WHY DO THEY DISLIKE US?

Some competent person who has little leisure on his hands ought to inquire from the social and political leaders of Latin America why it is that so many of the influential people of that region dislike the United States. That they do dislike us is plain. The police of the pigmy Republic of Panama, which we set up in business, and to which we are paying a large subsidy annually for the lease of the canal zone, has frequently assailed American naval and military officers and civilians, killing and wounding some of them, and escaping punishment from their own country for their acts. A reporter of a Havana newspaper has assailed our charge d'affaires there, Hugh S. Gibson, and no attention has apparently been paid to the demand by our State Department that some chastisement be meted out to the offender. One of our diplomats in San Domingo, for political reasons, was killed there a few weeks ago, and, as far as known to the public in the United States, his murderer has gone unpunished.

Now insult is added to injury by some of the Cuban journals in the case of the assault by one of their employees on the American charge. Says El Comercio, one of Havana's prominent newspapers, whose editor is a leading politician: "The Cuban government must demand Mr. Gibson's recall. If it does not, the Cuban people who do not fear the United States, which is the bugaboo of Spanish America, will take the matter into their own hands. Does Mr. Gibson understand that he is exposed to a repetition of the assault? Does he suppose his nation's war strength terrifies the Cubans? If so, he is lamentably mistaken." In the same issue of that paper another writer says the Cubans long to get a chance to fight the Americans. Not only is Gibson's life threatened by several Havana newspapers, but the refusal by the Cuban secretary of state to pay any attention to our State Department's demand for the punishment of the assailant of Gibson is paraded in the newspapers as an indication that Cuba, which would still be Spanish territory had not been emancipated, would like to have a war on with the United States.

MAN, SING, CALLS WIFE NEGLIGENT

Alleging that his wife neglected the housework, and treated him cruelly, Samuel Smith Saturday filed suit for divorce against Rebekah Smith. They were married in Washington. Alice Pearson seeks a divorce from James A. Pearson, alleging that her husband deserted her July 2, 1909. They were married in Pendleton, Oregon, December 19, 1907. Mrs. C. A. Chambers asks a divorce from C. A. Chambers. They were married in Toronto, Can., June 12, 1903. The plaintiff says his wife deserted him in August 1911.

Circuit Judge Campbell granted decrees of divorce in the following cases Saturday: Dora K. Fields against James B. Fields; Kathryn Reardon against John J. Reardon and Thelda Germand against Henry Germand.

HUNTERS BACK; KILL DEER AND RABBITS

Babe Elliott, Harold Eberly and William Strohmeier, who have been on a hunting trip in the Cow Creek Canyon, Southern Oregon, returned to Oregon City Saturday morning. The party had a good time and excellent luck, killing six deer. There were many deer where they were camped, and the men saw nine one morning before breakfast. Not only did they shoot six deer but also two skunks, Elliott and Eberly shooting these. Strohmeier kept up his record by shooting several jack rabbits. The boys gained weight, and have decided to go to the same place next year, when they take their vacation.

ELKS HOLD MEETING IN NEW LODG EROOM

The lodge room of the new home of the Oregon City lodge, No. 1183, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was comfortably filled Friday evening, when the first meeting was held, in the new home. Speeches were made by Henry O'Malley, Exalted Ruler, Gordon E. Hayes, Dr. Clyde Mount, George A. Harding, James H. Carey, Gilbert L. Hedges, E. T. Aviston, Levitt and other prominent members. The home will be thrown open for public inspection next Wednesday afternoon from two to five. The acoustics of the new lodge room are perfect. About 100 members, the largest number to attend a meeting for several months, were present.

"BUGS" RAYMOND, DIAMOND STAR, DEAD

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Arthur, better known in baseball as "Bugs" Raymond former pitcher with the New York National League team, was found dead in a downtown hotel at noon today. A coroner's physician said Raymond's death was due to heart disease, which had been aggravated by the excessive heat. Raymond had been at the hotel since Tuesday. Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock he went to his room. As he did so he complained of the hot weather. "I'm about all in with this heat," he said to the manager of the hotel. He was not seen about the hotel last night and today a maid discovered Raymond's body.

STATE FAIR LOSS GREATLY REDUCED

SALEM, Or., Sept. 7.—Five hundred Shriners wearing fez caps gave an oriental touch to the state fair grounds today. The Southern Pacific special bringing 250 Shriners from Portland arrived at 11:40 o'clock this morning and about 250 Shriners from other valley towns are here. Soon after the arrival the Shriners grouped in the center of the fair grounds esplanade, and with a score of fine blooded horses that have been admired here all the week forming the circle, posed for their picture. Despite the inclement weather of the entire week, the attendance at the fair this year will probably be greater this year than it was last year. Considering weather conditions, members of the fair board express themselves well satisfied with the crowds that have visited the best exhibits Oregon has yet shown. Up to last night the attendance was ahead of the corresponding days last year.

Yesterday there were 5354 general admissions, and on Friday last year the number was 2954; children, 242, as against 104; night admissions 692, as against 490; grandstand admissions 1679, as against 1071. Secretary Meredith of the fair board said he would not hazard an estimate of the financial results of this year's fair, but it is known he is not expecting the loss to be heavy.

Suggestive Questions in Sunday School Lessons

The wonderful words of praise for the I. P. B. Q. C., published last week, have created widespread interest in our Local Club, so we decide to give brief extracts from a few more letters: President H. L. Nave, D. D., Albany College, Oregon: "I consider your questions intensely practical and stimulating to thought." Rev. G. A. Humphries, Pastor Presbyterian church, Tamaqua, Pa.: "No praise is too great to bestow upon your wisely conceived plan and its excellent execution. The questions are gems. Their comprehensiveness appeals to me." Grant L. Rice, Secretary, New York State Sunday School Association: "The strong feature of being suggestive is of great value; I wish every paper, whether daily, weekly, or monthly, would print these questions." Rev. Walter Bennett, Bradford, Pa.: "I would like to say that their exceeding suggestiveness interests me. They elevate the lesson from

Your Questions Answered

If you would like to have answered any particular question each or any week from "The Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson" by Rev. OLD PARTIES ARE FLAYED BY COLONEL

HATHAWAY, Mont., Sept. 8.—After an all-night ride from Fargo, N. D., Colonel Roosevelt came into Senator Dixon's state today. He was to speak in Billings, Livingston, Logan and Helena, and then have the first night's rest away from his train which his campaign managers have permitted him since he started on the tour, remaining in Helena all night, and leaving for Spokane early Sunday morning. The Colonel was near the scene of his cow-punching and hunting exploits early today. In a brief speech to a crowd of men and women who had arisen earlier than usual, Roosevelt said that his opponents had made every charge against him they could think of, including the accusation that he wanted to be king. "I am accused of wanting to rule the country with an iron hand," he said. "I was always inclined to answer that people who make this statement don't know kings, or else they would not put it down as my ambition to be one. They don't know kings as I do. Other things I would like to be, but not a king. The constitutional rights of the present time comes nearer being a cross between a popular vice-president and a leader of the 400 than anything else I know."

The Colonel discussed the enforcement of the anti-trust law by the Taft administration and the attitude of the Progressive party toward trusts. "The old parties are fooling about the trusts," he said. "Take the case of the Standard Oil Company. The country has come to find out that instead of Standard Oil, it was only make-believe death. I cite the Standard Oil to you as particular instance of unscrupling that did not help anybody but the owner of the unscrupling eggs. "Our purpose is not to unscramble the eggs, but to exercise such control that will prevent any scrambling."
