How the Pennant Winners Size of dust and often gives the farm ani-Up For World's Series.

NEW YORK'S STRONG ATTACK.

McGraw's Team is Better on Offense Than Red Leas-Boston Is Better Defense Club-Giants' Pitchers Have Been Better Tested.

Now that the New York Glants have captured the National league pennant factory to handle in every way. It and Boston the American league dag. can be hauled by team or shipped by it might be interesting for the fans to know some facts about these two clubs before getting down their bets on the world's series. At present the Red Sox are a slight favorite, but no reason for that is shown in the records of the two teams. It is likely that those Wood, Buck O'Brien and Bedient, Remember, though, none of these men hay. has ever appeared in a world's series.

are heavier hitters than the Red Sox course, the market demand is for baled and have shown themselves better run bay-and for baled hav only and for getters, as the records will show.

On the bases the Glants are far superior to any club in either league. it. In the last world's series the Giants' base running ability did not cut much this time than they did against the on the farms.

The only department in which the Giants, according to the official records, is in fielding.

know by the records that the Giants are far ahead of them in long, cleanup

According to the figures, the best base runner on the Red Sox team is two-horse pull-power or the motor hay

JACK STAHL, MANAGER OF THE BOSTON

Tris Speaker. He is third. No other Boston player is listed among the first ten. The Giants have a monopoly on the base stealing average in the National. In the first ten appear the names of Doyle, Snodgrass, Devore, Murray, Herzog and Becker,

According to these figures, the Giants have a shade the best of the Red Sox, so it naturally comes down to a question of pitching. Could the Glants hit that hard against Joe Wood, Bedient and Buck O'Brien with his spitball? That's a question that no one can an-

On the other hand the question arises, Can the Red Sox hit so hard of the press so that the baling chamagainst Mathewson, Marquard and Tes | ber may be set well into the interior reau? Many of them have batted of the shed or barn and ample room against Matty, and though they lost the be had for the revolution of the sweep opener to him they afterward gave to be made outside the shed or barn. him a trimming. They do not seem to | Another advantage of the arrangement fear him, but as Jimmy McAleer said of such a press is that the bale chamthe other day: "Any team that beats Mathewson has to get up and dust. He and fed from both stacks without realways pitches an intelligent game, no setting the press. The close arrangematter what is the condition of his ment of feeding table and sweep will arm. His experience is also of immense not allow sufficient space for the advantage to him."

The work of Marquard, Bedlent, Tes. to operate the press. reau and O'Brien in a world's series is hard to figure. Marquard has been row and should not be more than four against the fire and has more experi- or five inches high to enable the ence than the others, but he was not successful against the Athletics. O'Brien and Tesreau are both spitball pitchers, and they are bound to be trou will generally slow down, hesitate, blesome. Neither the Giants nor the Red Sox like to hit at spitters. The man the Boston supporters are depending upon to win the championship is Joe Wood. There is no doubting the fact that he is a wonderful pitcher. He has a fast ball that is the his slow one is a marvel. His great change of pace is bound to wreak havoc with any string of batters, provided he does not lose his head. Wood has been in many hard fights and ought to be fully able to take care of dramatic critic. "The young man," Mr. Davis said, duced to her a few days later, and she

A Gentle Hit.

"I think it was real mean of you to roast me like that, especially when and a money saver and should be you know that I have three children used on every farm. and a husband, who is a dramatic critic, to support'"

BALE THE HAY

By G. H. Alford, I H C Service Bureau,

Baled hay is much more valuable as feed than loose hay, even when the

Loose hay carries a great quantity mals a severe cough while baled hay

Baled hay takes up about one-fifth as much room as loose hay and for this reason the entire crop of baled hay can usually be stored under cover while loose hay must be exposed to the weather in stocks and ricks. Baling breaks up coarse hay so that the stock will eat it more readily and there is no waste in feeding baled

