THE MEAT SUPPLY

It is rather strange that we should now be figuring upon the raising of reindeer in Alaska as a source of meat supply, and as a means of reducing the high cost of living. Before the first opening of Oklahoma, when the dispossession of the cattle barons began, the plea of the barons that they were keeping down the price of meat was met with the assertion that the multiplication of farmers would raise up many small stock raisers to supply the market, and that if the supply of meat should ever fall far enough behind population to force increased prices farmers in all parts of the country would make stock raising, on a small scale, a side line to their agricultural industry.

We have now for many years been facing the condition which the cattle barons predicted, but the small stock raiser is not yet abundantly in evidence. He will undoubtedly appear in the evolution of things, but just now he is being anxiously awaited by millions of town and city dwellers who find themselves out of meat, and can not, like the country boy in the old story, dig for the groundhog. In the meantime, an experiment in reindeer farming has been undertaken and is now flourishing.

The experiment began in 1908, when a herd of 300 reindeer were taken from Labrador to Alaska. The other day the first consignment of reindeer meat from Alaska to the United States, consisting of 125 reindeer carcasses, reached Seattle and was quickly sold there at 20 cents a pound. The herd in Alaska has constantly flourished. At the present rate of increase it is calculated that in twenty-five years there will be 3,000,000 reindeer in Alaska. It is reckoned that Alaska can carry 10,000,000 head. At 20 cent a pound reindeer is as far out of reach of the masses as beef or pork. But the promise of a steady and great supply in future, at more popular prices should move the small farmer to a new interest in stock raising.

The Democratic party in South Carolina reveals huge frauds. It appears after all, that "a white man's primary" has its black spots.

Ohio is rapidly becoming one of the most erratic states in the Union. A good many Kansas and Nebraska people have already moved back to Ohio. England and France tell the U.S. that they must not interfere with the Island of Samoa. It is easy to guess what powers hold the big cards in the Mediterranean.

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

September 10th, 1912. In the Courier of September 6, I notice that Mr. Fel's hired man says that my opposition to single tax is due to our interest in a certain lot in the City of Portland. He states that under the graduated single tax we would pay $833.00 more tax than under the present system. Any land tax ordinary or extraordinary, under the terms of our contract, which may be levied will be paid by the tenants, so our net income will be precisely the same under either system of taxation during the continuance of our present fifty year lease.

The only property which we own that would be in any way adversely affected would be our Clackamas County holdings consisting of our home farm of about 100 acres at Riley Station and a seventeen acre tract which I own near Naeff Station. This would be affected about the same as other lands in Clackamas County if single tax is adopted.

Now as to the imputation that we desire to escape our just share of taxation, I would state that on the above mentioned lands and our personal property we paid a tax this year in Clackamas County of $452.00. In this connection I would further state that I was the Chairman of the school board which recommended the levy of a ten mill special school tax, which was unanimously adopted. I would further say that I acted as secretary of a district road meeting at which we endeavored to levy a special road tax. This road tax was defeated, but we hope to do better next year.

I have also favored both in the Pomona and State Grange and before the Automobile Club, the enactment of a law which would place a specific tax of one-dollar per horse power on all automobiles, said tax to be levied in addition to the regular tax now levied.

Our friends of the soap persuasion would exempt automobiles entirely from taxation, and would have you believe it to be in the interest of the poor man.

Under the same pretense they would exempt all railroads from paying any tax on their rails, ties, poles, wires, grades, bridges, power houses and machinery. And then by figures compiled by an imported expert would seek to show that the railroads would pay more when thus exempted.

Now in view of the careless disregard for the truth by the parasites of the soap-man, I would infer that it is not in their contract with Mr. Fel's that they shall keep the ninth commandment. Yours truly,

HARVEY G. STARKWEATHER.

DEMOCRATS TO HAVE MEETING TUESDAY

R. B. Beatie, Chairman of the Clackamas County Democratic Committee, has called a meeting of the organization at 11 o'clock next Tuesday morning at Willamette Hall. The local and national campaigns will be discussed, and a thorough organization will be effected. While the party has no hope of carrying the county for the national ticket, the leaders believe that at least two candidates for county offices will win.

