TAFT WANTS COURT TO DECIDE TOLLS

PRESIDENT OFFERS UNIQUE SOLUTION OF CANAL SITUATION

MESSAGE IS SENT TO CONGRESS

Chief Executive Desires To Sign Bill, But Wants Other Nations To Know That He Would Be Fair

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—President Taft closed a day of conferences on the Panama Canal bill with a special message to Congress suggesting the passage of legislation which would permit American ships to travel the canal toll free, and which would also allow foreign nations to test the legality of this provision by suits in United States Courts.

The President discussed the message with Senators and members of the House, and its wording finally was decided upon at a Cabinet meeting. The message was read in Congress soon afterward and will be taken up tomorrow by committees of both houses.

Mr. Taft explained he desired to sign the present bill, but wished to ensure other governments of the spirit of fairness on the part of the United States.

The President was told that an act of Congress would have the effect of abrogating any treaty previously agreed to, and the decision of the Supreme Court in the Chinese exclusion act was given as authority for the statement.

The President suggested the following:

"That nothing contained in the act entitled 'An act to provide for the opening, maintenance, protection and operation of the Panama Canal and the sanitation and government of the Canal Zone,' shall be deemed to repeal any provision of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty or to affect the judicial construction thereof or in any wise to impair any rights or privileges which have been or may be acquired by any foreign nation under the treaties of the United States relative to tolls or other charges for the passage of vessels through the Panama Canal, and that when any alien, whether natural person, partnership, company or corporation considers that the charging of tolls or the enforcement of any other regulation under and pursuant to the provisions of this act violates in any way such treaty, rights or privileges, such alien shall have the right to bring an action against the United States for a redress of the injury which he considers himself to have suffered, and the district courts of the United States are hereby given jurisdiction to hear and determine such case and to decree the appropriate relief, and from the decision of such District Courts there shall be an appeal by either party to the action to the Supreme Court of the United States."

"This language," continued the message, "negatives absolutely any desire on the part of the Congress to repeal the Hay-Pauncefote treaty or to violate its provisions by this legislation, and leaves open to any person who deems himself aggrieved by the provisions of the act an opportunity to appeal to our courts."

"I think the importance of our standing before the world as anxious to give to the world an opportunity to test this question in the courts is an earnest of our good faith in attempting to keep within our treaty obligations."

The President continued that he

DANIEL BOYLES KILLED BY BLAST

FORMER RESIDENT OF OREGON CITY VICTIM OF COTTAGE GROVE ACCIDENT

HEAD IS TORN FROM HIS BODY

Man Sitting On Trestle 1,000 Feet Away When Struck Worked For Southern Pacific Here

Daniel Boyles, for several years a resident of Oregon City, where he was in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company was killed near Cottage Grove Saturday by an explosion of blasting powder. He was married here about one year ago to Miss Anna Rainling, of Parkplace, and they have a child, only a few months old. Mrs. Boyles' father and brother left for Cottage Grove immediately upon receipt of the news of the death of their daughter's husband, and will bring the body here for interment.

In excavating for the blast a stone wall in front of the blast was weakened. When the charge of 2500 pounds of powder was set off its force burst through the weakened spot and sent rock hundreds of feet further than at any previous blast. A large crowd of men, women and children had gathered to see the blast go off, and a number of these missed injury only by dodging the flying missiles.

Mr. Boyles was sitting on the trestle of the railroad bridge about 1000 feet away, and although many others got out of the way of the death dealing rock, its approach was unobserved by him. He was hit in the neck, his head being nearly severed from his body, and his breast torn. Death was instantaneous. His mother was near him when the accident happened. Mr. Boyles had charge of the Southern Pacific block system at Cottage Grove and was present to make any repairs that might be necessary as a result of the blast.

Work on the city streets will be delayed by the demolition of the crusher. A crew of fifty men is clearing away the debris, which nearly buried the quarry building, and getting things in readiness for repair work.

MISS LYDIA BUOL AND WILLIAM KRUEGER WED

One of the prettiest of church weddings ever solemnized in this city was at the Zion Lutheran church Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock when Miss Lydia Buol became the wife of Mr. William Krueger, of this city. Rev. William Kraxberger, pastor, officiating. Many friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, rendered by Miss Erna Petzold, the bride party entered the church, the minister preceding the bride, bridegroom and bridesmaids, Miss Elsa Buol, Miss Emmelle Staats, of this city, Miss Amanda Klinger, of Portland, and William Vigelus, of Portland, Edward Buol, of Ireson City, and Edward Muller, of Newberg. The bride was very pretty in her gown of white satin with overdress of chiffon beautifully embellished with hand embroidery. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she wore a handsome pin, a diamond sunburst, which was the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Elsa Buol, wore pink and white chalis; Miss Emmelle Staats, white lingerie; and Miss Anna Krueger, lavender and white silk. All carried shower bouquets of pink carnations. The church was artistically decorated with festoons of ivy and cut flowers. The wedding ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of Mrs. John Vigelus, who is Mr. Krueger's aunt. Only the immediate relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were in attendance. The house was prettily decorated with Chinese vases, ferns and roses. A delicious dinner was served. Following were in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. John Vigelus, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buol, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Frey Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kloostra, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wieland, Mrs. Staats, Miss Christina Blumh, Miss Erna Petzold, Miss Clara Buol, Miss Anna Krueger, Miss Emmelle Staats, Harry Williamson, Lewis Gengler, William and Herman Stahle, Edward and Otto Buol, of Oregon City; Miss Hulda Scheel, Misses Anna and Hulda Billeter, Mr. and Mrs. John Dornier, Miss Amanda Klinger, of Portland; Edward Muller, of Oregon City.