Baled hay is always ready for the market. It is convenient and satis-

is spoiled by the weather. Loose hay becomes dusty and musty. Baling hay keeps out the dust and preserves the hay. Baled hay retains much of sweet hay odor that stock relish. who have made the Red Sox favorite There's a freshness and appetizing are banking on the pitching of Joe quality and feed value in baled hay that is never to be found in loose

We should bale our hay whether we To get down to facts, the Giants feed it on our own farms or sell it. Of this reason baling is the only way to be sure of having a market for

The growing of hay and especially leguminous hay as cowpea, soy bean, figure for the simple reason that they peanut and lespedeza will rapidly indid not get on the bases. Still, with crease the fertility of our soils, make their bitting ability, the Giants ought the raising of good live stock profitto get a great many more on the bags able and add very much to the income

We can buy a one-horse pull-power hay press or we can buy a motor hay Red Sox show superiority over the press. For the small farmer who bales his own hay, the one-horse pullpower hay press will prove very satis-While the Red Sox are often referred factory and economical. With it he to as sluggers, it is very interesting to can bale his hay at the time most convenient and with a small amount of help. For the farmer who grows large quantities of hay or for the farmer who bales hay for his neighbors the press is necessary.

Of course, no man can tell the exact capacity of any hav press as this depends to a considerable extent upon the kind and quality of hay being Tom see that I had two queens he let baled, the skill of the operators, and the speed of the team. However under ordinary conditions a 14x18 twohorse pull-power hay press will bale about 8 tons per day, a 14x18 press operated with a 3-horse power engine will bale about 12 tons per day, a 16x18 press with a 4-horse nower engine about 14 tons per day, and a 17x22 press with 6-horse power engine 16 tons per day.

We should purchase a hay press that has been designed for convenience. There should be a considerable distance between the sweep and the feeding table. Both of these points should be located at the extreme end ber may be set between two stacks sweep to describe the circle necessary

The reach bed should be very narhorses to walk over it without the least trouble. When operating presses that have a high step-over, the horses and ofter stumble at this point which is annoying to the man, wearing on the horses, and slackens the speed of the press. The power construction of the press should be such that when the horses reach the stepover, they are pulling wonder of the American league, and practically no load. One stroke should be completed before they reach the step-over and the load of the next stroke should not begin until the low narrow stepover has been passed.

The bale chamber should be very low so that it is an easy matter to reach across and tie the bale. This saves much the and trouble as, in tying the bale, it is necessary to go around the bale chamber to the opposite side. The press should be con-Richard Harding Davis at a supper structed principally of steel and high in New York told a good story about a grade iron and should be strong and durable. The two-horse pull-power press and "had roasted an actress dreadfully in the motor balling press should have a his dramatic column. He was intro- self-feed attachment as it increases the capacity of the press and at the same time reduces the work of feeding the press. The bay press is a money-relier

THEY MIXED HIM UP

By HARRY VAN AMBERG

"This is a case, gentlemen of the jury," said the judge after biting off the end of a plug of tobacco, "what the prisoner took the law into his own hands by shootin' Tom Murphy in a friendly game o' draw. Bill Jones, tell the jury why yo' done it." "We was havin' a fa'r game," sald the prisoner, "as I supposed. Thar was fou' dollars in the pot. I showed a pa'r o' queens on tens. Tom showed a full o' queens on sévens. Now, I'll leave it to the jury whether any pack o' keerds they ever see had five queens

"Do yo' rest yo' case thar?" asked

"I does," replied the prisoner. "Jim Brown," said the judge, "I appointed yo' the persecutin' attorney in this case, and now I would like to know what yo' got to say agin that hon'able and manly statement."

"There is two sides to every que tion, yo' honah-the side of the prisoner and the side ag'in the prisoner. Now, the side agin the prisoner is

"Have I got to listen to the other side?" asked the judge. "Certainly, yo' honah."

"I'd ruther not do that."

"'Cause I got my mind made up that the killin' o' Tom Murphy was justiflable homercide. If I listen to the other side I won't know whether I stand on my head or my heels."