SEVERAL CEMENT WALKS BEING LAID

Several cement walks were constructed in this city the past month. Duane Ely is having a walk placed along the front of his store on Seventh street as well as in front of his large warehouse, the contractor being Harry Jones. W. A. Long is having a walk placed in front of his home on Seventh street. This contract was awarded to Oglesby & Criswell. Others along that street have decided to construct cement walks, this proving more satisfactory and lasting much longer than the wooden walks. There is considerable travel along Seventh street, and there are still some walks that are in need of repair.

TY COBB HAS MORE TROUBLE ON DIAMOND

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 12.—Ty Cobb, Detroit's sensational center fielder, is again the storm center of a baseball quarrel. The trouble started in the third inning of yesterday's game with Philadelphia. Umpire Connolly called Cobb out for stepping out of the batter's box. A spectator in the grandstand hit Connolly in the mouth with a bottle.

Cobb then seated himself on the bench instead of taking his position in the field, but finally went out. The wrangling did not stop and before it was over Vitt and Bush were chased. Umpire Connolly sent a full report of the affair to President Johnson. The results Thursday follow:

- Pacific Coast League: At San Francisco—Oakland 5-3; Portland 4-1 (first game 13 innings); second game called end of fifth on account of darkness. At Sacramento—Los Angeles 9, Sacramento 8 (10 innings). At Los Angeles—San Francisco 10, Vernon 2.
- National League: St. Louis 4-1, New York 2-4; Boston 7-7, Chicago 0-4; Brooklyn 1-4, Cincinnati 0-6; Pittsburgh 7, Philadelphia 3.
- American League: Boston 3, Chicago 1; Philadelphia 3, Detroit 0; Washington 3, Cleveland 0; St. Louis 3, New York 0.

VERDICT IN DAMAGE SUIT EXPECTED TODAY

The $10,000 damage suit of Victor Wasiljoff against the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company was called for trial before Circuit Judge Campbell and a jury Thursday morning. The testimony on both sides was heard and it is expected that a verdict will be rendered today. The plaintiff, while in the employ of the defendant, suffered serious injury to his right arm. He says it was caught in a pulley as a result of negligence upon the part of agents of the company. Dimick & Dimick are his attorneys. The company denies that it was negligent, and says that it safeguards its employees as far as possible.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO ELECT DELEGATES

Mrs. David Caulfield, president has called a special meeting of the Woman's Club for tomorrow at 3 o'clock at the Community room to elect delegates to the state convention of Woman's Clubs to be held in Portland, November 13, 14 and 15. All members of the club are urged to be present by the president. The club will begin holding its regular meetings in a few days.

WOMAN SLAIN BY JIU JITSU BLOW

(Continued from page 1) the report will show that Mrs. Szabo died of strangulation. There certainly was no struggle in the water between myself and Mrs. Szabo, which would result in her being strangled. When she came up she did not hit the boat in such a manner as to cause her to die of strangulation. I certainly did not clutch her by the throat and there was no way by which she could have died in that manner.

REV. EDWARDS STARTS WEEKLY BIBLE CLASS

(Communication)

While the good party man studies his platform and the perplexed independent studies five platforms to see which one really is the panacea for all the country's ills, it is worth while remembering that there is one platform back of them all, that has started the men that have started every great movement worth anything for humanity in the last 2000 years, and we use it to decorate our center tables or catch dust on the lofty book shelf. This platform has been enacted into human nature and its framers is the Almighty. Its first laws were the Ten Commandments and its highest law is the Golden Rule. It contains the biography of the only perfect man that has ever lived and is caught up to it and it is so safe and always in advance of the times. Its progressiveness is so certain that the vanguard of reformers have never sated that the most conservative need not fear it, and so simple that a child can follow it. Yet to the interpretation of it the sages of the ages have given it their profound thought. This bible is the platform of humanity promulgated by divinity and its truthfulness has been tested by generations of men who have lived by it. It requires only that the man should honestly study it and faithfully apply it.

Rev. Mr. Edwards of the Congregational church, believing that the members of his congregation can find no book so interesting or so momentous, proposes to conduct a Bible Class on Tuesday evenings at the church for an informal study of the Book in its great outstanding features as a teacher of the world's teachers, a revealer of God and an inspirer of men. The first meeting was held Thursday evening at 7:30. Strangers in the city are cordially invited to attend the meetings. The study began with an introduction: "What is the Bible?"
