

Stories from Out of Town

GLAD TIDINGS

Ed Jackson is busy digging his potato crop. They were planted early enough in the season not to be affected by the potato blight. They are turning out at the rate of near five hundred bushels per acre and most of them are of marketable size.

Late planted potatoes in this vicinity are considerably affected by the blight, but just what will be the ultimate damage cannot be told to a certainty at this time.

Most of the farmers in this neighborhood are now done clover hulling, and although considerable loss was sustained owing to the rain, and repeated handling, still the major portion was saved, and the price being good, all are fairly well satisfied.

F. J. Ridings, our enterprising Marquam merchant, who has catered to the wants of the people for near a quarter of a century, first as clerk, then as proprietor, has sold his store and stock of goods, also a bungalow and lot to a stranger to all, but with whom we will be well pleased if we find him as square in business affairs as F. J. Ridings and his worthy wife. F. J. Ridings has acted as clerk and proprietor in the mercantile line for at least a quarter of a century, assisted by his good wife, who for the past few years ran the millinery department. We will miss their familiar faces behind the counter, but wish them success in their late venture—farming on their 40 acre tract one mile west of Marquam on the Marquam and Mt. Angle road.

A Socialistic speaker will lecture at the school house Tuesday evening.

BARLOW

Again Barlow has the honor of receiving first premium at the county fair. This being five times for first and one year second premium. A number of the residents of this district also received premiums in the general exhibit and several of the children carried off honors from the juvenile department. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly's baby received third premium in the baby show. Uncle Harry feels highly elated over the success of Barlow as he, with his assistants, Mrs. Ormsby, Mrs. Adamson, Miss Hattie Irwin and Clarence Landsverk, worked hard for the honors, as arrangements were made so late that it was thought by many it would be useless to try for a premium, but we have the soil to produce as good, if not the best, in the county, therefore we can make a great showing if we do begin late.

Ardenwald, where she visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hansen, while Mr. and Mrs. Hansen were visiting at Kelso, Wash.

A picnic dinner at the home of Mrs. Albert Pierce was enjoyed on Sunday.

The corn roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Near was a very pretty affair. Perhaps sixty enjoyed the huge bonfire and out of door games. In contests Arthur Soesbe and Mrs. Ostrom secured the prizes. The refreshments were served by Mesdames Near, Bergstreser, Jones and Roberts. The proceeds which were $9, were used for the chapel.

Miss Annie Russell was delightfully pleased when a new piano arrived at her home.

Mrs. S. P. Dow was a Canby visitor on Saturday and on Sunday visited Miss Rachael Spencer near Macksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopson, formerly of Omaha, visited at the Geo. Ostrom home on Sunday and are contemplating purchasing property here, being very favorably impressed with this locality.

Hans Baumgartner, who resides north of here was seriously hurt by being dragged by a colt this week.

The Circle meets with Mrs. Jennie Jones on Wednesday, Oct. 9th. Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held.

Helen Louisa has been the name given to the little daughter which came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roethe last week.

Many of the Lodge folks attended the Clackamas County Fair at Canby this week. Some attending on German Day but perhaps the greater number spent Friday enjoying the exhibits. We noticed that the only exhibits from here were the canned fruit and sewing of Helen Painon and some fine pastel work of Doris Painon. Lack of interest perhaps is the only reason; for we raise some fine vegetables, fruits and as good variety of ducks and chickens as can be found any place in Clackamas County.

Will Jacobson has returned to Elk City after a pleasant visit with his brothers and sister, Mrs. Stover.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Redmond left on Tuesday for an extended visit through the middle west and south.

Mr. Russell has raised some of the largest potatoes at this place, one weighing two pounds and 12 ounces. The potato crop has been an abundant one and I. Shenefield has some fine ones of the New York beauty variety.

after renting his place to a Mr. Spanenberg.

Mr. Holdswartz sold his place last week and is to give almost immediate possession.