"It's the duty o' the cou't," replied Mr. Brown, "to listen to evidence on both sides. How yo' goin' to decide on questions o' law without I nowin' what yo' air talkin' about?" "Yo' kin go on," said the judge reluctantly. "Bill Jones," began the prosecutor "says that thar was two queens in his own hand and three in Tom Murphy's hand. How do we know, yo' honah, but that Tom held three good queens and the prisoner one from another

"I tole vo' so, Mr. Brown," remarked the judge impatiently. "Yo' gone and mixed me all up. What have yo' got to say agin that argyment, Bill Jones?" "I have to give yo' honah a fac' that hasn't been mentioned. As soon as one o' his'n drap." "Thar, now. Mr. Brown," put in the judge, "I got it all straightened out Don't yo' go mix me up agin." "Bill Jones," asked the prosecuting attorney, "whar did the game and the shootin' take place?" "In the Antlers saloon across the street."

"When? "This mornin'."

"At what table?" "The one behind the fur end o' the

"What queen was drapped?"

"The queen o' diamonds." "Yo' honah," turning to the judge will yo' please send ovah to see if that queen is still lyin' on the floo'?" "Jim Covne, vo' go ovah, and if yo dn find the cyard bring it into court. There was a hum of conversation while the messenger was gone. Coyne returned and handed a card to the judge, who looked at it with perplex

"Jim Brown," he said angrily, "I tole yo' yo' bettah leave t'other side o' this case alone. Yo' got it mixed up wo'se 'n evah. This yere cyard isn't the queen o' diamonds. It's the queen o'

"I kin make it all plain to yo' honor if you'll listen to me. I ain't a-goin' to argy high toned so's the jury can't understand, but plain. Bill Jones has been a cyard sharp for twenty yea's or mo'. Is it likely that he couldn't tell the queen o' spades from the queen o' diamonds?"

"You bet be could," from the judge. "Then isn't it plain to yo' honah and the jury that Bill Jones has convicted hisself o' perjury?" "Reckon he has!" exclaimed the judge. "What yo' got to say agin that argyment, Bill Jones?"

"I got this, yo' honah. Isn't it jist as bad cheatin' to drap a queen o spades as a queen o' diamonds?"

"Reckon," said the judge, blown in the opposite direction, "yo' done right." "Yo' honah," put in the prosecuting attorney, "I hold in my hand the pack of cyards the two were playin' with when the killin' come off. Now, if the queen you have belongs to this pack. Tom Murphy, who drapped that queen was innocent o' cheatin', wasn't he?"

"Of co'se." The cards were compared and were of the same backs. "Mr. Brown," said the judge, "when air yo' goin' to git through this case? The furder yo' go the mo' yo' mix us

"Yo' honah," cried the prisoner, "I got jist one mo' thing to say. Tom Murphy drapped a cyard with $4 in the pot. Isn't that enough to show cheatin'.' "Yes."

"Then I want to know what yo' keepin' up this trial fo'. The persecutin' attorney got yo' so mixed up yo' don' know whar yo' stand. I reckon yo' better dismiss the case."

"The opinion o' the cou't is that the killin' was justifiable, because either one or t'other of 'em was monkeyin' with the cyards. In these cases in this yere country the man that gits first drap has the law with him. Sich bein' my opinion. I don't want to hear nothin' mo' about it, seein' I mought hang

CORRESPONDENCE

MOUNTAIN VIEW

Potato digging is the main occupation these days.

D. Grady built a large root house last month and is now putting away his potatoes and other vegetables. Lou Sager and wife of Shubel, are guests of J. M. Gillett and family this

Will Gillet, of Walla Walla, arrived in town Saturday to visit with his brothers, Dan and George Gillet and

Mr. and Mrs. La Ray, of Gladstone,

erty on Roosevelt Street and taken

Mrs. A. G. Hickman entertained the Aid Society of the Baptist church last Wednesday. Twenty-one ladies were Robert Ginther and family, of Shubel, moved into town, near Molalla Avenue, so his children could attend and family, G. S. Rodgers and family been visiting the summer at Garibal in town. school here.

