THE PROGRESSIVES' PRONUNCIAMENTO

The smallest of the important parties of 1912 uses more words than either of the great organizations in telling what it is here for. Thus the number of persons who will read it all the way through will be comparatively few. It could not have avoided falling into this error, however, for its founder had candidate told it beforehand what he wanted it to say, and in doing this he made the longest speech ever delivered by a candidate in any such connection. Col. Roosevelt is as active mentally as he is physically, and he put into his platform pretty much everything having a social, political, economic or industrial side which he could think of. Many of these questions are not controversial at all. All parties want the people to rule. Good roads, improvement of the waterways, and preservation of the public health, the defense of our citizens against unjust treatment abroad, the honest observance of treaties with other countries, are questions in which the Progressives can not claim right of discovery or monopoly. In saying undisputed things in a solemn way the Roosevelt platform goes beyond any deliverance of the sort which the country has seen.

TRADE OF NEW ZEALAND

An excessive drought was responsible for a heavy decrease in the exports of wool and meat from New Zealand in 1911, and yet the value of wool exported in that year was $31,649,696, and of meat frozen, potted and preserved, $17,836,720. Butter and cheese exports were valued at $13,457,214, gold $8,828,812, tallow $2,951,692, sheep skins, $3,078,834, timber $2,135,528, hemp $1,531,215, wheat, oats and barley, $1,221,425. The total exports amounted to $92,513,928. There is a great demand for land in New Zealand and the prices are being forced up to a point that many persons consider too high, reaching $250 an acre around Napier, but the markets are good and the farmers prosperous. The government is very paternal, owning and operating railways, mines, waterpowers, insurance and trust companies, telephone and telegraph companies, hotels, houses for workmen, fisheries, and many other enterprises.

A preferential tariff favors England at the expense of America, but "the English shipping companies," according to a consular report, "by charging higher rates have absorbed the benefits intended for the English manufacturers."

The silk industry is encouraged by the Government of Siam in every possible way, and the production is augmented every year. An American Mr. J. C. Barnett, holds the position of adviser to the Siamese Agricultural Department and he has found that the country is adapted to cotton growing.

T. R. BRANDS PENROSE STORY AS UNTRUE

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Colonel Roosevelt declared that "Senator Penrose's statement that Mr. George W. Perkins underwrote my primary expenses for $3,000,000 or any sum even remotely resembling it is a deliberate and willful falsehood, which he knows to be such when he makes it. "Mr. Penrose," he added, "would do well not to attribute to others the infinite baseness which actuates himself."

Colonel Roosevelt dictated the following statement today: "The statement that the letters and telegrams to Mr. Cortelyou were written for the purpose of going into the record, and were not genuine and were not accepted by Mr. Cortelyou as genuine, is a deliberate and willful falsehood and Senator Penrose knows it to be such when he makes it. "My first letter, written as soon as I heard a rumor that the Standard Oil Company people had contributed, and explicit and unequivocal in its terms, was written on October 26; my second letter, if possible even more emphatic, on October 27. Not hearing from the letter, I wired on October 29. I then received from Mr. Cortelyou a statement that my wishes would be complied with and that no contribution from the Standard Oil people had been or would be received. "If any such contribution was received, it was not only without my knowledge, but against my explicit direction."

CAMPING PARTY BACK WITH FISH STORIES

E. P. Elliott returned from a hunting trip in Southern Oregon Friday morning. Mr. Elliott was accompanied by H. S. Moody, T. P. Randall, Kent Moody, W. R. Logus, Dr. Leininger, of Albany and Charles Gale. The party had excellent luck, killing sixteen deer and one grizzly bear. W. R. Logus killed the bear. It showed fight, but as Logus fought in the Philippines the bear was no match for him. While battling with Bruin Logus took several lessons in the bear dance. Logus will appear in his own dance in the near future in this city. Postmaster Randall, when appointed postmaster of the camp, stated that he had come to take a rest from government duties, and did not care to handle the mail, but there was no danger of his being overworked for there is no rural free delivery where the party camped. Mr. Randall decided upon the location of the camp, and now the other men know the reason for this. Harry S. Moody acted as guardhouse watchman, and on several occasions E. P. Elliott was placed in the guardhouse for small offenses. The name of the camp was "Pebble Ford Camp." Mr. Elliott, although small in stature, decided in the beginning to have his own way, but when being placed behind the bars for the second time decided the men he had accompanied on the trip meant business. Mr. Gale was kept busy preparing meals for the hungry seven. Kent Moody acted as dishwasher for the party, and was among those who escaped the guardhouse. Mr. Elliott, who is one of Oregon's most experienced hunters, is relating many interesting bear stories as well as fish stories, but whether these will correspond with those the other members relate will be known soon.

