Tariff Commissions.

The Democratic Congress which recently adjourned, contemptuously dismissed the non-partisan tariff board which, at the instance of President Taft, had been making exhaustive and scientific investigations into tariff problems. Valuable information which the board had gathered was thrown away by the Democrats, who proceeded to draft their tariff bills in the secrecy of the committee room.

In abolishing the tariff board, the Democrats had the aid of some of those who are now loud in support of the Third Term Party. The leader and standard bearer of that party in his speeches in a recent article in his magazine, likewise had treated the board with contempt. However, he urges the establishment of a new sort of tariff commission.

In accordance with the habit of his mind, he turns to Germany for his ideal of such a commission. It is a curious fact that, though always asserting his belief in the ability of the people to rule, he invariably selects a rigid bureaucratic model whenever proposing new governmental machinery for this republic.

has ever been presented to it a better report on the tariff question. It will also be entirely impossible not to take your results in mind in proceeding to a revision on tariff. It would be a great mistake to stop the work of the board, and it would soon prove necessary to re-establish it."

So while we have a Third term urging the adoption of a European system of tariff commission for the United States, the European authority on the subject is holding up our commission which the Democrats and Third termers destroyed, as a model for the world.

The incident illustrates the evil worked to the cause of good government in the United States by partisan and factional jealousy and selfishness.

LOWELL FAVORS SELLING

Opponent in Primary Supports Him as Regular Party Nominee.

In giving his unqualified indorsement of the candidacy of Ben Selling, progressive Republican nominee for United States Senator, Judge Stephen A. Lowell, an opponent of Mr. Selling in the primary election, said recently: "Senator Selling is the regular constituted nominee of the party. He has been a burden bearer in the past political contests and is entitled, under all rules of the game, to his reward. He is a progressive Republican, not only today, but was such when it took some courage to occupy advanced ground. He is a substantial business man, with a home and interests in the state. Why should any honest man who believes in fair play in politics, as well as in every day affairs, refuse to support his candidacy. I am with him to the end and he ought to win by 10,000 plurality in November."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE

TWO RULERS.

When Emperor Mutsuhito of Japan died one of the usefully great men of our day passed away.

When Abdul Hamid, the Turkish ruler, was deposed, one of the most cruel and useless men of his generation was got rid of.

Mutsuhito became emperor in 1867, at fifteen years of age. In 1889 he changed the government from an absolute monarchy by voluntarily giving his people a constitution—Japan's first great forward step.

He sent representatives to foreign countries and received like officials at his court in Tokyo—an entirely new procedure. He sent young Japanese into other countries to be educated. In uniting the provinces into one nation he stirred up a rebellion which he put down, but—

Note the difference: Abdul Hamid put to death every revolutionist who dared to show his head. Mutsuhito promoted his enemies to offices of responsibility. Making his wife his confidant and companion, by his example the Japanese emperor put the womanhood of his country on a footing with its manhood.

Abdul Hamid by his harem debased and cruelly abused womanhood. The Japanese emperor early under took measures for the national defense. In order to provide money he and the empress agreed to reduce the household expenses so they might contribute annually 300,000 yen for the building up of the army and navy.

The Japanese victory over the Russians justified the foresight. Abdul Hamid, on the other hand, dissipated the revenues of his government in maintaining his army of guards and spies.

Mutsuhito died at sixty years of age, a world figure, loved and venerated by his countrymen. Abdul Hamid was deposed for his cruelty and rascality by the Young Turks party, and no one cares whether he is living or dead.

The real ruler of his people encouraged education, elevated woman, forwarded progress. The nominal ruler encouraged ignorance and superstition, degraded women and was a brutal reactionary.

The Turkish ruler distrusted his friends. Mutsuhito forgave his enemies. Seldom has our day afforded such an antithesis—so startling a contrast between men higher up. And yet—Look around you! Will you not find Mutsuhitos and Abdul Hamids in your own community?
