GIRL PLUNGES TO DEATH OFF RAINIER

YOUNG SEATTLE SCHOOL TEACHER, AFFECTED BY RARI-FIED AIR, FALLS

BODY IS FOUND 500 FEET BELOW

Other Women Members Of Party Un-nerved Let Down Mountain Side By Ropes—Y. M. C. A. Man In Charge

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 12.—Sudden-ly growing dizzy in the rarified mount-ain air, after she had climbed to the summit of Pinnacle Peak, Mount Rainier, Miss Helen Hunt, a school teacher of Seattle and a member of the Tacoma Y. M. C. A. party that left Tacoma last Tuesday for a ten days stay in Paradise Valley, fell 500 feet to her death today.

Her body, with practically every bone broken, was found in the valley, and on a litter of alpine stocks and sweaters was carried to the camp. It was then taken by automobile to Longmeir Springs, where another car was obtained and the body brought into Tacoma.

Unnerved by the scene of horror they had witnessed, the other young women in the party of 16, that had surmounted Pinnacle Peak, were unable to continue the ascent. Physical Director Carter, of the Y. M. C. A., who acted as guide aided by the other men of the party, led the shudder-ing girls down with ropes and the remainder of the party reached the valley unharmed.

"TY" COBB STABBED BY THREE HIGHWAYMEN

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Ty Cobb was attacked and stabbed in the back by three unidentified men in Detroit today while on his way to the train which was to bring him and the team here for an exhibition game this afternoon.

Cobb's agility saved him from possible death. His injuries are slight.

Cobb was driving his automobile to the station, accompanied by his wife, when three assailants appeared from behind a wooden building and ordered the car to stop. The men were partly intoxicated, and when the machine came to a stop Cobb jumped out and began to argue with the men.

The trio then demanded money, and one of them made a lunge at Cobb. Cobb attacked them and then began a general fight. One man was knocked down with a blow on the chin and another then ran, while the third grabbed Cobb around the neck. While the pair were struggling the thug pulled a knife and inflicted a wound in Cobb's back. Cobb finally shook off the assailant and regained his car.

Cobb was treated here on the arrival of the Detroit team. He tried to keep the matter quiet and would not discuss it.

56 ARE SLAIN BY MEXICAN REBELS

WOMEN BUTCHERED BY SOLDIERS WHO MAKE RAID ON TRAIN

TRAINMAN, BADLY HURT, SENDS NEWS

Fingers And Ears Of Victims Are Cut Off To Obtain Valuables—Wounded Shown No Pity

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 12.—Thirty-six soldiers and more than 20 passengers were slaughtered yesterday by Zapatistas in a canyon one kilometer north of Mexico City, when a passenger train southbound from this city was attacked from ambush. Only meager details have reached this city. So far as known only a part of the train crew escaped.

The first news of the attack was sent to Mexico City by Conductor Marino and Collector Dominguez, who although wounded, had managed to make their way to Yauatepec, 12 miles away. They were forced to steal through the Zapatista lines, and did not arrive at the telegraph station until late today.

After the murderous rifle fire had ceased the rebels swarmed down the hillside and set fire to the three cars composing the train. A few of the wounded had crawled out of the right of way, thus escaping the fate of those unable to leave the cars, who were burned.

According to reports, the leader of the rebels made absolutely no effort to restrain his men from acts of brutality greater than any that has yet marked the campaign in the south. The wounded, pleading for their lives were struck down without pity, and even looting was held in abeyance until the slaughter was complete.

Not satisfied with robbing their victims in an ordinary manner, the fingers of men and women were chopped off with machetes that rings their work might be more quickly obtained. Ornaments were torn from ears of women and their bodies were otherwise mutilated.

SUPREME COURT TO PASS ON TRANSFERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.—Some months ago the Attorney-General of the State of Oregon, A. M. Crawford, filed a motion in the Supreme Court of the United States to advance the case of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, plaintiff in error vs. the Railroad Commission of Oregon, and that an early date be set for hearing it.