Mr. Ginther began teaching at Maole Lane school Monday. Ray Welsh began a term of school at Union Mills last Monday Messrs. Elmer Dixon and Wm. Beard are building cement walks in front of their residence this week. Mrs. Mann has ordered lumber for a new four foot sidewalk.

Mrs. J. R. Duvall, of Sellwood, was visiting friends in this burg Monday. Born, September 14, 1912, to the vife of R. Montgomery, on Molalla Avenue and Hood Street, a daughter. Frank Albright spent last Saturday and Sunday at Mulino, the guest of his brother, Charlie and family, Mrs. S. L. Smith, who is visiting her brother at Montavilla is spending this week at home.

G. W. Gillett and family transacted business in Portland Wednesday. Geo. Gillett and wife spent Tuesday of this week sight-seeing in Portland.

HAZELIA

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lehman and children spent Sunday in Oswego with Mrs. Lehman's mother, Mrs. Shipley.

Miss Nina Hays went to Sherwood

recently to visit friends for a few days, befare returning to Walport. Misses Harriet and Lucile Duncan left Monday for Portland, where they will stay during the school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thomas, of Stafford, are staying this week at the farm of Mrs. Thomas' father, Mr. Steinhilber, while he is at Hot Springs, and while her mother is visiting friends in Portland.

Miss Ethel Baker and Mr. Will Cook spent Sunday afternoon at the John Wanker home. paby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis last Monday. Mrs. S. S. Boutz spent Friday after-noon with Mrs. F. W. Lehman. Winfield and Harold Baker and Mrs. Boutz returned from the hopfields the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nielson enterained friends last Sunday. Miss Lulu Wanker has been ill for the last few days.

Mr. Knowles, the former principle of the Stafford school, and his daughter, Nellie, visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. John Wanker, Mr. and Mrs. Becker and children spent Sunday with relatives in Mon-

Miss Ethel Thompson, of Oswego, visited her cousin, Miss Ethel Baker, last Sunday. Mrs. Robert Brymer, accompanied her husband last Saturday evening in his church services, Church will be held a week from next Saturday at 7:30 p. m., in the Hazelia schoolhouse, for the first time after the annual conference. Sunday School every Sunday morning

tavilla.

WILLAMETTE

Mr. Burke is building an addition o his house. Miss Etta Rogers has returned rom a two months outing on the Hoppicking finished with good weather and the crop of most yards were saved in fairly good condition.

George Batdorf and family have returned from Independence Hop di Beach, have returned and will mo moved into the Downey house back Yards Saturday.

of the shoe factory. Willamette school started Monday with a larger attendance than ever before. Willamette has one of the successful strawberry growers of improvements and leveling the yard. Willamette.

Willamette school houses in the county.

Willamette school houses in the county.

Mr. Sipkins has added two dormer family.

windows and a handsome porch to Mr. Leonard Runyan who bought his residence. Mr. Sipkins is one of the Smith property, has been making

The Best Light at the Lowest Cost

RECTRIC LIGHT is the most suitable for homes, offices, shops and other places needing light. Electricity can be used in any quantity, large or small, thereby furnishing any required amount of light. Furthermore, electric lamps can be located in any place thus affording any desired distribution of light.

No other lamps possess these qualifications, therefore it is not surprising that electric lamps are rapidly replacing all others in modern establishments.

The Portland Railway Light & Power Co.

MAIN STREET in the BEAVER BLDG.

WHY PAY DOUBLE?

TE have a few sets of those 31 piece. gold trimmed Dinner Sets left. They can be had $2.25 per set with a subscription. If you are already a subscriber, we will sell you a set at cost. Come in and look them over; you will be surprised at the quality.

The Morning Enterprise

CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT