

No Gift.
“Does that cow give much milk?”
“No,” said the hired man firmly.
“She doesn’t give a drop.”
“Why not?”
“Because,” replied the milkman, who had been kicked forty rods the night before, “you have to take it away from her.”

TAFFETA BLOUSE

The serviceable and yet dainty little blouse above was developed in dark blue summer silk with dainty touches of white on sleeves and collar which relieve the somber effect and make for more perfect cleanliness. This is an excellent model for travelling as the collar of batiste and embroidery over the square silk collar of the blouse, and also the cuffs, may be removed and laundered very easily. The square collar of the taffeta is hem-stitched. The batiste collar and cuffs are bordered with embroidery bands and finished with narrow ruffles.

Heart to Heart Talks.
By EDWIN A. NYE.

CONSULT YOUR WIFE.
If you contemplate some important step in business without consulting your wife—
Don’t!
Her woman’s insight is likely to be worth as much as your deliberate reasoning.
Some one says:
“When a man has foiled step by step up a night of stairs to the top of some accomplishment he will be sure to find a woman, though she may not be able to tell how she got there.”
A man reaches his conclusion by the slow steps of deliberate logic. Instinctively a woman reaches it by a single bound.
Especially is the average woman quick to see the right and wrong of a proposition. Jumping over subtle distinctions and evasive phrasings, she lands at once on the sure ground of eternal rightness.
Ethically woman is a seer.
Most of all, clear and wide are the eyes of a wife in a matter involving the good name of her family.
When in doubt consult your wife.
A wife’s judgment is usually good in business matters. With her keen insight into human nature she often will be able to tell you whether or not you may trust a man.
Give your honor into her keeping.
There was Victoria Colonna, one of the strong women of history. Her husband was a loyal friend of the great Charles V. At one time Colonna was offered the crown of Naples if he would join the league against Charles. Though strongly tempted, he asked his wife’s advice. She bade him reject the offer.
Not every woman would refuse to be queen.
But most wives would!
Because the project meant base betrayal and treachery, and the heart of a true woman is turned against such baseness.
Even from a prudential point of view the advice of Colonna’s wife was good. To be promised a thing is not always to get it.
Make your wife your partner.
She is your best friend, the most vitally concerned in your outcome. She is your most competent and honest counselor. If she is a normal woman she will keep your feet out of the mire of wrongdoing.
Take no important step without a conference with her. She will be glad and proud to have your confidence and may be able to suggest ways and means of accomplishment.
“Two heads are better than one,” especially if one is a woman’s head.

FOR OUTING WEAR.

The Summer Coat of Reversible Material.

SMART COAT FOR OUTING USE.

These breezy coats of reversible woolen fabric are particularly smart and comfortable for outing use. The striped reverse side shows on the turned back collar and cuffs. The coat buttons snugly to the throat in the new fashion.

How to Pack a Trunk.

A woman who is constantly traveling and yet who finds it most necessary to economize in space as well as in pennies has found the following plan for packing her one trunk a most excellent one: At the bottom of the trunk she has a partition made large enough to carry one large or two small hats. This is strongly made, so that it cannot easily be broken. At the side of this partition she places a wooden box filled with sand, in which are her bottles of medicine. Here, too, she lays her shoes, each pair carefully rolled in linen covers. On one set of shoes she puts her pair of rubbers, and inside the shoes she places her boxes of pills or powders which would not go into the box of medicine.
Then she has six or eight pieces of heavy cardboard cut to exactly fit the trunk. These she covers with linen or chintz, so that they look exactly like large envelopes, with straps or strings to fasten down the flaps. In these large envelopes she pins her dresses, skirt waists, etc. Two or three dresses can usually be put in each envelope. Everything is kept absolutely flat, and nothing can be pushed to one end of the trunk when it is stood on end.
At the top of the trunk is a shallow tray, in which she puts her laces, ribbons, belts and gloves, etc. The underwear is rolled and placed around the edges of the trunk or is folded flat and laid between the envelopes.

Bathing Suit From Ball Gown.
An evening gown of white messaline was cleverly made into this dainty bathing suit. The skirt was daintily with panels of striped taffeta, and the white messaline forms a bib over a bodice of the striped silk.

IMPORTANT RULING IS AGAINST DARROW

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 5.—Judge Hutton ruled today in the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow that the defendant under cross-examination could be asked an impeaching question, based upon the stenographic report of a conversation between Darrow and John R. Harrington, his former chief investigator.
The ruling opens the way for an attempt by the prosecution to introduce in rebuttal the transcript of the conversations, as heard by stenographers through a telephonic device. Such an effort will be strenuously opposed by the defense, chiefly on the ground that the transcript contains only fragmentary portions of the conversations. Judge Hutton announced that his ruling could not be construed as having any bearing on the introduction of the transcript.
Mr. Darrow then resumed the witness stand and was questioned by assistant District Attorney Ford as to the circumstances surrounding his meetings with Harrington, over the objection of the defense. Darrow admitted that he had asked Harrington to refuse to testify before the Federal Grand Jury. He said he told Harrington he did not think he could be compelled to testify and he could find out by refusing.
Ford read a long question, asking Darrow among other things if Harrington had not said to him “Darrow, they have the goods on you and are going to get you.”
“I don’t know or care if such a conversation ever occurred,” replied Darrow.
Attorney Rogers advised Darrow not to answer a question concerning a conversation with Harrington, in which they were said to have discussed the alleged bribery money.
To another lengthy question, Darrow replied by asking his inquisitor if he could not “run it in sections?” Darrow said that Harrington had told him he feared an indictment of himself for bribery.
“He told me all the authorities wanted was ‘Schmitt,’” said Darrow, “and that I could get out of my trouble by turning up ‘Schmitt.’”
Schmidt was one of the alleged dynamiters of the Times’ building.
“Did you think Harrington was trying to trap you with the dictagraph?” asked Ford.
“No, I didn’t think any one would try to do a thing as mean as that, not even the District Attorney.”

