MORNING FROCK Today's sketch shows a simple little gingham morning dress, one whose simplicity does not eliminate smartness. This frock is easily made, the skirt being a three-gored model, perfectly plain and untrimmed and the blouse a kimono one. The sleeves show a novelty of cut with their extra fullness at the elbow held by a knot of velvet. The bodice is nearly hidden under the square collar effect in front and back, which is cut on the straight of the gingham and bordered with a band of white batiste. Tiny pearl buttons trim the front of the bodice and for a distance of the skirt, these are placed to the left of an end of black velvet which connects bows at the neck and belt, and extends for a short distance on the skirt.

a case of 'cold feet' when he declines to debate unless I admit that Graduated Single Tax is not Single Tax. He wants me to concede that there is no Single Tax in the bill. Then why on earth was it called Graduated Single Tax?"

Curious French Market. There is a curious old market near Paris in which everything is sold at secondhand. Working girls can fit themselves out there from head to foot. As a writer says: Mimi can sell her old felt hat and buy a straw one, exchange her old dress for a new one and, if she likes, buy a steak and a salad for her dinner, a paper bag of fried potatoes, sweets and some flowers for her window. Democracy is king here, and no more attention is paid to the millionaire who is looking for something marvelous which he may pick up cheap than to the man with a wooden leg who wants a new boot in exchange for a dozen sardine tins, five gloves and a stocking.

No Influence With Him. During a municipal election in a town in the west of Scotland a young lady who was canvassing on behalf of one of the candidates called at a house, the door of which was opened by the goodwife. "I have called to solicit your vote on behalf of Mr. —," said the young lady. "But it's not me that's got the vote. It's me man," replied the woman. "Yes," said the young lady, "but I thought you might perhaps use your influence with him." "Me infloence him?" said the goodwife. "I hiv-nae infloence w' him. Only this morning I asked him to wash the floor afore he went out, and he wadna dae it."

The Adirondack Lakes. One of the most striking phenomena of the Adirondack region is the carrying power of the human voice in still weather upon the lakes great and small. Persons ashore easily hear the ordinary conversation of others who are so far out upon the lake as to be indistinguishable, and as a great many Adirondack visitors habitually violate the law touching the slaughter of deer all such offenders are extremely careful not even to whisper a word that might betray their guilt when rowing upon the lakes.

CHANCE. Chance never yet writ a legible book, never built a fair house, never drew a neat picture, never did any of these things nor ever will, nor can it without absurdity be supposed to do them, which are yet works very gross or rude and very easy and feasible, as it were, in comparison to the production of a flower or a tree.—Barrow.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS GO TO NICARAGUA

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—American soldiers will be landed in Nicaragua within the next 48 hours.

On advices of conditions said to be so serious as to justify their being kept secret in Washington, President Taft, at Beverly, personally directed today the immediate movement of the Tenth United States infantry, now on the Panama Canal zone, to Nicaragua, to guard American lives and property. Dispatches of last night and early today pictured the situation as being so acute that an immediate movement of a large force of troops was necessary. Allegations of conditions bordering on barbarism, and acts even worse than those which took the troops of the United States into China to quell the Boxer Rebellion, have been received at the State Department within the last 24 hours. The deliberate murder of two American, Dodd and Philipps, after they had been wounded and were helpless, following the massacre at Leon on August 19, focused attention on the previous reports of burning of soldiers, starvation of political prisoners held in dungeons, and other alleged acts of cruelty.

The latest reports made it plain that immediate protection for Americans was necessary and that it probably would not be safe to wait for the arrival of marines now enroute. General Francisco Alschul, the representative of the revolutionist junta in Washington, denies the charges of barbarity brought against the troops fighting the Nicaraguan government. He alleges the burning of bodies of soldiers was necessary to proper sanitation and that it applied alike to the dead of both sides. He contended also that American interests would not have suffered if no attempt had been made by American forces to prevent the capture and operation by the revolutionists of the railway between Managua and Corinto.

The junta asserts the railroad is a National institution and should not be classed as American property, except as it is being administered to secure a loan by New York bankers. Reports that women were shot are condemned emphatically by General Alschul, who says the barbarous methods were employed by the government forces, when women were sent to the lines as ammunition carriers.

Rebel firing upon the flags of truce born by loyal Nicaraguan troops, as well as American marines, is said, however, to have been frequent within the last few days. New attacks upon women and children and other non-combatants are reported.

NEW HOPS BRINGING FROM 18 TO 19 CENTS

All interest is now centering in the hop markets. The market is nominally steady to strong locally, but no business is passing. The early fuggles are just beginning to be baled and the quality looks good but the major portion of the crop will not be picked until next week.

Some business in 1912 hops has passed in California. Spot goods of the new crop is reported sold in the Sacramento section at 18 to 19c a pound, which considering the usual differential means about 20 cents here. However, no business has been reported up to that basis.
