HOP PICKING TO START IN VALLEY SOON

For the week to date the weather has been exactly what the maturing hop crop required, and as a result the growers who last week were a little apprehensive regarding the safety of the crop now take a hopeful view of the situation. Continued sunshine is of course needed to fully develop the hops and keep them in a clean and healthy condition and weather indications appear to be favorable. Late reports from a number of Valley points say the crop is ripening rapidly, and where the vines were given proper care the prospect is for a crop of very good quality.

Growers say that the rains last week came at a time when they were needed to stimulate hop growth and increase the weight of the crop, and in most of the Valley yards conditions now are about as near ideal as they well could be. It is of course true that in some fields, where the growers neglected spraying, the rains gave the vermin a further chance at the crop, and in such yards some mold is to be expected. It is not believed, however, that the extent of the damage will be such as materially to lower the quality average for the state's crop.

In the event of continued favorable weather the chances are that picking in some sections will start within a few days, for the crop now is fast nearing maturity. Harvesting operations, however, will probably not be generally under way for a week or 10 days.

The market for the time remains quiet, but rather firm in tone, and the indications are that not much in the way of business will be done in the Oregon market until the trade has a fairly clear line on the quality of the coming crop. On the whole the prospect is favorable, both for the crop and market, but dealers assert that there is still a little uncertainty, and this tends to hold business in check. That values from this time on are more likely to work up than down seems to be the general impression locally.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President Taft again vetoed today the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill because it still carried an amendment, to abolish the Commerce Court, which the House and Senate insist upon including in the reframed measure.

The provision to limit tenure of office of civil service employees to seven years, which was an additional reason for the President's first disapproval, had not been included in the bill a second time.

Fashion Hints From Paris.
 The sleeve gathered in long lines from shoulder to wrist is the newest sleeve of the moment. It is very becoming to a thin arm, but the plump armed woman should avoid it except when the material is transparent. The contrasting ruffle falls over the hand.

The newest tailor made coat is cut somewhat on the lines of the old English riding habit. It ends at the waist in front, fastening with a single big button, and slopes off into a coat tail at the back.

SILK FROCK FOR A YOUNG GIRL.

A little frock of silk for a young girl's afternoon gown is shown today. It is effectively trimmed in bands of striped silk in the tone of the gown a navy blue, with stripes of dark red. This is a most effective little gown and serviceable as well. It shows the new Robespierre collar, bordered with the striped silk and finished with a knot of the same. A panel effect is produced by bands of the striped silk placed on either side of the front of the bodice. Directly down the front are bows of the silk. The skirt also has a paneled effect formed by the silk bands which continue around the skirt heading the double flounce of the material. The upper one of the flounces is finished by a broader band of the striped silk.

PORTLAND WINS GAME IN EXCITING FINISH

Good Freckle Lotion.

For freckles there is a lotion which is very good indeed. It consists of chopped cucumbers or cucumbers cut in slices with all the juice in them. They are then bound upon the face in such a way that the juice will dry on.

For freckled and chapped hands there is a bath of witch hazel and cucumber juice in equal parts. This can be applied to the skin with a little sponge. After it has been on fifteen minutes it can be washed off with soap and water, for there is something unpleasant about the nicest lotion when it is allowed to dry upon the skin.

The summer skin is a matter of much anxiety, for in the summer all would have a nice complexion, yet it is extremely difficult when the sunshine brings its blemishes, and the very winds are laden with tan and freckles.