RAILWAY BANDIT WAS CLERK AT MEDFORD

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 23.—The Woodmen Union Pacific train robber at St. Francis Hospital confessed to the authorities that his name is Willis Lonsberry, formerly of Medford, Or., and that he is a former railway mail clerk, and that he has a wife and two children in Medford. TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 23.—The daring robber who was shot and seriously injured with his own revolver while resisting capture after he had robbed the mail car on a Union Pacific train last night, was still alive this morning but the police had not yet leaped his identity. Railroad officials hoped soon to induce him to divulge his name. Physicians attending the wounded man said he would recover. The United States authorities will remove him from the hospital. The robber talked about the crime today. He insisted he shot himself purposely when cornered. "When a man is up against it," he said, "it is worse than people can possibly know." He told why he climbed back into the same train he had robbed. "I thought that the Pullman of that train would be the last place they would look for me." Clues to the man's identity were a letter in his pocket addressed to Mrs. Willis Lonsberry, Medford, Or., R. F. D. No. 2, and another letter addressed to Denver. These letters were turned over to the postal authorities who have not divulged their contents.

BLOUNT FUNERAL LARGELY ATTENDED

The Woodmen hall was filled to its capacity Friday afternoon at the funeral of John F. Blount. The deceased was a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias and the lodge had charge of the funeral service, with Rev. Milliken, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. The impressive funeral and burial service of the Knight of Pythias was used. A quartet composed of James Roake, Miss Bailey, Miss Kathleen Harrison and Mr. Harrison sang impressively, "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "It's Well With My Soul." The floral offerings were magnificent and in profusion. Mr. Blount was an employee of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company for more than fifteen years, and the employees of that company sent a beautiful floral piece. The Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters, Sole Circle, Degree of Honor, Woodmen of the World and many friends sent floral pieces. The pallbearers were C. A. Baxter, William Smith, Warren Follansbee, David Catto, John Crawford and Herman Thoen, all members of the Knights of Pythias. Many friends of the deceased followed the remains to the Mountain View cemetery. Mr. Blount, familiarly known by his many friends as "Jack" is survived by his wife and three children, Leola, Iva May and Franklin Ellis Blount, one stepson, Bertram Blair; also his father, William Blount, of Portland; three sisters, Mrs. F. T. Barlow, Mrs. C. W. Kelly, of Oregon City; Miss Sarah Blount, of Gladstone, two brothers, Albert Blount, of Gladstone, and George Blount, of Chico, California. All were in attendance at the funeral service.

Campbell, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Clackamas County for the Fifth Judicial District, made and entered on the 9th day of August, 1912, and the time prescribed for the publication of this summons is six weeks beginning Saturday, August 10, 1912, and ending with the issue of September 21, 1912. W. B. GLEASON, Attorney for Plaintiff. 2-3 Mulkey Building, Portland, Oregon.

PLOT TO DYNAMITE CITY IS FRUSTRATED

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 23.—The police were busy yesterday trying to get confessions from six of the seven men arrested at El Cajon yesterday and who, the police declare, were on their way to San Diego to dynamite the city. Early yesterday James Rooney was quietly arrested by a mounted officer near Old Town, and he is said to have broken down and told the policeman that he was one of the seven armed men who had started from Los Angeles for San Diego for the purpose of blowing up certain buildings in this city. As a result of his story, a squad of 12 policemen, in charge of Captain of Detectives Myers and County Detective McDuell, went to El Cajon, 15 miles out, and arrested the other six men at the point of rifles. The prisoners say they are Leonard Vance, H. Gortey, Sam Rosenberg, H. Shea, A. Johnson and Robert Ray. It is said that all of the men were mixed up in the free speech fight here because they belonged to the Industrial Work of the World.