When the Supreme Court passes upon this case, although it is not based primarily upon the question of transfer privileges, this matter undoubtedly will settle the Railroad Commission of Oregon to make an order regulating transfers will be defined. The case before the Supreme Court involves suits in equity brought by the railway company against the Railroad Commission of Oregon in the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon to restrain and suspend the operation of certain orders made by the defendant until the final hearing and determination of the suits, and then, upon such final hearing, to vacate and set aside permanently the orders in question.

In one of the cases the order of the Railroad Commission directed the railway company to cease and desist from demanding, charging and collecting or receiving a rate of fare, 10 cents between Milwaukie, a suburb of Portland, and First and Alder streets in the city of Portland, and ordered that a rate of fare of 5 cents each way be charged, and that transfer privileges be granted to lines of the company within the city of Portland. Another of the suits involves the charging of a rate of fare of 15 cents between Oak Grove, a suburb of Portland, and Center and Risley, and First and Alder streets, in the city of Portland, and the reduction of the rate to 10 cents, and granting transfer privileges.

In the Milwaukie case it is represented that the station is located 6.71 miles from the city of Portland for which a charge of 10 cents is made, and no transfer privilege is given to city lines. The town or station of Lewis is situated 7.89 miles distant from the city of Portland, for which distance a charge of 5 cents is made, with transfer privileges to the city lines. The higher rate charged to Milwaukie and Oak Grove stations was held by the Railroad Commission to be unjust discrimination.

It was represented to the Supreme Court by Crawford that the railway company desires to prolong the litigation, whether it wins or loses. Many of the rebate checks of 5 cents each given by the railway company to passengers pending the settlement of the controversy in the courts will be lost or mislaid, and the persons receiving them will not be able to produce them and have them redeemed, providing the cases should be decided against the company by the court. Therefore, it is an advantage to the company to prolong the litigation.

Officials of the Supreme Court say the question of time for which a street railway transfer is valid has never been brought before the Supreme Court for action. In the pending cases, however, the question of the extent of the authority of the Railroad Commission in reference to fares and transfers will be considered and probably it will be decided whether or not the Commission can enforce orders regulating the time of the validity of transfers as well as the rates of fare.

SOUVENIR HUNTERS PAY FOR SPOONS

Four young men who came to Oregon City Sunday looking for souvenirs went away with them. After looking over the town for sometime and deciding they could not carry away the Willamette River or the hillsides, they decided to look for something easy. So they hid themselves to a Main Street restaurant. They had a delicious "feed" as Sam Schepps, and all the other fellows who were wanted for alleged complicity in the great New York police murder mystery would say, and upon leaving the restaurant, having been lavish in their tips, they secreted three spoons in their pockets. The proprietor, who had to pay for the spoons did not see the joke, and called Policeman Cooke. The policeman found the young men waiting for a car in front of the courthouse. He brought them back to the restaurant and they paid for their souvenirs. That was all there was to it.

STATE TAKES OVER LOAN ASSOCIATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—When F. J. Brandon, placed in charge of the Continental Building & Loan Association by George S. Walker, State Building and Loan Commissioner, attempted to take possession this morning, he found the doors locked and a company guard inside. Deputy Brandon immediately reported to E. W. Harrison, representing Commissioner Walker, and Harrison went into conference with Attorney-General Webb, to determine if a forcible entry would be wise.

The state definitely is in control of the Continental today. Judge Graham in the Superior Court made permanent this morning his order of Saturday, vacating a previous order and giving Commissioner Walker power to liquidate the affairs of the Continental.

In making permanent his order, Judge Graham upheld the Attorney-General, who argued that an officer of the state ought not to be restrained from performing his public duty.

Commissioner Walker, who declared the Continental insolvent last Thursday with liabilities exceeding $300,000, is ill in his home at San Jose.

DARROW FIGHTS AS LAYWER LASHES

CHICAGO ATTORNEY ACCUSED OF HAVING HELPED BRIBE JURORS

DEFENDENT APPEALS TO JUDGE

Labor Legal Adviser Called Second Judas And Is Likened To Benedict Arnold And Lord Bacon

HALL OF RECORDS, LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—Drawing comparison between Clarence S. Darrow, accused of jury bribing, and Lord Francis Bacon, the famous English statesman of the Elizabethan era, who pleaded guilty to bribery before the British House of Lords, Judas Iscariot and Benedict Arnold, Assistant District Attorney Joseph W. Ford, opened today a stirring arraignment of the accused attorney before the jury which will decide Darrow's fate.

