NATIONS WARNED BY U. S. SENATE

LODGE RESOLUTION, MORE EXPLICIT THAN MONROE DOCTRINE, IS ADOPTED

ONLY FOUR VOTES CAST AGAINST IT

Country Will Not Allow Naval Or Military Sites Pass Into Control Of Foreign Corporations

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The United States Senate issued a warning today to the nations of the world against encroachment upon the continents of North and South America.

"The United States will not see 'without grave concern,' said the Senate any suitable naval or military site pass into control of a foreign corporation, when such possession might threaten the communication or the safety of the United States."

So vital were the issues discussed in the Lodge resolution, which set forth the policy of the United States, as to points situated like Magdalena Bay, in Lower California, that the doors of the Senate were closed for three hours while the resolution was debated in secret session.

It finally passed with only four votes against it. Notwithstanding the comparative unanimity of the Senate upon the note of warning, it is understood the measure did not have the official endorsement of the Administration. It was framed entirely outside the State Department and it is understood the executive branch of the Government was not consulted with regard to the Senate's pronouncement.

The resolution arose from the reported attempt of a Japanese syndicate to secure land about Magdalena Bay. In the form finally adopted by the Senate it declares against the acquisition of any threatening location by a foreign corporation, "which has such a relation to another government not American as to give that government practical power of control for naval or military purposes."

GREEN DECLARES HE WAS PROVOKED

POLICEMAN AVERS PROSECUTING WITNESS CALLED HIM VILE NAME

MAN HIT ONLY ONCE, SAYS DR. FORD

Stinson Insists That He Was Struck Six or Seven Times and Charges Policeman With Allowing Prisoner To Escape

Admitting that he struck Ernest Stinson one blow, and declaring that he had provoked, Policeman S. R. Green at a hearing before Mayor Dimick Friday night, made a good witness for himself. Green's story in part was corroborated by Dr. T. B. Ford, pastor of the Methodist church, who parted the men. Policeman Frost's testimony also was favorable to the accused policeman. The controversy started over the escape of a man Green had arrested. Stinson sent for the policeman on the night of July 24 and informed him that two intoxicated men had insulted his daughter and her escort while they were standing at the foot of the stairway to their home above the Wells-Fargo Express Office.

The offenders had left when Green arrived but they were traced to the Southern Pacific station. Stinson, his daughter and her escort Ralph Coup accompanied Green to the station and pointed out the men. One of them was said to have drawn a pistol on the couple as they passed the steps. Green declares that he searched the man accused of having drawn a pistol and found two bottles of whisky in his pockets. Green told the men they were under arrest and started to the jail with them. He says he asked Stinson and Coup to assist him. "This the others deny, but they went to the jail and just as Green was unlocking the door one of the men escaped.

Green said he heard the next day that Stinson blamed him for allowing the man to escape. He met Stinson in the evening in front of the city hall and catching him by the arm led him up the alley. An excited conversation occurred and finally Green struck Stinson. The policeman says he only struck one blow, but Stinson and others testified that more blows were struck. Dr. Ford, who was a witness, said only one blow was struck. Stinson filed the following complaint against Green with the Council Committee on Police and Mayor Dimick: "That on the night of July 25, he, said S. R. Green, under pretense of wanting to communicate something to me, took me by the shoulder and led me from Main street easterly on the alley on which the jail is situated to a point just behind the firehouse, there called me an opprobrious name and proceeded to beat me with his fists.

"That during all of said time the said S. R. Green was acting as policeman of Oregon City and had on his star of office, and did all that he did without excuse, reason or provocation and with malice.

"That during said time I would not and did not defend myself for the reason that he was an officer and had his star on, and he, during all of said time, knew that I would not defend myself for those reasons."

Stinson, the first witness, related how the drunken men had insulted his daughter and Coup and how Green had arrested them. He, however, insisted that the policeman did not

CUTTING ANOTHER MELON.

PAROLED ON PROMISE TO GIVE WIFE HIS PAY

David LaCure, a member of Company E, of Portland, was found guilty of non-support by County Judge Beatie Friday and sentenced to serve one year in jail. Upon LaCure promising to let his wife draw his wages he was paroled. Judge Beatie obtained a place for him in this city. LaCure was arrested in Portland when the soldiers returned from the maneuvers in Washington. He said that he had not been well enough to support his family, and that while ill had earned $1 a day as a laborer. The evidence showed that LaCure wasted his earnings.

search the man he was informed had the pistol and that the policeman did not ask him and Coup to assist in the arrest, but instead told them their services were not needed. He testified that he ran several blocks after the fleeing man. Stinson said the next evening he was talking to J. E. Hill in front of the city hall when Green accosted him and called him a name. Then Green called him more names and struck him six or seven times. Stinson told about Dr. Ford leading him away and telling Green he must not strike the witness again. The witness said he had drunk about three glasses of beer in the afternoon.

Frank Beck, proprietor of the Portland Hotel, testified that Green called Stinson a name and struck him twice. He said Dr. Ford rushed down the alley and said to Green, "That mustn't be allowed." Dr. Ford led Stinson away. Hill, who was talking with Stinson when Green approached, said that the policeman asked Stinson why he was making the disturbance about the prisoner getting away. Green said, according to the witness, "If you had anything to say why didn't you come to me?" Hill testified that Stinson retorted, "Why didn't you take hold of those fellows like a man."

Green then led Stinson up the alley. The witness declares that he left and of course did not see any blows struck.

