in parcels exceeding 1000 acres each. Among the larger alleged sales are 77,000 acres to the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company, and 60,000 acres to A. B. Hammond, of San Francisco, and his lumber companies, at prices ranging from $5 to $40 an acre. Associated with the railroad attorneys in the defense is John M. Gearty, of Portland, formerly United States Senator, representing the Union Trust Company.

Jovial on the Scaffold

Sir Thomas More, who was beheaded in 1535, was famous for his wit. "He died," says the chronicler, "with an unconcern that in others would have appeared to be levity, but in him was nature." He jested on the scaffold, and he had been just as humorous during his imprisonment. With a pathetic touch which is never absent from the true humorist he closed all his windows when they took his books from him. "It is time to shut up shop," he said, "when the wares are all gone."
