ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

(From noon today to noon tomorrow.) Sun sets 5:57, rises 5:49. Evening stars: Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter. Morning star: Saturn.

While Roosevelt is explaining and Wilson is shifting President Taft stands firm on his splendid record.

Professor Wilson does not seem to be as ready in writing explanations of his writings as he was in making the original statements.

Are the farmers of the United States ready to let Mr. Perkins of the Harvester trust pick out their candidate for president? Not yet nor soon.

With the likelihood of President Taft's election increasing every day, business men are feeling better. They remember 1893 when the Democratic administration caused universal distress.

Ancient Thermopylae. In spite of the fact which is well known, that the sea has receded since ancient times, the strategic position of the ancient pass of Thermopylae is still immensely strong. The alternative route by Deleghi, which crosses the hills a mile and a half north of the springs by well engineered zigzags, is equally capable of defense and leads into a country of a most difficult character. Either pass might be held indefinitely by 5,000 men. The coast road is absolutely commanded from the heights, so that a comparatively small force would render it impassable, while the flat lowland lying near the sea is marshy and intersected by dikes.

Fear of the Dark. Are you afraid of the dark? Most children are and many grownups. Even the bravest of men, in a house of which he knows every square foot, feels more at his ease when the lights are up than when he is in the dark. The reason, psychologists say, is that darkness always spelled danger to our savage ancestors. When man was all but a wild beast, living in the open among the other animals, his ingenuity made him their equal in the daytime. But in the night he was helpless against a crouching foe, and darkness often meant death. And, in spite of our civilization, this instinctive hatred of darkness still survives though in a weakened form.—Pearson's.

Borrowing in India. India is a nation of pawnshops, according to an English authority. The people think the cleverest man is he who devises the largest number of ways by which to borrow money. They put in pledge their lands, oxen, jewelry, themselves, their children and their grandchildren, and cases have even been known where a father, to obtain money to defray the expenses of his daughter's wedding, has pledged as collateral the first child to be born of the union.

According to Contract. A man who was very miserly hoarded up his stacks of hay year after year in the hope of making double the price he was offered for them. A well known hay and straw buyer in the district one day asked the price of a stack. An enormous price was asked, which the buyer accepted. "How about the terms of settlement?" asked the old miser. "Well, you see," said the buyer, "my terms are to settle when I fetch the last load away." "That's a bargain," said the miser, slapping the other's hand. The old chap watched every load go away except the last, and that the buyer never did fetch away.—London Standard.

Aeroplane Driven Between Towers of Famous Bridge

An English air man recently performed the delicate feat of flying along the Thames in a waterplane under four of the bridges—Waterloo, London, Blackfriars and Hungerford—that span the river and through as well as under the Tower bridge. The illustration here reproduced shows him accomplishing the former feat. The clear space between the stone towers is 200 feet. The aviator, F. K. McLean, was successful during the greater part of his trip, but soon after he had passed the Tower bridge his machine "slid slipped" in the air, struck the water and had to be towed to the shore.

Suggestive Questions in Sunday School Lessons

This is the tenth week we have published the "Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lessons," and we have heard nothing but commendation, both for the questions themselves, and for the enterprise of the Morning Enterprise. Two results, among many others, may be mentioned—first, a great many are taking up the home study of the Sunday School Lessons, and second the attendance at Bible classes has increased. This last mentioned result can, however, be quadrupled if Bible Class teachers and scholars will hustle for new members, making the I. P. B. Q. C., its easy course of study, and its valuable prizes the rally cry. There is no reason why Oregon City cannot carry the banner in this contest, and win some of the Gold Medals. There will be a beautifully engraved Diploma printed in three colors, presented to every member of our Local Club who completes the course of study whether winning any other prize or not. This Diploma will certify that the holder has completed a course of study in Bible literature.

Your Questions Answered

If you would like to have answered any particular question each or any week from "The Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson" by Rev. Dr. Linscott, send in your request to this office giving the date of the lesson and the number of the question you wish answered. You may select any question except the one indicated that it may be answered in writing by members of the club. Dr. Linscott will answer the questions either in these columns or by mail through this office. Don't forget to state what benefit these "Suggestive Questions" are to you. Give your full name and address. Send your letters to the Question Editor of the Morning Enterprise.

Prepare For the Olympic Games of Four Years Hence. We Will Find It Harder to Win. Other Lands Now Using Our Style. By JAMES E. SULLIVAN, the American Olympic Commissioner and Noted Sporting Authority.

THE American athletes certainly won a great victory at Stockholm, and the American athletic authorities gained equally valuable experience. It is a long cry to Berlin and the Olympic games of 1916, but you can rest assured that the American team that competes in Germany four years hence will be BETTER PREPARED for the meet than our Stockholm squad. We live to learn and should take a LESSON FROM THE GERMANS, who have already started to build the stadium for the next Olympic games. I was told before I left Europe that it will seat about 18,000 spectators and will have a 400 meter track and every convenience will be installed for athlete and spectator. NOW, IT'S GOING TO BE HARDER TO WIN AT BERLIN THAN IT WAS AT STOCKHOLM, FOR THE CONTINENTAL ATHLETE IS COMING STRONG, AND WE WILL HAVE TO BE ON EDGE TO MAINTAIN OUR SUPREMACY ON TRACK AND FIELD. I am convinced that the Olympic games are only in their infancy and that each succeeding meet will see more competitors and greater and better performances. Every country where athletics are on the increase has TAKEN A LEAF FROM AMERICA'S METHODS and will eventually be prepared to battle with our men on almost even terms.