Miss Anna Nemic returned to Oregon City to resume her studies this week at the McLoughlin Institute.

Miss Minnie Bockman and Mrs. Gage enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon at Mrs. Fletcher's last Friday. Great, luscious strawberries, as well flavored and large as in the summer, were served for tea and partaken of with infinite enjoyment. Mr. Fletcher said he cut the plants and vines off even with the ground as soon as they were through bearing and they are green and thrifty now as in the spring. He also has enormous pumpkins, a sample of which he will exhibit at the Oswego Grange Fair on the 12th of this month, together with other mammoth productions.

Mrs. Powell had relatives visiting her all last week and Sunday an additional auto load spent the day with them.

Mrs. Julia Gage, from Bandon, Coos county, came with Mr. Holton and family Sunday and spent the day at Mr. Gage's, returning to town in the evening.

Mrs. Miley, of whom loving mention was made in last week's items, was buried here on Thursday followed by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. The last resting place was heaped high with beautiful flowers, placed by loving hands. Among those at the cemetery were many old time friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Tom Buckman, her sister-in-law, both of them widows, were there. They have been gone from this vicinity for a good many years.

It has got to be such a common occurrence that we had almost neglected to say that the youngsters calling themselves Black Hands made another so-called last call for money, this time on Gus Gebhardt, also Simon Peters. On last Thursday evening Johnnie Peters' dog made a great fuss racing out to the gate and barking furiously, so the boy went out to see what excited him so, and sticking in the pickets he found a white envelope but saw no one, although it was bright moonlight. He returned to the house, and found it was a letter signed "Black Hands" threatening the usual blow-up and murder of the family if he didn't deposit $1500 in gold, four posts from the Boomers Ferry sign in the grave yard at 12 o'clock Saturday night. There was no deposit of course on Saturday night.

Friday morning Gus Gebhardt found a duplicate of the two he had got before sticking in his barn, warning him again as before to deposit $1000, two posts from the Boomers Ferry sign in the grave yard at 11 o'clock Saturday night, and also found three sticks of dynamite piled up in his chicken house with fuse attached. They got no deposit in this case either, and Gebhardt says they were very thoughtful to bring him the dynamite as he needed some more to finish blowing out some stumps but he adds they might have stolen it from his own box as he don't know for certain how many sticks he had left. Anyway he thinks he will save them to celebrate with.

Mr. Lucas' dog was poisoned one night last week, also one of Mr. Fredricks' dogs but chicken thieves don't like a dog yelping around, and they keep quite busy. Sam Moses lost a dozen recently.

Mrs. Weddle, who was so severely hurt by a fall about ten days ago, is able to walk about the house some.

plis of the upper grades. Topic for discussion, "Why Do Some Children Dislike to go to School?"

J. L. Ferse made a trip to the headwaters of the Molalla river on Saturday.

The Clackamas school has a total enrollment of 97 pupils.

W. K. Green went to Eugene on business Monday.

Mrs. J. L. Ashton went to Canby Tuesday where she has a class in music.

Mrs. Joe Kaufman is expecting company from the east Friday.

Fred Smith went to Aurora Tuesday.

Misses Mary and Martha Gottwald were Sunday visitors at the home of their parents.

The Ladies Aid will give another one of their rousing sales Saturday night in the Rural Dell school house. Refreshments will be served and everybody that comes is assured of a good time.

RURAL DELL

Now that the falls are over, the farmers are getting busy with their fall work, and as the weather is ideal much will be done the next few weeks.

Fred Sailer returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Somce made a business trip to Canby Tuesday.

THE real producers of red blood are not the rich and heavy meats as one might think, but the everyday vegetables that ought to be plentiful on every home table. Pound for pound, there is more nutriment, more of the blood-making elements in vegetables than any other edible. Proof of this is the extreme good health of good children whose diet includes no meat of any kind.

It is economical and sensible, at this time of the year, to make vegetables the chief article of diet.