Agnes Stinson, daughter of the prosecuting witness told of the arrest of the men and what led up to Policeman Green being called Coup, her escort repeated the story, and when pressed by Gordon E. Hayes, who represented Green, said so far as he knew the policeman did his duty. He denied, however, that Green asked him and Stinson to assist in the arrest.

"I was on my way to prayer meeting when I passed the alley and saw the commotion," said Dr. Ford. "I saw Green take Stinson up the alley but heard no conversation. I asked bystanders if Stinson was drinking and was told he was not. I was informed that Stinson had accused Green of allowing a prisoner to get away. Both men were excited and Green finally struck Stinson on the jaw. I saw only one blow struck. I rushed up to the men and said to Green, 'That will never do.' Green said, 'I will allow no man to call me that name.' I said to Green, 'You can arrest him but you can not beat him up.' I then led Stinson away. Policeman Frost came up before we left."

Policeman Green said that he searched the man Stinson, his daughter and Coup said had the gun and found two bottles of whisky in his pockets. He declared that he deputized the two men to assist in making the arrests. He explained that while he was opening the jail door one of the men escaped. He could only watch one man and thought Stinson and Coup were watching the other one.

"I heard the next day that Stinson was blaming me for allowing the man to escape," said the witness, "and when I saw Stinson I asked him about it. He called Shaw and Frost bad names and said he had no need for either of them. I took him back in the alley, and when I suggested that I had deputized him and Coup to watch the man who escaped he called me a bad name, and I knocked him against the fence. I struck him only once."

Policeman Frost testified that he was in City Attorney Story's office the day following the arrest when E. L. Shaw, Stinson, and Stinson's daughter came in. Stinson wanted to know why the man who had been arrested had not been tried, and it was explained that there was no judge in the city. Frost

MISS MOLLY BARLOW GIVES TOWN FOUNTAIN

Miss Mollie Barlow and Mrs. T. M. Miller went to Barlow Friday to visit relatives and also to inspect the beautiful drinking fountain, which was recently presented to the city of Barlow by Miss Barlow. The fountain has been needed for years and the gift by a former resident is highly appreciated. The fountain is 15 feet high, and is a most attractive ornament to Barlow. Miss Barlow is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Barlow, well known and prominent Oregon pioneers, from whom the town of Barlow received its name. Miss Barlow is held in the highest esteem by all the residents of Barlow, where she made her home until her removal to Portland several years ago.

T. R. TO MAKE 500 SPEECHES ON TOUR

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 2.—Personal appeals to the electors of forty states will mark the campaign of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency. This was announced here today with the further detail that he expects to deliver 500 speeches during the tour.

Colonel Roosevelt today said that President Taft's speech of acceptance discussed "dead," not live, issues. The colonel's declaration on the negro question will be published tomorrow. He has indicated that he will stand for "illy whiteism" in the south, but will demand more liberal treatment of the northern negroes by politicians.

Boost your city by boosting your daily paper. The Enterprise should be in every home.

Mayor Dimick announced that the hearing would be resumed at 7:30 o'clock next Monday night when several witnesses for Green will testify.

TREASURE SAVED FROM DYNAMITERS

SAFE OF PLACER MINE COMPANY AT CORNUCOPIA IS BLOWN BY ROBBERS

MEN FRIGHTENED AWAY BY FOREMAN

Brave "Hello" Girl Arouses Neighborhood And Soon Has Large Posse In Search Of Daring Outlaws

BAKER, Or., Aug. 2.—Masked men broke into the office of the Underwood Placer Mines Company, at Cornucopia, rolled down an embankment the safe containing gold nuggets valued at thousands of dollars, at 1 o'clock this morning and dynamited it.

They were interrupted by Foreman Charles Camel, of Walla Walla, who is in charge of the plant, and fired several shots at him, one of which slightly wounded him, but he called help and frightened them away without their booty.

Mrs. R. S. Bisher, telephone operator, who yesterday saved Halfway from a serious fire by calling out the farmers and townspeople, was appealed to and she rang people out of bed and urged them to start in search of the safecrackers.

The entire Pine Valley was notified by breakfast time and parties have passed the day in search. A. C. Stephens, Deputy Sheriff of Baker county, in that district, suspected two men and telephoned to Baker for aid, but as Sheriff Rand could not cover the 90 miles to the mine in time to help told him to arrest the men. They have not been apprehended yet.

WIFE, SING, CALLS MAN FAULT-FINDING

Alleging that her husband has been cruel and fault-finding, Esther Madsen of Portland, Friday filed suit for divorce against Carl Madsen. They were married in Salt Lake City, Utah, September 5, 1905. The plaintiff says that soon after her husband told her he did not love her and wished she would leave. She avers that he sued her in Portland for a divorce in 1910, and in July 1912 she and their two children left him. The plaintiff alleges that her husband is worth about $5,000 and earns $150 a month. She asks $2,000, $50 a month alimony and the custody of their children.

MRS. TUOR ENTERTAINS AT WILLAMETTE HOME

Mrs. Tuor, of Willamette, entertained a party of friends Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. John Elliott, of Kansas City, Mo. A five o'clock dinner was among the features of the afternoon. The table was prettily decorated with cut flowers. Those attending were Mrs. C. K. Bevens, Mrs. R. A. Junken, Mrs. Henry Waldron, Mrs. W. C. Elliott, Mrs. John Elliott.