HIGH PRICE OF BEEF CAUSES SPECULATION

The Portland Union Stock Yards Company reports as follows:
Receipts for the week have been cattle 1094; calves 82; hogs 866; sheep 6150; horses 86.
The cattle market has remained strong to higher.
There has been a great amount of agitation with regard to high prices of beef, and while the agitators seek to find a bug under the chip in price manipulation by the killers, there has been no satisfactory solution from that source. The real and only reason for the continual high price of beef is its absolute and undebatable shortage. If the rate at which calves and sheaf is being marketed is maintained it will only be a few years until this country will rank with the countries of Europe in the great scarcity of beef. The mutton supply offers a temporary substitute but as beef gets scarce and mutton receives more attention it will only be a few years until mutton prices will make its use as costly as beef. The opportunity for profit making in beef raising was never so great as at this time and when it is considered that permanent fortunes in the cattle industry have followed breeding and raising as against the losses in steer speculation, the attractiveness of the cattle breeding ranch can be easily discerned.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:
DRYED FRUITS—(Buying), Prunes on basis 6 to 8 cents.
HIDES—(Buying), Green hides 6c to 7c; salters 7c; dry hides 12c to 14c; sheep pelts 30c to 85c each.
EGGS—Oregon ranch eggs 23c case count; 24c candeled.
FEEDS—(Selling), Shorts $25; bran $27; process barley $38 per ton.
FLOUR—$4.60 to 5.50.
POTATOES—New, about 50c to 60c per hundred.
POULTRY—(Buying)—Hens 11c; spring 17c, and rooster 8c.
HAY—(Buying)—Clover at $8; oat hay, best, $10; mixed $10 to $12; alfalfa $15 to $18.50; Idaho Timothy $20.
OATS—(Buying), $30.00 to $38.50, wheat 90c bn.; oil meal, selling about $48.00; Shay Brook dairy feed $1.30 per hundred pounds.
Butter, Poultry, Eggs.
BUTTER—(Buying), Ordinary country butter 20c to 25c; fancy dairy 60c roll.

Quick Worker.
Manager of Firm—Your former employer tells me that you were the quickest bookkeeper in the place. Applicant for Situation (dubiously)—He does?
“Yes, he says you could throw the books in the safe, lock up, wash and get ready to go home in just one minute and ten seconds.”

A Smoke Inspector.
A Chicago politician imported his cousin from the old country and had him appointed a smoke inspector. This was in the old days. He was turned loose to inspect without any instruction whatever, and this is the report he rendered at the end of the first month:
“I certify that I have inspected the smoke of this city for the thirty days past. I find plenty of smoke and same is apparently of good quality. Respectfully submitted.”—Pittsburgh Post.

ORDER.

Order is a lovely nymph, the child of beauty and wisdom. Her attendants are comfort, neatness and activity. Her abode is the valley of happiness. She is always to be found when sought for and never is so lovely as when compared with her opponent, disorder.—Johnson.

Comical In His Ugliness.

Voltaire was the ugliest man of his age. Emaciated to a skeleton, all the features of his countenance were exaggerated. His nose and chin nearly met from the lack of teeth; his cheeks were sunken and wrinkled; his eyes set so far back in his head and so obscured by shaggy, overhanging brows as to be almost invisible. He usually wore a large wig, from the midst of which his attenuated features peeped out with comical effect. For years before he died his weight did not exceed ninety pounds.

The Woodpecker.

Most birds have three toes in front and one behind, but the woodpecker has two in front and two behind.

TECHNICAL POINT IN LABEL SUIT DECIDED

Judge Campbell Monday denied the motion of the defendant’s attorneys, George C. Brownell and J. E. Hedges to strike out certain paragraphs of the plaintiff’s supplemental complaint in the suit of Chris Schobel against The Morning and Weekly Enterprise. The Attorney for the defendant immediately filed a demurrer to the supplemental complaint, which the court probably will pass upon today.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN HAS INTERESTING MEETING

The Deutscher Verein, of Clackamas county, held its monthly meeting Sunday, at Schnoor’s Park. The afternoon was spent in games, and a short program was provided. Dancing was indulged in. There were a large number of the members of the Society and their families present and the day and evening were very enjoyably spent.

If you saw it in the Enterprise it’s so.

HOW’S YOUR COOKING?

You Can’t Do Fine Cooking on a Poor Range

You can’t expect a cheap stove—made of poor material—saddly constructed—to do first class cooking.
Here are a few reasons why FAVORITE Steel Ranges are the best baking—most economical—most comfortable Steel ranges made.
Favorite Steel Ranges are honest all the way through. Each one outlasts at least two cheap stoves.
The body is built of two strong walls of steel, with thick, asbestos in between.
The heavy asbestos interlining retains the heat for the longest possible time—doesn’t allow it to escape into the room as is the case with most Steel Ranges. The circulation of intense heat around the oven is so perfect that Favorite Steel ranges will do BETTER BAKING, and do it in less time than any other line of ranges. There are never any dead corners in Favorite ovens. Every square inch in them will bake—and bake perfectly.