Before the departure of the bride she threw her bouquet, which was caught by her cousin, Miss Hulda Billeter, of Portland. Many beautiful wedding gifts were received by the young couple.

Upon the return of Mr. and Mrs. Krueger from Spokane, Wash., they will make their home at Sixteenth and Washington streets, where they have a cottage furnished.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buol, well known residents of Beaver Creek, where the bride was born and has lived most of her life. She is a highly esteemed young woman and is well known in this city.

The bridegroom came to Oregon City about four years ago from Athens, Wis., and is a well known contractor of this city. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. August Krueger of Athens.

MILWAUKIE WATER SYSTEM UP TONIGHT

The voters of Milwaukie will pass on the proposition to issue bonds to the amount of $40,000 at a special election to be held next Thursday, the money to be used in establishing a municipal water plant. In order to discuss the matter a mass meeting of citizens has been called at the City Hall this evening.

At the election only the question of issuing bonds will be decided, although a preferential vote may be held to decide whether Milwaukie favors Bull Run or Minthorn Springs water, and these are the questions which will be considered at the mass meeting Tuesday night.

It had been supposed that Bull Run water might be secured by extending a main to Sellwood and there attaching to the system, but after some investigation it was ascertained that only the lower portion of Milwaukie would have sufficient pressure from that source, and hence an eight or ten-inch main would be required from the higher reservoir at Mount Tabor, the cost of which would absorb most of the money realized from the bond issue. However, if Minthorn Springs are used it will require a pumping station in order to cover the entire district. Milwaukie at present is fairly well piped in the residence sections and would only require a few large mains for fire protection.

At the last meeting of the City Council the following judges and clerks were appointed to serve at the special election: Judges, P. Kling, F. S. Lachler and H. Phillips; clerks, F. S. Harlow and Leo Johnson.

WIFE, IN SUIT, SAYS HUSBAND SLAPPED HER

Jaehn. They were married in Portland, July 25, 1906. Plaintiff declares that her husband slapped her in the presence of several friends in March 1911. CONGRESS PROVIDES FOR ONE BATTLESHIP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Conferees on the naval appropriation bill agreed today to provide for one battleship at a cost not greater than $15,000,000. An appropriation of $2,535,000 is to be available for the beginning of the work. No agreement was reached as to size, dimensions or armament. The naval bill in other respects was adopted as approved by the previous conference and is now acceptable to House and Senate.

The naval bill, as agreed to, also provides for eight submarines, the original number, six torpedobats, two colliers and one machine ship.

It was agreed that the new battleship should not be a super-dreadnaught, but the vessel of standard size. The question of armament was left to the naval constructors and the Secretary of the Navy.

A movement to name the new battleship Constitution has been started. Today is the centennial of the battle between the old Constitution and the Guerriere. Under the law the Secretary of the Navy would be obliged to christen the new ship Arizona or New Mexico, but the Senate and House conferees will be urged to amend the bill with a provision that the new ship be named after "Old Ironsides."

RAILWAY WORKER STRANGELY GONE

BRIDE OF HOWARD WALLACE, WHO HAS DISAPPEARED, MOURNS

FATHER FEARS SON HAS BEEN SLAIN

Young Man, Who Worked For Clackamas Southern, Left Home Saturday, And Has Not Been Seen Since

Howard Wallace, a well known young man of Oregon City, is mysteriously missing. A bridegroom of only a few weeks and only twenty-two years of age, his friends and relatives are unable to understand why he should have gone away. His father, W. A. Wallace, of Canby, who was in Oregon City Monday, thinks his son met with foul play.

Howard Wallace worked for the Clackamas Southern railway and with his bride lived on the Abernethy, near the Latourette Bridge. He was given his wages last Saturday and with several other workmen was informed that his services would not be needed for several days. The information worried him a great deal, but he did not let his family know of it. Soon after returning home he informed his wife that he was going to Oregon City to see if his services were desired Monday. He has not been seen since by anyone who knew him. Mr. Wallace appealed to E. L. Shaw Monday to aid in the search for the young man but no trace of him was found. His wife, before her marriage, was Ethel Thurman.

The search for the young man will be continued today. He had no bad habits, and his strange disappearance cannot be accounted for. It is not thought that he had much money. His wife is heartbroken, and his father is almost distracted. Mr. Wallace left home about 9 o'clock Saturday night.
