

CORRESPONDENCE

BARLOW

R. E. Irkin and daughter, Hattie returned home from the east Friday. They both think "there is no place like Oregon". Hattie says, "They can all have their money in the east but give me Oregon, where I can enjoy comfort. They were in two very hard electrical storms while in Iowa which caused Hattie to get under feather pillows for safety."

MOUNTAIN VIEW.

Hoppickers have about all returned and claim to have done fine financially. Mr. and Mrs. Lou Sager of Shubel transacted business in this berg Wednesday. Mrs. Charles Clark of Roosevelt street has a serious attack of throat trouble. Mrs. Frank Stillwell is on the sick list.

MULINO

Once more the sun shines and the farmers are taking advantage of the good weather to get their threshing done. Mr. Christner came into this neighborhood Saturday evening with his threshing machine outfit and finished up the harvesting Wednesday afternoon, and now the farmers can rest easy.

GLAD TIDINGS

The weather having settled threshing machines are again running. Grain, of course, is injured to a considerable extent after having passed through the late rains, still throughout the Willamette Valley there will be many thousands of bushels threatened out that will not be as badly damaged as was at first supposed.

MOLALLA

Mrs. Harl Engle, who was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital a few weeks ago to be operated upon for appendicitis, is recovering slowly. She hopes to be able to return home in about two weeks.

COLTON

Miss Ruth Branlund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Branlund died at her home at Colton Saturday morning after an illness of several years caused by heart and stomach trouble.

Ruth was a very bright girl and was far advanced in school for her age. She was also a great musician and was loved by all who knew her. Miss Branlund was born in Michigan and went to Washington with her parents where they lived for several years, when her health began to fail. From there they came to Oregon, thinking that the change would do her good, which it did until the last few months when she began to fail quite rapidly.

Toward the last, she would never complain. We miss our little friend, but now he has passed away to a better home, for death was a relief to her sufferings. The services were held at the Swedish Lutheran church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. Reinhart. The burial services were held in the Carlsburg cemetery and were largely attended. The pallbearers were Alfred Wall, Phillip and Melvin Hult, Herman, Ruben and Ben Schindgren. Besides the many friends and schoolmates who mourn her death she is survived by her parents, one brother Verner, and two sisters, Amy and Juanita.

A bell was installed on the Swedish church last week.

W. E. Bonney's sister, who has been visiting here, will leave for her home this week.

J. Jones harvested his onions last week and reports a pretty fair crop. Miss Nellie Bonney left for Estacada Sunday, where she will attend school.

All those who have been away at the hop yards have returned.

Miss Jessie Phillips is staying with Granddad Dix.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gorbett were guests at Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gotthardt's last Sunday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bonney, a daughter, last week.

Quite a few have gone to the mountains for huckleberries this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastwood, who have been staying on the Sherman place, have left for Portland and Mr. Sherman and family moved out to take possession of their place.

Messrs. Jay Dix, of Shubel and Oatis Dix, of Mulino, visited with their mother at Colton Sunday.

John Jones was a caller at the Wallace home at Highland Sunday.

MAPLE LANE

The regular meeting of the Maple Lane Improvement Club was to be at Mrs. George Mighill's September 11th but September 10th being Mrs. Mighill's sixtieth birthday the Ladies decided to give her a surprise and so it proved to be. Vocal selections and several poems were given, also a puzzle contest. Miss Dorothy Stafford, of Oregon City, getting the prize, a jar in which were several growing house plants. The ladies then served a chicken dinner with all the accessories. Mrs. Mighill was the recipient of several birthday gifts and the wishes of all the ladies that she might enjoy many returns of the day.

Those present were: Mrs. Horning and Mrs. C. I. Stafford and daughter, of Oregon City; Mesdames Cone, Pagenkopf, Gage, Dimick, Craven, Reinolds, Lewis, Swallow, Wilcox, Reynolds, Parker, Schmidt, Brown, Adams Horton and Smith of Maple Lane.

Mrs. Sartin having been the very efficient president of the Maple Lane Improvement Club for the past six months and now about to move to Oregon City, the members of the club decided to give her a farewell visit on Monday afternoon, September 16th. Ice cream, cakes and coffee were served, many pleasant stories were told, a picture, "Smug Harbor" was presented by Mrs. Wilcox in behalf of the ladies and the hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" was sung with Mrs. Edgar Smith at the Organ.

Those present were Mesdames Dimick, Spiner, Gage, Cone, Mighills, Craven, Swallow, Wilcox, Reynolds, Sartin, Parker, Rummer, Schmidt, Brown, Horton, Smith, Derrick, Adams, Hester and Miss Bessie Reynolds.