BRAVE BEAR HUNTERS START ON TRIP TODAY

"Babe" Elliott, Will Strohmeyer and Arthur Eberly will leave Saturday evening for Cow Creek Canyon to fish and hunt. Elliott is a renowned hunter and he never returns home without plenty of game, and never fails to remember his friends, who are always anxiously awaiting his return. Will Strohmeyer, who has been employed by the city as a surveyor, will have charge of the expedition and there is no danger of the party being lost or eaten by the lions, bears, cougars and wildcats. The yells of these ferocious animals can be heard all night in that section. Eberly will be one of the handy men of the camp. He can cook, wash dishes, make beds and do anything in this line, as well as being an experienced man behind the gun. All kinds of boxes filled with good things to eat have been shipped south by the party.

HIGH SCHOOL BOOKLET READY FOR DELIVERY

The high school "announcement" for 1912 and 1913 will be issued today. The booklet gives the course of study and plans for the coming year. It also contains a list of text books that will be used, the names of teachers, calendars, and many useful suggestions. The booklet was prepared by F. J. Tooze, superintendent of the Oregon City schools and is one of the best that has been issued in Oregon. Mr. Tooze announced Friday evening that copies would be sent to all persons making application for them. They may write to him or call at his office.

CHEESE IT, BAD BOYS! LEAGUE AFTER YOU

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Bad children are in for a bad time when a new league, which has just been formed to combat "indiscipline" in the homes and schools, gets into working order. The league, which is at present unnamed, aims at teaching parents how to control and discipline their children, and it already has the support of 1200 distinguished persons. Among its founders are social reformers with such widely divergent views as Cardinal Bourne, Rev. F. B. Meyer, Archbishop Sinclair, head master of Eton college—respectively Roman Catholic, nonconformist and Church of England—the Duke of Devonshire, the Earl and Countess of Meath, Viscountess Hood, Sir George Reid, high commissioner for Australia and Mrs. Bramwell Booth. The league finds it its regret, that too many children are allowed to grow up without guidance or control, and consequently its members have embarked on a vigorous campaign to stir up parents to a proper sense of their responsibilities and duties. The principles laid down are, the exaction of instantaneous and unquestioning obedience from children in their earliest years and the continual instillation of the terms of order, obedience, industry, concentration of thought and effort, punctuality, politeness, patriotism and loyalty.

Americans In a Sense Are Loaded With Drugs From Early Childhood

We Should Be Warned Against Them. Teach Anti-drug Habits In School Room. Formerly Chief Chemist of the United States. By Dr. HARVEY W. WILEY

EITHER through neglect, carelessness or consent of parents and teachers thousands of SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE BECOMING ADDICTED TO DRUG HABITS. There is no nation on earth in which the children take something as often as they do in this country.

BEGINNING ALMOST WITH BIRTH, THERE SEEMS TO BE AN INCESSANT CRAVING TO FILL THE BABY'S STOMACH WITH DRUGS INSTEAD OF FOOD.

This tendency, established in early life, is not perceptibly diminished during the ages of childhood and early maturity. Every household has its cupboard with SO CALLED HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES, consisting mostly of synthetic preparations of quack medicines.

In addition to these drugs, many children are allowed to drink tea and coffee and thus take into their systems an alkaloid, CAFFEINE, which has the tendency to take away the sense of fatigue, stimulate the heart's action and in general to URGE THE CHILD FORWARD TO GREATER PHYSICAL AND MENTAL ACTIVITY THAN HE SHOULD BE CALLED UPON TO ENDURE.

It is hardly necessary to call attention to the danger of the tobacco habit. Girls, as a rule, in school do not acquire it, but many boys early acquire the habit of smoking cigarettes, which is a habit that cannot fail to do immense injury.

THE SCHOOL ROOM IS THE PLACE WHERE THESE ANTI-DRUG HABITS SHOULD BE TAUGHT. LET US BRING UP THE NEXT GENERATION WITHOUT RUINING ITS HEALTH BY DRUGGING.
