HOPPICKERS MAKE GOOD WAGES THIS YEAR

Hoppicking is about completed in Clackamas County, and the pickers have done well, some having made as high as $4 a day during the picking season. The rain did little damage to the hops and if anything benefited many of the yards.

Many of the farmers in Clackamas County are having their grain threshed. It was at first feared that clover seed had suffered from the long rains but there is not as much damage as was expected. Many of the hullers are in operation in the county. There will be thousands of bushels saved.

There have been only a few Bartlett pears in the markets of Oregon City, and those that were sold by the local merchants brought prices ranging from 75 cents to $1.10. Those retailed at 75 cents were of a poorer grade, but readily sold. There were enough at this price to supply the demand. Peaches are selling well with prices ranging from 55 cents to 75 cents a box. The Elberta is the variety being used for canning purposes and retailed at 55 cents a box. These are of good quality.

There is a good demand for good ranch butter, as also for good ranch eggs. Eggs are bringing a wholesale price of from 28 cents to 30 cents a dozen.

Advice to Wives.

Judge Karl Kimmel of St. Louis is responsible for at least one happily reunited married couple, or rather Patrolman Patrick J. Egan is. Egan having been appointed by Judge Kimmel to oversee the job. Patrolman Egan went about his duties by visiting the couple, closely questioning them about their troubles and giving them lessons in marital peace. For the wife he wrote out a number of precepts. He did not pretend that they were all original, but called them whatever he could find mottoes that fitted his purpose. They worked in this case, and if followed probably would do so in others. Following are a few of the precepts:

Don't remonstrate with your husband when he has been drinking. Wait until next morning; then give him a cup of coffee for his headache. Afterward lead him into the parlor, put your arms about him and give him a lecture. It will have more weight with him than any number of quarrels.

If he has to drink let him have it at home.

There is nothing like children to bind husband and wife together.

Don't annoy a man by talking to him in the mornings or when he feels bad.

Avoid mothers-in-law. Don't let them live with you or interfere in your affairs.

If you must have your own way do not let your husband know you are trying to boss him. Have your own way by letting him think he is having his.

Don't be jealous or give your husband cause for jealousy.

When your husband is in a bad humor be in a good humor. It may be difficult, but it will pay.

Since every unhappily married couple may not have the help of such peacekeepers as Judge Kimmel and Patrolman Egan, perhaps the woman in the case might make up a list of rules, of which these should form a part. Usually it is the husband that is given the precepts, but it requires something stronger than advice to make the average recalcitrant husband behave himself. Thus upon the wife rests the burden of bringing about an understanding.

Perhaps a general rule can be formulated covering the whole matter. It would read something like this: Love is the power that draws man and wife together in the beginning, and love is the power that must hold them together till the end.

A Newark man directed in his will that all his gold plate be melted. Probably wanted it in shape that he could take it with him.

Women to Replace Men.

Considerations of economy have induced the imperial postal authorities of Germany to approve a plan by which 8,603 girls and women will gradually supplant men on the staffs of the different branches of the administration.

The innovation will especially affect the smaller postoffices ranked in the third class. In these 3,563 places in the lower grades hitherto filled by men are destined to be gradually occupied by women, at an average salary of $190 annually.

In addition, in other postal branches throughout the empire 4,500 offices hitherto held by men will be filled in future by 5,100 women. Despite the numerical addition to the staffs, the women's salaries are so much lower than those of the men that it is figured a saving of over $1,500,000 annually will be effected.

FROCK FOR A YOUNG GIRL, SIMPLY TRIMMED

A design for a girl's muslin frock is given today, one which should suit mother, for as is so rarely the case, this frock may be developed from the expenditure of the price of the material only. In the drawing a little lace is shown, but this may be omitted if desired and the frock will remain stylish and sufficiently trimmed. As shown in the sketch the kimona blouse has a fichu of the material edged with double ruchings of the same with a yoke of lace and bands of lace on the sleeves. Three double ruches of the material trim the skirt and above the upper one of these a band of lace is added.

WILLIAM M. SMITH IS WOODMEN HEAD

At the regular meeting of the Woodmen of the World Friday night the lodge elected and installed Neighbor William M. Smith Consul Commander to fill out the remainder of the term left vacant by Neighbor Perry Barnes who has been unable to take charge of the office on account of having employment out of the city.

Neighbor Banke was elected and installed to fill the office of Advisor Lieutenant made vacant by the adjoining of Neighbor Smith. Neighbor William Hammond who has filled the chair of Consul Commander for the past fourteen months vacated the chair to Neighbor Smith after thanking that had been given him by the lodge during his term of office.

District Manager Martin, of Portland, was present and gave the boys a fine talk on the condition of the order and the drill team headed by Capt. M. D. Phillips challenged the other members of the lodge to compete in a campaign the remaining three months of the year. The outcome of the affair is to be celebrated by a big oyster supper on the first meeting night in January, 1913. Following the regular lodge work and speeches all enjoyed a feast of ice cream. Three candidates were initiated. The initiation closes a fine record made during the last year, during which time there has only been one meeting at which there has not been from one to eighteen candidates initiated. The membership of the lodge has increased twenty-five per cent, a record that has not been excelled anywhere in the state during that time.

The name of Representative Madden, of this city, has been added to the list of speakers, and it probable that he will make his initial speech in middle states and especially from at Berwyn, Ill., September 24. Additions to the speaking schedule are being made by Chairman Dickema daily.

"During the present week," said Chairman Dickema today, "I have been receiving reports from the west, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa. In every instance the report says that the Roosevelt wave is receding and that this week it has been receding rapidly. Reports have been gathered from different parts of each state and speakers who have been out in these states during the week are greatly encouraged. The week of my connection with headquarters has been practically revolutionized."