Most of the hop pickers who went from Maple Lane have returned home. Those who arrived on Sunday were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Heater and family, Mrs. Derrick and daughters May and Gretchen. All returned daughters, Frances, Irma and Jennie, Mrs. August Splinter and daughter May and Gretchen. All report a good time and fair pay for the time spent considering so much bad weather. One thing sure each one brought back a good crop of tan.

A. J. Lewis is on the sick list at present but is slowly recovering.

STAFFORD

The most exciting thing that has happened in this vicinity since the black hand letters, received by some of our citizens, is the marriage of Mr. Moser and Mrs. Shauber on last Friday evening at the home of the Rev. Mr. Lucas, pastor of the Baptist church. It is said the happy bridegroom gave the boys $5 with which to celebrate the event. Mr. and Mrs. Moser went on a little trip, after which they will settle down in Stafford.

Louis Kile was awarded the rooster offered by Mrs. Holton for best potatoes at the juvenile fair held at Willsonville. Although when it was offered it was understood to go with an hen offered by Mr. Milen to any Stafford boy or girl who raised the most potatoes from one pound. The same boy received the $20 suit of clothes and $8 in money.

The Delkar brothers finished baling their hay from the field last week. C. Thompson's son, who was striking suddenly with pneumonia, is getting along nicely under the skillful care of Dr. Vincent.

A daughter of Mr. Aerni's was brought to Portland this week to be operated upon for tuberculosis of the glands of the neck.

Mr. Gebhardt picked his seven acre field of hops last week, and had 277 boxes.

Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Aden, Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. Robbins visited with Mrs. Gage on Tuesday. Mrs. Robbins is staying with Mrs. Sharp. She is a relative of the family and will be ninety years old in May.

Mrs. Gage visited her son John L. Gage, at St. Helens, last week, and saw the three weeks old child a promising boy.

Fred Baker has found no definite trace of the scalawag, who poisoned his dogs, although he thinks he has a pretty good clue, which he will follow up if any more are missing, as he has put five left.

After threatening rain for a number of days, with high winds, Stafford awoke Wednesday morning to fair, sunny weather.

MACKSBURG

The hop season, just ended, has been a most satisfactory one. The yield notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, is abundant, and the outlook for fair prices is unusually bright. The champion picker seems to have been Hermann Wiener, who in one day picked 527 pounds. Grover Harms, however, stands at the head in the season's work; 500 pounds in one day, was reached by Grover Harms, Everett Kusling and Alma Harms.

The thresher of Nate Cole, also that of Ab Cole finished for the season on Saturday, September 14th. The Walsh and Hepler machines ended the season's work on Tuesday, the 17th.

Sylvester Gibson and Ben Knutsen, who have been away at work all summer, have returned.

The children of Macksburg, encouraged by their success at the Juvenile Fair, are busy preparing for the County exhibit.

Now that the hop and threshing seasons are over the grubbing has begun in earnest. Everywhere the rubbish piles are burning in fields that next year to be planted to potatoes or grain.

CANBY

A number of friends were entertained in a most delightful manner Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Harvey. The evening was devoted to playing whist. After cards were enjoyed a delicious luncheon was served. Mrs. Harvey was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Miss Marie.

Many are the happy faces to be seen on the Canby school grounds these days, as the school session opened with an unusually large enrollment especially in the High School department. All of the children seem rejoiced to again take up the school duties. It was thought by some that the work on the new building would prove a great annoyance, but it does not seem to annoy the pupils or the teachers to any degree, as the work is carried on systematically, both by the workmen on the new building and also by the teachers in the school room. The following are the teachers: C. F. Romig, Supt. and Prin.; Miss Addy B. Wyeth, Assistant High School; P. L. Coleman, teacher of sixth, seventh and eighth grades; Miss LaVine Sheridan, teacher of third, fourth and fifth grades; Miss Emily Spulak, primary grades, and H. H. Eccles Riverside school. On account of the large enrollment in the High School, the Primary Department has found temporary quarters in the Norwegian Evangelical Church until the new school building is ready for occupancy. The Canby School is up to the standard in every way and is prepared to enter the State University and other higher institutions of learning.

Rev. C. L. Creevy left last Monday evening for Ashland, Ore., to attend the M. E. Annual Conference of Salem district. He expects to be returned to Canby, as he is anxious to complete the new church building, which has been in process of construction during the past year and longer. The basement is now occupied for church and Sabbath school services. Under the efficient superintendency of A. J. Burdette and his able corps of officers and teachers, the Sabbath School has almost doubled in attendance during the last year.

The Southern Pacific is pushing its work on the new railroad and a large number of workmen are busily engaged near Canby on the new road.

The excavation of the basement of the Masonic Hall building about to be erected at Canby is almost completed. Work is also in progress, excavating for the new store building of Carlton & Rosenkrantz. Canby is certainly advancing.