"Bacon's rise was magnificent until he became lord chancellor of England," thundered Ford. "Yet he accepted a bribe—he was bribed. Like Darrow when he told Guy Biddinger to do his work boldly to avoid detection, so Lord Bacon boldly accepted a bribe, pleaded guilty before the bar of the house of lords, and was deprived of his office.

"Judas was a brilliant man, a great thinker, yet he was bribed—he sold his Lord for 30 pieces of silver.

"In revolutionary days there was a brilliant young captain in Washington's army. He planned many successful attacks. He saved the whole of American army at Saratoga. Yet this man, Benedict Arnold, was bribed.

"History is filled with stories of great men who have gone wrong. Previous reputation does not keep men from committing crime.

"Billy Mason testified for Darrow in this case as to Darrow's character. Mason is one of the many politicians who have testified in this case. Billy Mason was Lorimer's seatmate."

"I object, he was not," interrupted Darrow. "He mistakes facts. Mason ran against Lorimer."

Ford retorted: "It's immaterial anyway. The fact of the defendant in this case—the act of the jury bribing—is worse than that of Lord Bacon Judas or Arnold for Darrow's crime hits at the very foundation of government, law and order." Darrow winced.

Ford then plunged into a description of the Times disaster, declaring: "McNamara knew Darrow; he knew he was the champion of union labor in all its struggles, criminal and civil. Many criminal lawyers have abused their privileges. They have taught the criminals that there is a war between them and society. They have told the criminal all they need is a smart lawyer, like Clarence Darrow."

"I object!" fairly screamed Horace Appel, Darrow's counsel. "I object to telling the jury anything like that. I assign it as an error."

PROPERTY OWNERS MAY WIN FIGHT

PROBABILITY COUNCIL WILL ORDER SEVENTH STREET MACADAMIZED

WORK ON SIXTEENTH PROGRESSES

Contractors Will Begin Hard-Surfacing Main Street In Less Than Two Weeks—Mains Being Laid

Although the members of the committee on streets of the city council refused to make a positive statement Monday, it was reported that the committee would favor macadamizing Seventh street. Before the remonstrance was filed at the last meeting of the council the committee, it is believed, was in favor of hard-surface pavement. However, as most of the owners of property on the street insist upon macadam pavement it is not thought the committee will go contrary to their wishes. It is still believed that a hard-surface pavement, would, in the long run, be the cheapest. The committee will make its report at the meeting of the council Friday evening. It is reported that the committee will recommend that the city pay one-third the cost of the work.

The work of improving Sixteenth street is progressing rapidly. Nearly all the grading, which is a difficult task, has been finished, and the street soon will be ready for the rock. Rock is being spread on Molalla Avenue, and the committee reports that the street will soon be ready for use. The avenue has been in poor repair for several years, and the farmers have complained of it.

A representative of the Montague-O'Reilly Company, which has been given the contract for paving Main street from Moss to the Abernethy Bridge with asphaltic concrete, announced Monday that the work would be started in less than two weeks. Water mains are being laid and this work will be completed by the middle of next week.

WIFE, SUNG, SAYS HUSBAND PINCHED HER

Declaring that her husband delighted in pinching her, and that it caused her much suffering, Mayme Adkins, Monday filed suit for divorce against Earl R. Adkins. They were married in Portland, August 1, 1909. The plaintiff says they moved in January 1910, to a ranch at Tigardville, and that the house was not fit to live in. She alleges that her husband compelled her to do manual work and that the roof of their home leaked.

She asks to be restored to her maiden name, Mayme Curran. Anna Smith was granted a divorce from J. Alinworth Smith. The plaintiff was awarded $50 and $30 a month alimony. Edith Mires was granted a decree from James L. Mires, her maiden name, Edith Griffin, being restored.
